Gaia Connections Alan S. Miller, 2003 Gaia Connections addresses several arenas of concern as humankind faces an escalating ecological and moral crisis in this new millennium Beginning with an overview of the history of philosophy and the importance of traditional thinking on modern day ethical reflection the book then looks at the development of theories of justice the problems of equity in global human relations the inability of existing economic systems to resolve our human and environmental dilemmas the unnatural connections now obtaining between genuine human need and the technological drift of science the new genetics and reproductive technologies and the nature of modern war The study concludes with some historical perspectives on American environmental history and the urgent need for change in our ecoethical social and value systems The principal focal areas of the original edition are continued the actual state of the global environment today the imperative for the development of sustainable economic and resource systems the movement within much of science toward an almost universal biological determinism and the need for a reaffirmation of an ethical value system which places the needs of people before the needs of property and profits The revised edition not only updates these data and the concerns of the original book but also visits a number of new issues the movement for environmental justice the connections between global poverty and the now almost universal allegiance to a new world market and free trade system the progress and the dilemmas of molecular biology and genetic engineering and the growing disarray within the global systems of political economy The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Ecology Roger S. Gottlieb, 2006-11-09 Ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings The proposed handbook will serve as the definitive overview of these exciting new developments Divided into three main sections the books essays will reflect the three dominant dimensions of the field Part I will explore Text book for Environmental science and Ecology Dr. Shaikh Ahmad, 2019-02-06 This book is for anyone with an interest in Environmental Science who wants to learn more outside of a formal classroom setting It can also be used by home schooled students tutored students and those people wishing to change careers The material is presented in an easy to follow way World

Christianity and Ecological Theologies Raimundo C. Barreto, Graham McGeoch, Wanderley Pereira da Rosa, 2024-10-22 World Christianity and Ecological Theologies invites scholars in religious studies and theology from different continents and contexts to a North South dialogue on environmental ethics political ecology and ecofeminism Throughout the global pandemic the connection between environmental rapacity religion and political interests has once again called scholarly attention to the important conversation on public religion and global environment related issues Acknowledging a deficit among scholars of World Christianity in addressing environmental concerns and the field's limited language for framing those concerns this book aims to bring the fields of study of World Christianity religion and ecology into a sustained conversation with the goal of expanding the theoretical horizons of these fields World Christianity and Ecological Theologies reiterates that all Christian theologies are contextual as they shape and are shaped by specific historical and cultural circumstances It aims at showcasing the ways in which the intersection of religion and ecology is approached by scholars in religious studies and theology in the Global South or by those in conversation with them in the Global North pointing to what can be generated if these bodies of scholarship are engaged as dialogue partners to investigate new patterns of religious environmentalism

Ecology, Engineering, and Management Michel van Eeten, Emery Roe, 2002 This book presents an overview and introduction to adaptive ecosystem management for an audience of environmental policymakers scientists engineers planners and administrators Adaptive management is the process of implementing policy decisions through scientifically driven management experiments These experiments test predictions with policy implications and the results are then used to improve or optimize the policy outcomes Van Eeten and Roe outline the principles and procedures recommended for adaptive ecosystem management and then present an extensive case study and demonstration of the approach through examination of the CALFED Program CALFED covering the San Francisco Bay and Sacramento River Delta is the largest integrative program for ecosystem restoration and management in the US and is an ideal testing ground for case by case resource management across a heterogeneous landscape where population resources and the environment are in conflict

Becoming Ecological James G.

Kelly,2006-02-02 Community psychology emphasizes an ecological approach to mental health by focusing on the individual in the environment and the influences that shape and change behavior Becoming Ecological brings together the work of James G Kelly one of the founders of community psychology and among the field's national leaders The volume unites thirteen of Kelly's publications from 1968 to 2002 as well as four new essays on current issues in the field the theory research practice and education of community psychologists Kelly introduces the work by offering connections between his personal experiences and the topics he chose to focus on throughout his long career He begins each of the thirteen essays with commentary that sets the article in its original context so that the reader has a historical perspective on why certain ideas were salient at a particular time and how they are still timely today Kelly concludes with a summing up section integrating the previously published articles with the four new essays Throughout he presents examples of how to plan and carry out research and practice in the community The principles underlying the examples both enhance the relevance of the research and practice and increase the potential of community residents to use the findings for their own purposes A compendium of classic statements of community psychology's philosophical and historical underpinnings Becoming Ecological is a must read for scholars and practitioners of community psychology and for those in the fields of public health social work community development education and applied anthropology

Naturalizing Heidegger David E. Storey,2015-02-10 In Naturalizing Heidegger David E Storey proposes a new interpretation of Heidegger's importance for environmental philosophy finding in the development of his thought from the early 1920s to his later work in the 1940s the groundwork for a naturalistic ontology of life Primarily drawing on Heidegger's engagement with Nietzsche but also on his readings of Aristotle and the biologist Jakob von Uexküll Storey focuses on his critique of the nihilism at the heart of modernity and his conception of the intentionality of organisms and their relation to their environments From these ideas a vision of nature emerges that recognizes the intrinsic value of all living things and their kinship with one another and which anticipates later approaches in the philosophy of nature such as Hans Jonas's phenomenology of life and Evan Thompson's contemporary attempt to naturalize phenomenology

Earthcare Carolyn Merchant,2014-02-04 Written by one of the leading thinkers in environmentalism Earthcare brings together Merchant's existing work on the topic of women and the environment as well as updated and new essays Earthcare looks at age old historical associations of women with nature beginning with Eve and continuing through to environmental activists of today women's commitment to environmental conservation and the problematic assumptions of women as caregivers and men as dominating nature
