Research and Evaluation in Education and the Social Sciences Mary Lee Smith, Gene V. Glass, 1987 Mary Lee Smith is an American researcher and academic whose work spanned across fields from psychology to research methodology to education reform. She is a Regents Professor Emeritus of education policy and measurement statistics and research methodology at Arizona State University. Smith along with Gene Glass were known for their pioneering work in using meta analyses for reporting research outcomes. Smith attended the University of Colorado Boulder on a scholarship for her undergraduate studies. Going against advice to become a high school teacher, Smith returned to the University of Colorado Boulder to earn a PhD in counseling psychology. Following her doctorate, Smith joined the faculty at the University of Colorado in research methodology. There she worked closely with Gene Glass in incorporating meta analyses into research. Interviews conducted by Morton Hunt revealed that Smith worked along with Glass in locating the studies, constructing the sample, assessing the materials, coding and calculating effect sizes. Smith and Glass were later co-principal investigators on several important studies using meta analyses in psychology and together with Thomas Miller published the book Benefits of Psychotherapy in 1980. Later on, Smith became a faculty member at Arizona State University where her research interests focused on school and education policy. She has published numerous publications on education policy and published the book Political Spectacle and the Fate of American Schools in 2003. Wikipedia
