This mindset is particularly common in areas of procreation such as abortion and various assisted reproductive technologies. Through a lens that combines Christianity, natural law, and scientific reason, this book discusses how the breakdown of man/woman marriage, biological connection, the destruction and disregard for human life, and the objectification and commodification of women and children manufactures trauma in not only adults but in children. This trauma is evidenced by the stories of adult children who are victims of society's current cultural trends as well as evidenced by the research of various psychologists, sociologists, and other professionals. For too long, adults have been asking children to conform to their ways of living, assuming children will just get over it, and children are now starting to speak out about the harms of their upbringings. It's essential to illuminate their voices as these familial breakdowns have become so normal that we currently can't talk about any of their negative aspects with any degree of common sense.

Teacher Unions in Public Education N. Bascia, 2016-04-29 While much mainstream educational research maintains that teacher unions should be outlawed or their powers greatly reduced, Bascia and her contributors, including many of the leading teacher union researchers working today, challenge this position. Instead, they recognize the important role teacher unions must play in defending public education and in minimizing the damage wrought by ill-thought-out educational policies. By avoiding idealization of these organizations and recognizing their limitations, Teacher Unions in Public Education demonstrates the necessity for union renewal for a successful education system      Moving Beyond Broke Dasha Kennedy, 2025-03-11 In the vein of Get Good with Money and The Black Girl's Guide to Financial Freedom an accessible witty and necessary guide from the beloved creator of The Broke Black Girl that addresses the unique financial issues of Black women and others shut out of traditional finance conversations Dasha Kennedy grew up in a family where finances were not discussed At fifteen she already had bad money habits that would follow her into adulthood At nineteen she realized that the Fortune 500 executives who promote financial literacy did not look or sound anything like her And she knew she couldn't be the only person who felt as lost and overlooked as she did when it came to money management So she started the website The Broke Black Girl and discovered an entire community of people who were desperate for money advice and understanding Now Kennedy provides the ultimate user friendly resource featuring engaging and relatable stories from her own personal finance journey With actionable advice and an engaging voice she helps us take control move past shame and anxiety build family wealth in a single generation and become financially independent forever      The Worshipping Artist Rory Noland, 2007 Noland offers a practical guide to help worship team members spiritually prepare for worship by providing practical advice on key issues church artists face and giving slice of life scenarios group discussion questions applications questions biblical perspective and personal action steps      The Crisis, 2008 The Crisis founded by W E B Du Bois as the official publication of the NAACP is a journal of civil rights history politics and culture and seeks to educate and challenge its readers about issues that continue to plague African Americans and other communities of color For nearly 100 years The Crisis has been the magazine of opinion and thought leaders decision makers peacemakers and justice seekers It has chronicled informed educated entertained and in many instances set the economic political and social agenda for our nation and its multi ethnic citizens      The coming decade United States.
