From The Sierras To The Pampas:

The Desertmakers Javier Uriarte, 2019-10-29 This book studies how the rhetoric of travel introduces different conceptualizations of space and time in scenarios of war during the last decades of the 19th century in Argentina Brazil Paraguay and Uruguay By examining accounts of war and travel in the context of the consolidation of state apparatuses in these countries Uriarte underlines the essential role that war in connection to empire and capital has played in the Latin American process of modernization and state formation In this book the analysis of British and Latin American travel narratives proves particularly productive in reading the ways in which national spaces are reconfigured reimagined and reappropriated by the state apparatus War turns out to be a central instrument not just for making possible this logic of appropriation but also for bringing temporal notions such as modernization and progress to spaces that were described albeit problematically as being outside of history The book argues that wars waged against deserts as Patagonia the sert o Paraguay and the Uruguayan countryside were described and imagined were in fact means of generating empty spaces real voids that were the condition for new foundations The study of travel writing is an essential tool for understanding the transformations of space brought by war and for analyzing in detail the forms and connotations of movement in connection to violence Uriarte pays particular attention to the effects that witnessing war had on the traveler s identity and on the relation that is established with the oikos or point of departure of their own voyage Written at the intersection of literary analysis critical geography political science and history this book will be of interest to those studying Latin American literature Travel Writing and neocolonialism and Empire writing House documents ,1885 The Archaeology of Patagonia and the Pampas Gustavo G. Politis, Luis A. Borrero, 2024-02-29 This book explores the archaeology and ethnography of the indigenous people who inhabited Argentina s pampas and the Patagonia region Monitoring Biodiversity Alfonso Alonso, Francisco Dallmeier, Grace P. Servat, 2014-01-01 The book compiles case studies regarding the biodiversity research and monitoring program of Andean species and habitats carefully chosen as indicators to assess the short and long term effects of a linear disturbance the PERU LNG pipeline Set in a scientifically unexplored region of the Andes Monitoring Biodiversity clearly articulates the Smithsonian led conceptual framework for the implementation in the field by scientists It addresses scientific and conservation questions addressed by the research protocols the experimental design and data gathering Moreover the book covers a gap on how to integrate biodiversity research monitoring and conservation into sustainable development projects of national and international interest The text is presented in both English and Spanish
