Gerbaudo, 2012-10-05 What should we make of the culture of the protest movements of the 21st century From the Arab Spring to the indignados protests in Spain and the Occupy movement Paolo Gerbaudo examines the relationship between the rise of social media and the emergence of new forms of protest Gerbaudo argues that activists use of Twitter and Facebook does not fit with the image of a cyberspace detached from physical reality Instead social media is used as part of a project of re appropriation of public space which involves the assembling of different groups around occupied places such as Cairo's Tahrir Square or New York's Zuccotti Park An exciting and invigorating journey through the new politics of dissent Tweets and the Streets points both to the creative possibilities and to the risks of political evanescence which new media brings to the contemporary protest experience      Media Worlds in the Postjournalism Era David Altheide, 2019-01-08 The concept of media logic a theoretical framework for explaining the relationship between mass media and culture was first introduced in Altheide and Snow's influential work Media Logic In Media Worlds in the Postjournalism Era the authors expand their analysis of how organizational considerations promote a distinctive media logic which in turn is conducive to a media culture They trace the ethnography of that media culture including the knowledge techniques and assumptions that encourage media professionals to acquire particular cognitive and evaluative criteria and thereby present events primarily for the media's own ends
