From New Creation To Urban Crisis:

From New Creation to Urban Crisis George D. Younger, 1987 Return to Justice Soong-Chan Rah, Gary VanderPol, 2016-06-21 Reclaiming an Evangelical History of Activism In recent years there has been renewed interest by evangelicals in the topic of biblical social justice Younger evangelicals and millennials in particular have shown increased concern for social issues But this is not a recent development Following World War II a new movement of American evangelicals emerged who gradually increased their efforts on behalf of justice This work explains the important historical context for evangelical reengagement with social justice issues The authors provide an overview of post World War II evangelical social justice and compassion ministries introducing key figures and seminal organizations that propelled the rediscovery of biblical justice They explore historical and theological lessons learned and offer a way forward for contemporary Christians Paul's New Creation Sejong Chun, 2023-01-24 In Paul's New Creation Vision for a New World and Community Sejong Chun presents intertextual readings of Paul's new creation passages from the perspective of the Korean immigrant church in America Chun focuses on Paul's new creation's cosmic dimension and ecclesiastical character and proposes the ekklesia as a tangible embodiment The author suggests that Paul as a middleman accomplishes the collective project of the Jerusalem collection with his Gentile churches to declare independence from the Jerusalem church authority and to demonstrate God's alternative economy against the exploitative system of the Roman Empire Beyond Theological Tourism Susan Thistlethwaite, George F. Cairns, 2003-11-13 Since the early days of liberation theology Northern Hemisphere theological education has used the phrase solidarity with the oppressed to denote the religiously and morally appropriate response to situations of violence and oppression Yet efforts to inculcate solidarity of heart and mind often devolve into a kind of theological tourism wherein professors and students visit oppressed communities without truly participating as subjects in the subjectivity of the marginalized Beyond Theological Tourism shows how one group of theological teacher mentors and students attempt to overcome the limits of visits as tourists of the revolution to exotic locations Starting from the challenge of Robert Evans of the Plowshares Institute a group of Chicago based Christians struggled with new modes of education for prospective ministers The editors and contributors Claude Marie Barbour Clinton E Stockwell Anthony J Gittins C S Sp Eleanor Doidge Yoshiro Ishida Heidi Hadsell Dow Edgerton Kathleen Billman Peggy Desjarlais and Depaul Genska O F M have put together a book of active collaboration insightful debate and self critical analysis Theological tourism they find is counterproductive and may give the wrong lessons An immersion that respects the subjectivity and cultural integrity of the persons among whom middle class trainees work and live can be marvelous experiences for both host communities and their visitors but successful immersion is dauntingly difficult to do Looking Forward with Hope Benjamin Valentin, 2019-11-01 Theological schools are currently facing a perfect storm of jeopardies that threatens their future prospects and even survivability The squall is all the more menacing for free standing seminaries that are not connected to a university and especially for free standing mainline Protestant or mainline denominational seminaries This book brings together a stellar and diverse cast of administrators and professors working within different theological schools to reflect on the present crisis of theological education and on the question of the possible future of mainline Protestant and mainline denominational theological schools in the United States Toward the Twenty-first Century in Christian Mission James M. Phillips, Robert T. Coote, 1993 This unique volume offers a comprehensive survey of the prospects and critical issues for the Christian world mission The essays written by various mission experts cover such topics as the biblical and theological basis of the mission women in mission urban mission dialogues with other faiths the anthropology of popular religions and more Learning to Lead Rev. Willard W. C. Ashley Sr., MDiv, DMin, DH, 2012-10-15 The first comprehensive resource for teaching spiritual leadership development in the twenty first century for all faith traditions America is changing Technology social networking global economics immigration migration and multiculturalism urge communities of faith to expand their vision of spiritual leadership and reflect on how leaders can better serve congregations and communities in the twenty first century In this multifaith cross cultural and comprehensive resource for both clergy and lay persons contributors who are experts in the field explore how to engage spiritual leaders and teach them how to bring healing faith justice and support to communities and congregations They offer tools advice practical methodologies and case studies on how stakeholders congregational leaders ordained religious leaders educators students and community leaders learn how to do theology in context and grow into faith leadership roles Renewal Mark Wild, 2019-03-21 In the decades following World War II a movement of clergy and laity sought to restore liberal Protestantism to the center of American urban life Chastened by their failure to avert war and the Holocaust and troubled by missionaries complicity with colonial regimes they redirected their energies back home Renewal explores the rise and fall of this movement which began as an effort to restore the church s standing but wound up as nothing less than an openhearted crusade to remake our nation s cities These campaigns reached beyond church walls to build or lend a hand to scores of organizations fighting for welfare social justice and community empowerment among the increasingly nonwhite urban working class Church leaders extended their efforts far beyond traditional evangelicalism often dovetailing with many of the contemporaneous social currents coursing through the nation including black freedom movements and the War on Poverty Renewal illuminates the overlooked story of how religious institutions both shaped and were shaped by postwar urban America Transforming Power Robert Linthicum, 2003-09-09 Based on a thorough exploration of Scripture and decades of real world experience Robert Linthicum s model of relational power provides sound practical strategies for changing individuals communities structures and systems God So Loves the City Charles E. Van Engen, Jude Tiersma, 2009-08-01 From the explosive contexts of Nairobi Mexico City Los Angeles and Madras burst fresh insights on the mission of the church for the city Jude Tiersma and Charles Van Engen worked closely with an international team of experienced urban practitioners to explore the most urgent issues facing those who minister in today's cities From each particular urban setting a team member contributed a story from ministry in the city Each story uniquely illustrates a different challenge of urban ministry in the face of injustice marginalization and urban structures This book brings you these stories then retells them in light of Scripture introducing new hope to each one From these stories emerge new ideas about the nature of cities and how to practice ministry in them The new methodology employed by Van Engen and Tiersma's team leads us in the first steps toward a theology of mission for the city God So Loves the City is a must for pastors seminary students missiologists congregation members and all who are concerned about urban ministry Building a People of Power Robert C. Linthicum, 2015-09-15

Jesus never intended the church to become an institution he intended it to be a people of power transforming the world Power is the capacity ability and the willingness to act Most people and systems use power to dominate and control but others have used it relationally to liberate transform and even save Built around a biblical exploration of shalom Building a People of Power explains how local churches can use power to transform their communities and their cities Detailed power strategies are presented enabling churches to build productive relationships to address the primary issues of people they serve and to develop strong leaders faithful organizations and redeemed neighborhoods that live out shalom

Creating the New Right Ethnic in 1970s America Richard Moss, 2017-03-15 This work analyzes the New Ethnicity of the 1970s as a way of understanding America's political turn to the right in that decade An upsurge of vocal ethnic consciousness among second third and fourth generation Southern and Eastern Europeans the New Ethnicity simultaneously challenged and emulated earlier identity movements such as Black Power The movement was more complex than the historical memory of racist reactionary white ethnic leaders suggests The movement began with a significant grassroots effort to gain more social welfare assistance for near poor white ethnic neighborhoods and ease tensions between the working class African Americans and whites who lived in close proximity to one another in urban neighborhoods At the same time a more militant strain of white ethnicity was created by urban leaders who sought conflict with minorities and liberals The reassertion of ethnicity necessarily involved the invention of myths symbols and traditions and this process actually served to retard the progressive strain of New Ethnicity and strengthen the position of reactionary leaders and New Right politicians who hoped to encourage racial discord and dismantle social welfare programs Public intellectuals created a mythical white ethnic who shunned welfare valued the family and provided an antidote to liberal elitism and neighborhood breakdown Corporations and publishers embraced this invented ethnic identity and codified it through consumption Finally politicians appropriated the rhetoric of the New Ethnicity while ignoring its demands The image of hard working self sufficient ethnics who took care of their own neighborhood problems became powerful currency in their effort to create racial division and dismantle New Deal and Great Society protections Religious Seminaries in America (1989) Thomas C. Hunt, James Carper, 2017-12-15

Published in 1989 this bibliography considers religious seminaries that are affiliated with the various denominations of the theological institutions established in the United States by the Protestants in the early 1800s it also considers non denominational and independent settings Divided into two sections the first short section considers the relationship between the civil governments and the seminaries the second organized by denomination into 15 chapters provides an extensive bibliography with annotations The work pulls together a wealth of reference material and identifies salient works whether book article dissertation or essay to provide a much needed resource for those interested in seminary education in the United States whether scholar student policy maker or interested citizen

The Lofts of SoHo Aaron

Shkuda, 2016-04-18 American cities changed forever when beginning in the 1950s artists developers and others looked upon a decaying industrial zone in Lower Manhattan and saw opportunity cheap rents lax regulation and wide open spaces The area that became SoHo was the forerunner of gentrified districts in cities nationwide and introduced the idea that art might drive municipal prosperity Without the example of SoHo no one would have any idea what the term creative class refers to Aaron Shkuda studies the transition of SoHo from industrial space to an artist enclave to an affluent residential area focusing on the legacy of urban renewal in and around SoHo the growth of artist led redevelopment the conflict between residents and property owners and the city's embrace of loft conversions as an urban development strategy. In the process Shkuda comes to fresh conclusions about what happened to bring about SoHo and what it has meant for all of our cities.

Creating Worlds Otherwise Paula Serafini, 2022-07-01 Honorable Mention Best Book in Latin American Visual Culture Studies Latin American Studies Association Visual Culture Studies Section 2023 Extractivism has increasingly become the ground on which activists and scholars in Latin America frame the dynamics of ecological devastation, accumulation of wealth and erosion of rights. These maladies are the direct consequences of long-standing extraction-oriented economies and more recently from the expansion of the extractive frontier and the implementation of new technologies in the extraction of fossil fuels, mining and agriculture. But the fields of sociology, political ecology, anthropology and geography have largely ignored the role of art and cultural practices in studies of extractivism and post-extractivism. The field of art theory on the other hand has offered a number of texts that put forward insightful analyses of artwork addressing extraction, environmental devastation and the climate crisis. However, an art theory perspective that does not engage firsthand and in depth with collective action remains limited and fails to provide an account of the role, processes and politics of art in anti and post-extractivist movements. Creating Worlds Otherwise examines the narratives that subaltern groups generate around extractivism and how they develop, communicate and mobilize these narratives through art and cultural practices. It reports on a six-year project on creative resistance to extractivism in Argentina and builds on long-term engagement working on environmental justice projects and campaigns in Argentina and the UK. It is an innovative contribution to the fields of Latin American studies, political ecology, cultural studies and art theory and addresses pressing questions regarding what post-extractivist worlds might look like as well as how such visions are put into practice.

Urban Change in the Iberian Peninsula Rubén C. Lois-González, Jose A. Rio Fernandes, 2024-07-15 The book addresses the situation of the urban world in Spain and Portugal in the first quarter of the 21st century. Cities and metropolitan areas have become the key to understanding the organization of the territory and the economic system in the Iberian Peninsula. Iberian cities drive financial-based business and they constitute the main centers of commerce and tourism since urban and economic organization are presented as two directly related variables. This reality is defined by the primacy of three main cities: Madrid, Barcelona and Lisbon, followed by six metropolitan areas with around one or two million inhabitants: Porto, Bilbao, Zaragoza, Valencia, Seville and Malaga. As in the large capitals, problems of income inequality and access to housing, mobility and government also affect the remaining regional urban systems. This book examines these urban areas through six major themes which are developed in more than 25 chapters. The themes are urbanization, inequality, finance and housing, markets, consumers and new residents, mobility and governance. Contributions from leading geographers and urban planners from the most important universities of the Iberian Peninsula comprise this overview of metropolitan areas of Spain and Portugal.

Creating Child-Friendly Cities Brendan Gleeson, Neil Sipe, 2006-11-22 First Published in 2006 Leading planning and geography authors present this comprehensive
