generation of American and British activists who transformed humanitarianism as they adjusted to being foreigners American independence put an end to their common imperial humanitarianism but not their friendships their far reaching visions or their belief that philanthropy was a tool of statecraft In the postwar years these philanthropists led by doctor activists collaborated on the anti drowning cause spread new medical charities combatted the slave trade reformed penal practices and experimented with relieving needy strangers The nature of their cooperation however had changed No longer members of the same polity they adopted a universal approach to their benevolence working together for the good of humanity rather than empire Making the care of suffering strangers routine these British and American activists laid the groundwork for later generations global undertakings From Empire to Humanity offers new perspectives on the history of philanthropy as well as the Atlantic world and colonial and postcolonial history
