From The City Inside The Red River A Cultural Memoir Of Mid Century Vietnam:

From the City Inside the Red River Đinh Hoà Nguyễn, 1999 Born on January 17 1924 Nguyen Dinh Hoa grew up in Hanoi never imagining the war that would ultimately divide his country and throw the region into chaos As he grew into manhood he witnessed Vietnam gain its independence in 1945 and like many men of his age he was swept up with the revolutionary mood that engulfed the entire country Eager to do his part for the newly emerging Vietnam he applied for and received a scholarship to Union College in Schenectady New York This resulted in an English degree and a teaching position at the University of Saigon Since childhood the author has been keenly observant of everyday life particularly the interactions between himself his family and their community His precise account of midcentury Vietnam provides a detailed picture of a beautiful country with a rich cultural heritage and serves as a poignant reminder of the devastating effects of the war in Vietnam on its people

Vietnam Past and Present Andrew Forbes, David Henley, 2012-12-26 There can be few people in the world that do not know the name location and recent history of Vietnam Yet beyond the period of US involvement in what Americans call the Vietnam War how much is really known Almost no Vietnamese bear a grudge against the USA but this is less true for China Vietnam's close neighbor mentor and rival for more than two thousand years For example Vietnamese like to name their streets after what they consider to have been acts of foreign aggression and in Hanoi no fewer than 119 streets are named after acts of Chinese and French aggression By contrast just two are named for acts of American aggression Based on an intimate personal knowledge of Vietnam extending over two decades this book explores Hanoi and the North It leads the reader not just across contemporary Tonkin but also through its long history linking the present day with the distant past 62 000 words 81 contemporary images 38 historical images 4 maps Glossary Bibliography Historical Dictionary of the War in Vietnam Ronald B. Frankum Jr., 2011-06-10 For Southeast Asia the Vietnam War altered forever the history topography people economy and politics of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam DRV the Republic of Vietnam RVN Cambodia and Laos That the war was controversial is an understatement as is the notion that the war can be understood from any one perspective One way of understanding the Vietnam War is by marking its time with turning points both major and minor that involved events or decisions that helped to influence its course in the years to follow By examining a few of these turning points an organizational framework takes shape that makes understanding the war more possible Historical Dictionary of the War in Vietnam emphasizes the international nature of the war as well as provide a greater understanding of the long scope of the conflict The major events associated with the war will serve as the foundation of the book while additional entries will explore the military diplomatic political social and cultural events that made the war unique While military subjects will be fully explored there will be greater attention to other aspects of the war All of this is done through a chronology an introductory essay an extensive bibliography and over 600 cross referenced dictionary entries This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Vietnam War Elbridge

Durbrow's War in Vietnam Ronald Bruce Frankum, Jr., 2019-08-23 Elbridge Durbrow served as the third United States ambassador to the Republic of Vietnam from 1957 to 1961 His relationships with Vietnamese president Ngo Dinh Diem and members of the Military Assistance Advisory Group in Saigon helped to shape his tenure in office which ultimately concluded with his decision to end his support for the Vietnamese leader as well as turn away from the American military representatives who had earned Ngo Dinh Diem's trust This triangular relationship was mired in clashes of ego and personality that often interfered with the American decision making process Durbrow and his embassy staff rather than work with the Vietnamese leadership chose to focus on the negative and reported to Washington only those items that reinforced this perspective They created an atmosphere of distrust and anxiety that neither the Americans nor Vietnamese could overcome in the 1960s and helped to create the conditions for greater United States involvement in Southeast Asia

Appetites and Aspirations in Vietnam Erica J. Peters, 2012 Appetites and Aspirations in Vietnam explores how people in Vietnam used food and drink to strengthen their social position during the long nineteenth century from the 1790s to the 1920s

On Our Own Strength Martina Thucnhi Nguyen, 2020-12-31 On Our Own Strength examines the political activities of the most influential intellectual movement in interwar French occupied Vietnam The far reaching work of the Self Reliant Literary Group T L c V n o n included applied design urban reform fashion literature journalism and cartoons its work was deeply political in both form and intent The Group drew upon a wide range of global intellectual currents and practices to build an enlightened public that would one day serve as the basis of a modern Vietnamese nation Its nationalist vision sought a nonviolent middle path between colonialism and anticolonial struggle advocating a process of gradual decolonization that ultimately ended in Vietnamese autonomy This form of cosmopolitan nationalism proved tremendously popular among ordinary Vietnamese and necessarily shaped local politics influencing the political agenda of even rival groups such as the newly revived Indochinese Communist Party ICP On Our Own Strength shows how the Group's vision framed the ways ICP positioned itself and sought popular support in the years leading up to the August Revolution and beyond In later years the party attempted to erase the Group's early influence on national politics banning their writings and casting them as little more than bourgeois literary figures In recovering the Group's unique response to the world around them this book bridges the areas of political cultural and intellectual history drawing them together into a rich narrative of Vietnamese nation building from the bottom up within a larger global context On Our Own Strength offers a dynamic model for the field of Vietnamese studies as it continues to move beyond Cold War political narratives of its most tumultuous period This book engages broadly with global history European history and imperial studies to explore colonialism's hybrid cultural and political forms Martina Thucnhi Nguyen examines how the Self Reliant Literary Group weighed in on everything from women's fashion and public housing to the major political ideologies of their era in a unique style that mixed French inflected ideas with Vietnamese norms and forms As a deep case study of important figures on the Vietnamese moderate left On Our Own

Vietnam's Year of the Rat Ronald Bruce Frankum, Jr.,2014-04-10 Vietnam s Year of the Rat explores the lunar New Year 1960 and the dynamic relationship between two competing groups vying for control in the Republic of Vietnam One group led by United States Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow worked toward directing Vietnam towards an American style democracy that focused on forcing reforms within the Saigon government The other group headed by Republic of Vietnam President Ngo inh Di m attempted to navigate the demands of Durbrow and the State Department and to confront internal opposition and an emerging external threat while trying to further the goals of the Republic The result was a series of failed opportunities by both sides to resolve the differences of the two complementary if conflicting strategies Vietnam s Year of the Rat offers an alternative to the now standard historiography for this period of the study in the Vietnam War by providing a Vietnamese viewpoint into the story of that long and tragic war Garrison Tales from

Tonquin James O'Neill,2006-10-01 The thought of enlisting in the French Foreign Legion held a tantalizing allure for young nineteenth century American boys in search of adventure Apart from youthful fantasies few Americans seriously pursued joining the legion These surprising and extraordinary short stories written by one young man who did take us to that time and place Born in Bridgeport Connecticut James O Neill enlisted in the legion in 1887 at the age of twenty seven In 1890 deployed to Tonquin in French Indochina more familiar today as Tonkin Vietnam O Neill faced tropical heat infectious disease and sudden death Like his contemporary Stephen Crane O Neill s ability to tell an engaging story and his keen sense for telling details provide a unique record of his time in this exotic world In these thirteen tales O Neill shows with surprising subtlety that France s efforts to conquer and govern Indochina were foolhardy Although the only American in his stories is the narrator it is clear that the tales are aimed at readers in the United States and are intended to caution against the construction of empires abroad Far from polemical tirades these are absorbing unadorned stories remarkably contemporary in both style and substance Charles Royster provides a short biography of O'Neill who seems to have vanished into obscurity a few years after these stories were first published in 1895 Royster has also unearthed and included two essays O'Neill published in magazines of the time one a description of a Buddhist temple in Hanoi and the other an appreciation of the Hungarian novelist Maurus J. J. Whether read for historical value literary merit or political insights Garrison Tales from Tonquin is a true discovery

The Archaeologist In-Between Anna Källén, Johan Hegardt, 2021-09-30 Olov Janse was an archaeologist with a remarkable life From his birth in Sweden 1892 to his death in the United States 1985 he travelled several times across the world and was present in some of the most important episodes of 20th century world history His works and networks connected museums and political institutions in Sweden France Vietnam and the United States from the Swedish History Museum the Museum of Far Eastern Antiquities the French Musée d'antiquités nationales the Cernuschi museum and the French research institute EFEO in Hanoi to UNESCO the Harvard Peabody Museum the Smithsonian Institution and the U.S. Department of State He left behind artefacts and documents in museum collections and archives across the world But his name is largely unknown and his most important contributions the connection of people and ideas between continents and contexts have remained invisible in historical accounts of all these institutions He was in every sense an archaeologist in between This book follows in the footsteps of Olov Janse and his wife Renée as they move between continents and contexts connecting key actors and institutions in social and professional networks across the world It tells the formidable story of an archaeologist navigating through world politics from a late 19th century industrial town in Sweden to early 20th century Parisian museums to French Indochina and the Philippines in the 1930s to the formation of UNESCO in 1946 and ending with public diplomacy for the U.S. Department of State at the verge of the Vietnam War
