This Handbook represents the establishment of a new tradition in educational leadership. It thoroughly covers a broad range of issues pertaining to curriculum leadership, supervision, teacher evaluation, budgeting, planning, school design, and issues facing the principalship and the superintendency in the United States. Jsl Vol 17-N3 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP, 2007-12-13 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts. We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations. The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors, authors from traditionally marginalized populations, and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world. Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice, teach courses on school leadership and policy, use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement. Encyclopedia of Educational Leadership and Administration Fenwick W. Bowers, Alan R. Shoho, Bruce G. Barnett, 2015-09-01 As the sixth volume in the International Research on School Leadership series, the contributing authors in this volume consider the history, challenges, and opportunities of the field of research and practice in educational leadership and administration in schools and districts. Ten years after the work of Firestone and Riehl (2005) and their contributing authors, our aim with the present volume was to summarize and update the work of the field and provide a space to consider the multiple futures of educational leadership in schools and districts as both challenges and opportunities. The first decade of the twenty-first century brought significant critiques, challenges, and competition to the research and practice of training leaders and administrators of schools and districts around the world. Congruently, the field experienced significant growth and change as multiple new sub-domains flourished and were founded. Thus, in this volume, we were delighted to include excellent chapters from multiple authors that considered the duality of the challenges and opportunities of the work of the field of educational leadership and administration research to date. The opportunities and challenges of new visions of leadership in traditional and non-traditional schools. The evolving state of research evidence in educational leadership and the increasing sophistication of multiple methodologies including qualitative research, quantitative modeling, the ability to test theory, and the increasing opportunities brought on by the intersection of data research and practice. The preparation of educational leaders. And the emerging trends in the professional development of school leaders. The authors of the nine chapters in the present book volume took on this challenge of confronting the duality of not only including the past as we look to the future but also the duality of the critique of the field in the midst of exciting and significant progress in our knowledge and understanding of leadership in schools. In the first section of the book, Chapters 2, 3, and 4, the authors examine the interplay of educational leadership research and theory as it relates to reform in schools, especially as it relates to serving historically underserved populations globally. In section 2, Chapters 5 and 6, the authors highlight the importance of methodological considerations in school leadership research as a means to understand theory and practice as well as providing interesting avenues that point to multiple exciting future possibilities through relying on current innovations noted within the chapters. Section 3, Chapters 7 and 8, examine the research and practice of school leadership preparation, especially as it relates to university-district partnerships and non-traditional school settings. And in the final chapter, Chapter 9, our capstone contributor provides a means to link the present volume with the past writings on these topics while also providing a lens to view the exciting possibilities and promises of the multiple futures of the field of educational leadership research and practice.

Second International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration Kenneth A. Leithwood, P. Hallinger, 2012-12-06 The first International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration (Leithwood et al.) was published in 1996 and quickly became something of a best seller for reference works within education. Such success we suggest was at least partly due to the unprecedented global waves of concern for improving schools launched in the mid-1980s, combined with a widespread belief in leadership as the single most powerful contribution to such improvement. The roots of this belief can be found in evidence produced by the early effective schools research, although there is a romance with leadership as an explanation for success in many non-school enterprises as well. During the two-year period during which this current handbook was being written, activity in the realms of school leadership, school improvement, and leadership development gained further momentum. The English government created its new National College of School Leadership, and several Asian nations announced new initiatives in leadership selection, preparation, and development.

The Contemporary Superintendent Lars G. Bjork, Theodore J. Kowalski, 2005-06-28 A strong superintendent is critical to the success of an entire school district, and this exciting new resource details the issues surrounding the state policies that appoint superintendents.

Examining the Assistant Principals Alan R. Shoho, Bruce G. Barnett, Autumn K. Tooms, 2011-11-01 This edited book highlights the importance and complexity of the assistant principalship. As noted in all the chapters, the assistant principal is a critical partner in creating a professional learning community that serves all students well. Often neglected or ignored in the literature, assistant principals are more than disciplinarians and student or building managers. In the best of all worlds, they provide the professional support and partnership with their principals to create high performing schools Unfortunately as noted in some of the chapters the ideal and actual roles that assistant principals exercise often create a gap that seethes with disillusionment and dissatisfaction The challenge for the profession is to better align the roles and expectations of assistant principals so that they can experience the best of being a school leader

Educational Leadership, Improvement and Change Lejf Moos, Nikša Alfrević, Jurica Pavičić, Andrej Koren, Ljiljana Najev Čačija, 2020-07-25 This book analyses selected critical concepts of policy and practice in educational leadership in five European countries The editors and contributors cover Croatia Slovenia Lithuania Denmark and Norway spanning a wide geographical region as well as diverse historical and political contexts The analyses primarily consider the issues of convergence and divergence in local educational leadership policies and practice that are developing and emerging from traditional structures and discourses under global trans national and regional influences Focusing on both the macro and micro levels this book examines a range of topics including international benchmarking inclusive education practices and digital transformation It will be of interest and value to scholars of educational leadership in Europe particularly within smaller countries Today s local educational leadership policies and practice are connected with the historical roots of five small European countries In the analysis perspectives from within each country and comparisons are used interestingly Both levels of analysis bring out new understandings of the relationship between policy and practice and how they have been related to leadership in a historical discourse In my opinion the different country chapters and the comparisons represent important new knowledge and I recommended the book as reading for school leaders and policy makers in the field of educational leadership Professor Olof Johansson Ume University Sweden The book fills a gap in the research of cross national research comparing school leadership issues in two Balkan countries Croatia and Slovenia one Baltic country Lithuania and two Scandinavian countries Norway and Denmark To my knowledge it is the first time there has been this sort of cross investigation of commonalities and differences in school leadership conditions between these countries in the age of globalization I am sure that many scholars and practitioners can benefit from this book and hereby recommend it Associate Professor Emeritus Klaus Kasper Kofod Aarhus University Denmark
