The editorials of Henry Watterson Henry Watterson, Arthur Krock, 1923 The Editorials of Henry Watterson Arthur Krock, 1926 When the Courier Journal began its life the South was in the grasp of Northern Troops and Carpetbaggers Mr Watterson wanted to bring the Southern people to a true appreciation of the greatness and benevolence of Abraham Lincoln and an understanding of the miseries wrought upon the South by his murder He also in his writings tried to convince the Government at Washington that the South should be released from military rule Selected Articles from Various

Periodicals by and about Henry Watterson Henry Watterson, 1888 Partisans of the Southern Press Carl R. Osthaus, 2021-12-14 Carl R Osthaus examines the southern contribution to American Press history from Thomas Ritchie's mastery of sectional politics and the New Orleans Picayune's popular voice and use of local color to the emergence of progressive New South editors Henry Watterson Francis Dawson and Henry Grady who imitated as far as possible the New Journalism of the 1880s Unlike black and reform editors who spoke for minorities and the poor the South's mainstream editors of the nineteenth century advanced the interests of the elite and helped create the myth of southern unity The southern press diverged from national standards in the years of sectionalism Civil War and Reconstruction Addicted to editorial diatribes rather than to news gathering these southern editors of the middle period were violent partisan and vindictive They exemplified and defended freedom of the press but the South's press was free only because southern society was closed This work broadens our understanding of journalism of the South while making a valuable contribution to southern history Political Editorial 1916-1988 Heinz-D. Fischer, 2012-02-14 The School of Journalism at Columbia University has awarded the Pulitzer Prize since 1917 Nowadays there are prizes in 21 categories from the fields of journalism literature and music The Pulitzer Prize Archive presents the history of this award from its beginnings to the present In parts A to E the awarding of the prize in each category is documented commented and arranged chronologically Part F covers the history of the prize biographically and bibliographically Part G provides the background to the decisions Henry

Students Of Newspaper Desk Work Grant Milnor Hyde, 2021-01-08 Much has happened in the newspaper profession and in the schools of journalism since this book was first published ten years ago The newspapers have covered a World War and war periods have always brought the greatest changes in American newspapers have wrestled with doubled costs of production reduced staffs much merging curtailed income and are now deep in the perplexities of reconstruction Meanwhile schools and courses in journalism have greatly increased in number enrolment and branches of instruction When the book was presented in 1915 it was the first textbook entirely devoted to the problems and technique of newspaper desk work It has therefore been widely used in classes in copyreading headline writing and make up as well as in newspaper offices Its contents have been put to a severe test and some have been found wanting The author himself in using it year after year in class filled many page margins with suggestions for improvement Hence in preparation for its tenth anniversary it is well that the book should receive a thorough overhauling to bring it up to date to put in some things omitted before to make it more usable and teachable Its general structure has not been changed Most of the alterations are in the chapters on copyreading headline writing make up and type but many additions have been made in other chapters Class exercises have now been added to each chapter to present in brief much of the technique of teaching as it has developed in the larger schools They are intended to be suggestive not only to the teacher but to independent students and young newspaper workers A bibliography has been added to suggest further reading In the schools of journalism the methods of teaching copyreading have developed during the period since first publication probably more than any other branch and have been somewhat standardized
