Contemplating Dis/Ability in Schools and Society David J. Connor, 2018-07-15 This book chronicles the professional life of a career long inclusive educator in New York City through eight different stages in special and general education Developing a new approach to research as part of qualitative methodology David J Connor merges the academic genre of autoethnography with memoir to create a narrative that engages the reader through stories of personal experiences within the professional world that politicized him as an educator After each chapter s narrative a systematic analytic commentary follows that focuses on teaching and learning in schools and universities the influence of educational laws specific models of disability and how influence educators and educational researchers and educational structures and systems including their impact on social political and cultural experiences of people with disabilities This autoethnographic memoir documents over three decades the relationship between special and general education the growth of the inclusion movement and the challenge of special education as a discrete academic field As part of a national group of critical special educators Connor describes the growth of counter theory through the inception and subsequent growth of DSE as a viable academic field and the importance of rethinking human differences in new ways Instructor, 2005 A Land We Can Share Paula Kluth, Kelly Chandler-Olcott, 2008 The how and why of teaching literacy skills to children with autism Talking About Literacy Jane Mace, 2003-08-29 Talking about Literacy re examines dominant notions of what literacy is and challenges the problem solution reflex to the issue the problem is illiteracy the solution is more literacy Literacy has enormous emotional and political associations and the job of literacy educator often concerns changing attitudes and challenging prejudices whether in the form of publicity strategies counselling new students or in curriculum design In short adult literacy education means not only teaching courses like fresh start basic skills study skills communication skills language support and return to study but also designing strategies to encourage people to see that these courses may meet their own interests and educating them and others to rethink their own negative attitudes to illiteracy The book looks in detail in at five principles put forward by Jane Mace as central to the education of people who often can read but wish they could read better who technically can write but have a desire to do so with more expression and coherence These principles focus on five themes context inquiry authorship equality and community Since it is all too easy for literacy education involving adults who do not have formal qualifications to stop short of teaching techniques for correct writing these principles mean taking seriously a view that adult students are writers as well as readers that they have an entitlement to be read as well as to read others Resources in Education, 2001-10 Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs instructors and other creative writing educators Teaching Cultural Dexterity in Creative Writing offers a formula for important changes in creative writing instruction especially in literary creative nonfiction probing how instruction might become more inclusive and accessible for minoritized marginalized student authors The book chapters use antiracist trauma informed and anticolonial frameworks toward exploring the 21st century professional theoretical and institutional concerns surrounding creative writing practices in North American higher education As a result the book explores ways creative writing pedagogies and theories might be adapted for racially and linguistically marginalized by English student authors who often inhabit minoritized positions within North American colleges and universities Applying as a frame the notion of cultural dexterity as it is taught to medical professionals to allow them to engage effectively with patients from all backgrounds ethnics groups and with all sensitivities Teaching Cultural Dexterity in Creative Writing examines why and how creative writing instruction needs to be urgently renegotiated In this essential text for all creative writing instructors McCray provides all the tools necessary to take positive action with discussions of potential readings writing prompts and sample course materials      Lessons Using Learning Bags for Writing, Grades 1-2 Diane Nees, 2006-03-28 Store writing materials for unique learning activities inside attractive gift bags and watch students dig into them with gusto      Fearless

Speech in Indonesian Women's Writing Jafar Suryomenggolo, 2021-10-01 By offering perspectives from Indonesian female workers this book discusses the contemporary progress of working class feminism from the Global South It presents a critical reading of the socio political conditions that allow female workers to narrate their lives and work as precariat labor toiling under the forces of globalization Its analysis centers on their writings which appear in the form of legal documents personal accounts essays and short stories Thus the book shows how these women change their situation by challenging the political order and demanding gender justice with their fearless speech      Reclaiming the Curriculum Jackie Holderness, Bill Laar, 2018-06-06 Bill Laar and Jackie Holderness Reclaiming the Curriculum examines the nature of a broad ranging content rich primary school curriculum and presents case studies that exemplify how it can be effectively delivered Many schools believe that the value of their work is undermined by a test driven agenda that limits the breadth of the education they provide and who can blame them In Reclaiming the Curriculum Bill and Jackie inspire teachers to escape such narrow confines by unearthing a rich seam of case study examples from schools who are broadening their provision with specialist content that transcends the core curriculum taking pupils into the realms of exploration and enquiry while also providing for higher attainment in the core subjects Featuring a variety of exciting initiatives ranging from the development of an IT enabled collaborative learning space to the artful application of storytelling across the curriculum this book will embolden primary schools to identify and enhance their own creative practice and more effectively prepare pupils for the tests of life not a life of tests The 18 case studies written by a diverse line up of contributors including school leaders teachers and specialist coaches are sourced from a mixture of different settings and offer detailed descriptions of the initiatives unique backgrounds their genesis and inspiration their underpinning aims and objectives and the ways in which they were resourced realised and eventually evaluated At the beginning of each chapter Bill and Jackie briefly summarise the educational value of each example of curriculum development the significance of specific aspects and the ways in which they are likely to help maintain full and relevant learning Each case study then presents the contributors first hand perspectives as they describe in detail the structure that underpins the provision including the number of staff involved and the time and resources allocated share interesting insights into the level of pupil involvement and where relevant the extent of parental and community participation paint a vivid picture of how the initiatives have been made compatible with their school's wider educational programme and provide practical guidance useful links and relevant resources to aid readers own pursuit of curriculum development Suitable for primary school teachers and leaders
