Transgressive Truths and Flattering Lies Markus Schmitz, 2020-04-02 This book explores the formative correlations and inventive transmissions of Anglophone Arab representations ranging from early 20th century Mahjar writings to contemporary transnational Palestinian resistance art Tracing multiple beginnings and seminal intertexts the comparative study of dissonant truth making presents critical readings in which the notion of cross cultural translation gets displaced and strategic unreliability representational opacity or matters of act advance to essential qualities of the discussed works aesthetic devices and ethical concerns Questioning conventional interpretive approaches Markus Schmitz shows what

Anglophone Arab studies are and what they can become from a radically decentered relational point of view Among the writers and artists discussed are such diverse figures as Rabi Alameddine William Blatty Kahlil Gibran Ihab Hassan Jabra Ibrahim Jabra Emily Jacir Walid Raad Ameen Rihani Edward Said Larissa Sansour and Raja Shehadeh Writing the Nation Cynthia Vanden Driesen, 2009 The time for new approaches to White's work is overdue Central to the present study are Edward Said's ideas about the role of the intellectual and the writer of speaking truth to power and also the importance of tracing the affiliations of a text and its embeddedness in the world This approach is not incompatible with Jung's theory of the great artist and his capacity to answer the deep seated psychic needs of his people White's work has contributed in many different ways to the writing of the nation The spiritual needs of a young nation such as Australia must also comprehend its continual urge towards self definition Explored here is one important aspect of that challenge white Australia's dealings with the indigenous people of the land tracing the significance of the Aboriginal presence in three texts selected from the oeuvre of Patrick White Voss 1957 Riders in the Chariot 1961 and A Fringe of Leaves 1976 Each of these texts interrogates European culture's denigration of the non European Other as embedded in the discourse of orientalism One central merit of White's commanding perspective is the constant close attention he pays to European hubris and to the paramount autonomy of indigenous culture There is evidence even of a project which can be articulated as a search for the possibility of white indigeneity the potential for the white settler's belonging within the land as does the indigene Edward Said Adel Iskandar, Adel Iskander, Hakem Rustom, 2010 This indispensable volume a comprehensive and wide ranging resource on Edward Said's life and work spans his broad legacy both within and beyond the academy The book brings together contributions from 31 luminaries to engage Said's provocative ideas The Postcolonial Gramsci Neelam Francesca Rashmi Srivastava, Baidik Bhattacharya, 2012 The importance of Antonio Gramsci's work for postcolonial studies can hardly be exaggerated and in this volume contributors situate Gramsci's work in the vast and complex oeuvre of postcolonial studies Specifically this book endeavors to reassess the impact on postcolonial studies of the central role assigned by Gramsci to culture and literature in the formation of a truly revolutionary idea of the nation a notion that has profoundly shaped the thinking of both Frantz Fanon and Edward Said Gramsci as Iain Chambers has argued has been instrumental in helping scholars rethink their understanding of historical political and cultural struggle by substituting the relationship between tradition and modernity with that of subaltern versus hegemonic parts of the world Combining theoretical reflections and re interpretations of Gramsci the scholars in this collection present comparative geo cultural perspectives on the meaning of the subaltern passive revolution hegemony and the concept of national popular culture in order to chart out a political map of the postcolonial through the central focus on Gramsci Edward Said's Rhetoric of the Secular Mathieu E. Courville, 2011-10-20 Edward Said's Rhetoric of the Secular provides an important new reading of Edward W Said's work emphasizing not only the distinction but also the fuzzy borders between representations of the religious and the secular found within and throughout his oeuvre and at the core of some of his most customary rhetorical strategies Mathieu Courville begins by examining Said's own reflections on his life before moving on to key debates about Said's work within Religious Studies and Middle Eastern Studies and his relationship to French critical theorists Through close attention to Said's use of the literal and the figurative when dealing with religious national and cultural matters Courville discerns a pattern that illuminates what Said means by secular Said's work shows that the secular is not the utter opposite of religion in the modern globalized world but may exist in a productive tension with it

East West Mimesis Kader Konuk, 2010-09-21 East West Mimesis follows the plight of German Jewish humanists who escaped Nazi persecution by seeking exile in a Muslim dominated society Kader Konuk asks why philologists like Erich Auerbach found humanism at home in Istanbul at the very moment it was banished from Europe She challenges the notion of exile as synonymous with intellectual isolation and shows the reciprocal effects of German migration on Turkey's humanist reform movement By making literary critical concepts productive for our understanding of Turkish cultural history the book provides a new approach to the study of East West relations Central to the book is Erich Auerbach's Mimesis The Representation of Reality in Western Literature written in Istanbul after he fled Germany in 1936 Konuk draws on some of Auerbach's key concepts figura as a way of conceptualizing history and mimesis as a means of representing reality to show how Istanbul shaped Mimesis and to understand Turkey's humanist reform movement as a type of cultural mimesis
