Education And Divine Revelation:

Education and Divine Revelation Herbert W. Byrne, 2003 From the Preface In recent years not a great deal of writing has been done in the field of Christian education theory This seems to be true for both liberal and conservative thinkers On the other hand an investigation of past writings will show some efforts on the part of educators in the field to find an integrating principle some kind of motif or centralizing principle which would serve as the foundation for theory and guide for practice An attempt was made in this work to summarize such efforts and to throw them into a comparative light with an orthodox and evangelical position in Christian education Thus the comparative format of the work would appear evident A search in the first sources of these positions will be indicated in the references Chapter One was devoted to the subject of the search for an integrating principle The current situation in the discipline itself in the literature and on the field was surveyed to point up the need for this principle Section Two of this chapter surveyed the various evidences from the history the scholars and practice on the field This showed who is grappling with this problem Section Three showed the sources utilized by various schools of thought and action The last section made an attempt to resolve this problem by pointing up the advantages offered by a revelational approach Chapter Two focused exclusively on the concept and guidelines provided to Christian education theory and practice by divine revelation The concept of revelation itself was defined The chapter concluded with a statement on the crucial role that epistemology has in developing any Christian education theory followed by a statement on an evangelical and biblical concept of revelation Chapter Three was designed to focus attention on the implications of divine revelation for building Christian education theory A discussion was provided on the need nature and demands for theory An effort was made to show the place that revelation has in theory development An evangelical position was compared to other theories and suggestions made whereby the construction of theory development An evangelical position was compared to other theories and suggestions made whereby the construction of theory could take place based on the premises of divine revelation The implications of such actions have for various types of Christian schools were indicated Chapter Four revealed the direct impact that divine revelation has on general Christian education and practice Definitions of the educational processes necessary to operate a Christian school were indicated Chapter Five gave attention to the implications that revelation has for institutional Christian education practice Suggestions were made in this chapter on how to utilize the principles of revelation in the local church Christian day schools Christian liberal arts colleges and the theological seminary A survey and comparative study of this nature makes it necessary to consult many sources For suggestions and contributions made the writer is grateful For permissions to use many quotations I am grateful For any mistakes and shortcomings I take full responsibility Herbert W Byrne

Regime and Education Ian Dagg, 2023-09-14 This volume is an inquiry into the history of political philosophy by way of the general theme of education Each contributor addresses the relationship between a particular political philosopher's broad teaching on the best political order and that political philosopher's teaching about education The unifying contention of the work is that each political philosopher considered in the volume promotes a certain kind of political regime and therefore a particular mode of education essential to that regime Each chapter written by a separate contributor is distinguished from the others primarily by the political philosopher being considered The book has a chapter dedicated to each of the following political philosophers Plato Xenophon Aristotle Machiavelli Bacon Locke Rousseau Tocqueville and Nietzsche The volume provides a survey of educational models by some of the greatest thinkers of the West while continually demonstrating that the two themes of politics and education are inseparable Lectures on the Cumulative Evidences of Divine Revelation L. F. March Phillips, 1883 The Educational Theories of Herbart and Froebel John Angus Mac Vannel, 1905 Routledge Library Editions: Education and Religion Various, 2021-07-14 The 10 volumes in this set originally published between 1965 and 1994 draw together research by leading academics in the area of religious education and provides a rigorous examination of related key issues The volumes examine the teaching of world faiths in schools religious education in both primary and secondary schools and the teaching of morality This set will be of particular interest to students of Education and Religious Studies New Perspectives in Philosophy of Education David Lewin, Alexandre Guilherme, Morgan White, 2014-10-23 New Perspectives in Philosophy of Education seeks to build a bridge between philosophical reflection and socio political action by developing a range of critical discussions in the areas of ethics politics and religion This volume brings together established authorities and a new generation of scholars to ask whether philosophy of education can contribute to political and social discourse or whether it is destined to remain the marginal gadfly of mainstream ideology The philosophy of education stands in danger of becoming a neglected field at precisely the moment we need to be able to reflect upon the increasingly apparent costs of the technocratic attitude to education While many of the educational policy discussions of recent years seem far reaching and radical critical debate surrounding these initiatives remain largely at a populist level New Perspectives in Philosophy of Education provides contemporary responses to philosophical issues that bear upon educational studies policies and practices contributing to the debate on the role of philosophy of education in an increasingly fractured intellectual milieu On Education Harry Brighouse, 2006-05-02 What is education for Should it produce workers or educate future citizens Is there a place for faith schools and should patriotism be taught In this compelling and controversial book Harry Brighouse takes on all these urgent questions and more He argues that children share four fundamental interests the ability to make their own judgements about what values to adopt acquiring the skills that will enable them to become economically self sufficient as adults being exposed to a range of activities and experiences that will enable them to flourish in their personal lives and developing a sense of justice He criticises sharply those who place the interests of the economy before those of children and assesses the arguments for and against the controversial issues of faith schools and the teaching of patriotism Clearly argued but provocative On Education draws on recent examples from Britain and North America as well as famous thinkers on education such as Aristotle and John Locke It is essential reading for anyone interested in the present state of education and its future What Does the Bible Say about Education Allison Gray,2023-03-20 What Does the Bible Say About Education invites readers to accept God's invitation to become lifelong learners an invitation embedded in the biblical narrative embodied in the person of Jesus and still relevant today Bringing together biblical stories historical context and contemporary insights from scholars of education this book demonstrates that we are surrounded by opportunities to learn Journey to Islamicisation of Human Knowledge: A Festschrift in Honour of Mohd. Kamal Hassan (IIUM PRESS) Md. Mahmudul Hasan,Abdul Rashid Moten,2023-09-13 International Islamic University Malaysia IIUM is pleased to bring out Journey to Islamicisation of Human Knowledge A Festschrift in Honour of Mohd Kamal Hassan The publication of this festschrift first of its kind by IIUM Press marks a tribute to the late Emeritus Professor Tan Sri Dr Mohd Kamal Hassan 1942 2023 and a recognition of his many contributions to the university He served IIUM and its community both formally and informally in various capacities including being its third Rector His attachment to IIUM spanned a long period from its inception in 1983 to the end of his active life I hope this festschrift will help readers appreciate Kamal Hassan's contributions and will encourage more scholarly work on his legacy It will increase their interest in his ideas as well as in the mission and philosophy of IIUM I congratulate the editors of and the contributors to this book for their inspired efforts to prepare its content and IIUM Press for publishing this significant work

Spirituality and Education Andrew Wright,2003-09-02 Spirituality and Education introduces the basic contours of current debate in a form accessible to both classroom teachers across the curriculum range and to school managers It covers all key areas including problems of defining spirituality government legislation and supporting documentation relevant empirical research the social dimension of spirituality secular and religious manifestations of spirituality in contemporary society theories of childhood spiritual development contemporary approaches to spiritual education including collective worship and cross curricular teaching A variety of different perspectives and approaches will be offered and readers are encouraged to be reflective through a number of tasks which relate all issues raised directly back to their own specific circumstances The author includes questions quotes and lists of further reading California. Shaping a New Educational Landscape Max Coates, 2010-04-01 Against the backdrop of a rapidly changing world formal schooling is frequently following rather than leading The impression is given by central government that the education system serves as a thermostat restoring society's settings in areas such as productivity citizenship health sexual mores and behaviour Educational reform over the last twenty years has clarified an existing educational process reformatted the financial management of schools and resuscitated the inspection system It has not however laid the foundations of a world class future responsive educational system Shaping a New Educational Landscape brings together writers considering a wide range of possibilities for future development in education and society from different perspectives Exploring alternative scenarios and strategies they are not engaged in making accurate predictions but in unsettling present thinking and stimulating discussion Together they form a fascinating contribution to the growing debate about how we might generate an educational process that will sponsor new economic paradigms and create a bold participative society on the new global stage
