Somerset Maugham,2024-02-03 After one has left a country it is interesting to collect together the emotions it has given in an effort to define its particular character And with Andalusia the attempt is especially fascinating for it is a land of contrasts in which work upon one another diversely a hundred influences In London now as I write the rain of an English April pours down the sky is leaden and cold the houses in front of me are almost terrible in their monotonous greyness the slate roofs are shining with the wet Now and again people pass a woman of the slums in a dirty apron her head wrapped in a grey shawl two girls in waterproofs trim and alert notwithstanding the inclement weather one with a music case under her arm A train arrives at an underground station and a score of city folk cross my window sheltered behind their umbrellas and two or three groups of workmen silently smoking short pipes they walk with a dull heavy tramp with the gait of strong men who are very tired Still the rain pours down unceasing

Driving Over Lemons Chris Stewart, 1999 Meet Chris Stewart the eternal optimist At age 17 Chris retired as the drummer of Genesis and launched a career as a sheep shearer and travel writer He has no regrets about this Had he become a big time rock star he might never have moved with his wife Ana to a remote mountain farm in Andalucia Nor forged the friendship of a lifetime with his resourceful peasant neighbour Domingo not watched his baby daughter Chlo grow and thrive there nor written this book Fate does sometimes seem to know what it s up to Driving Over Lemons is that rare thing a funny insightful book that charms you from the first page to the last and one that makes running a peasant farm in Spain seem like a distinctly gd move Chris transports us to Las Alpujarras an oddball region south of Granada and into a series of misadventures with an engaging mix of peasant farmers and shepherds New Age travellers and ex pats The hero of the piece however is the farm that he and Ana bought El Valero a patch of mountain studded with olive almond and lemon groves sited on the wrong side of a river with no access road water supply or electricity Could life offer much better than that
