Resilience in Education Marold Wosnitza, Francisco Peixoto, Susan Beltman, Caroline F. Mansfield, 2018-06-22 This volume focuses on resilience in educational contexts which has emerged as an important field of research with recent investigation into resilience of school students teachers and post secondary students and staff The book integrates theoretically diverse viewpoints and research advancing relevant theory It furthermore presents interventions which aim enhancing resilience in the educational context The interplay between more basic research and actual practice in the classroom university or workplace enriches relevant theory and research Each chapter includes an explanation of how resilience is conceptualized in the research and the methods used to examine resilience The chapters also provide a description of the context in which the research was conducted and how particular aspects of context influence the resilience process Innovative approaches to exploring resilience are highlighted as well as directions for future research

Veteran Teacher Resilience Lee Brantley Shields, Carol A. Mullen, 2020-07-30 This book explores why veteran teachers choose to remain in the classroom making teaching their life s career The authors felt compelled to interview veteran teachers to learn about their experiences how they make meaning of their classrooms and schools and in particular what can be known about the adversities they face and their resilience Factors individual and contextual are uncovered that influence veteran teacher s resiliency and adaptation from veteran teachers perspectives and the literature Induction programs professional development and mentoring are also examined for their importance to the interviews and education Features of this book include Focuses on veteran teacher resilience and why veteran teachers choose to remain in the classroom and teaching profession Uses an interview method involving veteran teachers that illuminates issues of resiliency and retention from their perspective Highlights 15 narrative accounts of veteran teachers tailored to their perceptions experiences and strategies for navigating barriers and overcoming challenge Combines conceptual frameworks research results interventions and strategies Connects implications of the study and suggestions for future research to practice and policy This book is for researchers interested in teacher resilience particularly veteran teacher resilience and the study and development of it as well as practitioners drawn to the same topic with applicability to their fields Anyone interested in resilience particularly within demanding professional contexts and stressful situations should find value The focus on teacher resilience is original and it is an important aspect of why teachers might choose to stay in the profession Teacher resilience is understudied and should provide useful knowledge to policymakers and education leaders on how to improve working conditions and increase efficacy So much ink is spilled extolling why teachers exit the profession there is a dearth of research on why they stay which in my opinion is even more important than why they leave This book makes an important contribution to the literature and will hopefully inform policy making and inspire others to conduct research on the subject Christopher H Tienken Associate Professor Dept of Education

Leadership Management and Policy Seton Hall University South Orange NJ USA The topic is original It seems there is much literature on new teachers and why they leave but little on veteran teachers and why they stay The topic and the reporting of the findings with suggestions for practices to be implemented in university programs as well as in K 12 schools is very useful The format this book follows is actually a strong one for other researchers and students in doctoral programs Sandra Harris Professor Emerita Educational Leadership Lamar University Beaumont Texas USA

Educating Teachers for Diversity

Jacqueline Jordan Irvine, 2003 Educating Teachers for Diversity addresses the complex issues of how culture race and ethnicity and social class influence the teaching and learning processes The author provides not only an analysis of current conditions and reforms in education but also offers suggestions and practices for improving educational outcomes for all children In this insightful and wise book Jacqueline Jordan Irvine reflects on topics ranging from the preparation of future teachers for urban schools to the role of colleges of education in current reform efforts Debunking both taken for granted assumptions and facile answers to complex problems she insists instead on focusing on what really matters caring for and about the most vulnerable and forgotten children in our schools Anyone interested in the future of public education today would do well to read this book Sonia Nieto author of The Light in Their Eyes Creating Multicultural Learning Communities This is a book to be read by education school faculty and administrators It offers a design for the revitalization of teacher education that needs to be carefully considered it is an agenda that must be pursued David G Imig President and CEO American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education

Self-Study and Diversity II Julian Kitchen, Deborah Tidwell, Linda Fitzgerald, 2016-07-08 Self Study and Diversity II is a book about the self study of teacher education practices in a diverse world In this volume the authors examine the preparation of teachers through a shared orientation to diversity grounded in a commitment to addressing issues of identity equity diversity social justice inclusion and access in their professional practice The first chapters are autobiographical studies in which teacher educators reflect on how their personal identities as minorities within a historically oppressive culture inform their professional practice These powerful narratives are followed by accounts of teacher educators addressing diversity issues in the United Arab Emirates India South Africa and Thailand The closing chapters attend to the challenges of preparing teacher candidates to become inclusive educators in a diverse world Even though each chapter focusses on a particular dimension of equity and social justice or dilemma of practice the insights in these self studies are relevant to all teacher educators interested in improving teacher education by respecting diversity and becoming more inclusive Particular strengths are the diversity of authors and international scope of the book

Resilient Teachers, Resilient Schools Christopher Day, Qing Gu, 2013-12-17 This book unpicks the complex dynamic blend of individuals psychological and professional assets workplace conditions and leadership support which enable teachers who stay in teaching to continue to make a difference in their careers regardless of shifts in policy workplace professional and personal circumstances Whilst much has been written over the years about teacher stress and burnout there is very little research which reports on the conditions which are essential for teachers to sustain their commitment and effectiveness over their professional lives in contexts of challenge and change Drawing upon a range of educational psychological socio cultural and neuro scientific research together with vivid accounts from teachers in a variety of primary and secondary schools internationally and from their own research on teachers work and identities the authors discuss the dynamic nature forms and practices of teacher resilience They argue that resilience in teachers is not only their ability to bounce back in extremely adverse circumstances but that it is the capacity of teachers for everyday resilience which enables them to sustain their commitment and effectiveness in responding positively to the unavoidable uncertainties inherent of their professional lives The authors conclude that resilience in teachers can be nurtured by the intellectual social and organisational environments in which teachers work and live rather than being simply a personal attribute or trait determined by nature Resilient Teachers Resilient Schools will be of key interest to policy makers head teachers teachers and training and development organisations who wish to improve quality and standards in schools
