Notions of Time in Deuterocanonical and Cognate Literature Stefan Beyerle, Matthew Goff, 2021-12-20. A comprehensive investigation of notions of time in deuterocanonical and cognate literature from the ancient Jewish up to the early Christian eras requires further scholarship. The aim of this collection of articles is to contribute to a better understanding of time in deuterocanonical literature and pseudepigrapha especially in Second Temple Judaism and to provide criteria for concepts of time in wisdom literature, apocalypticism, Jewish and early Christian historiography and in Rabbinic religiosity. Essays in this volume representing the proceedings of a conference of the International Society for the Study of Deuterocanonical and Cognate Literature in July 2019 at Greifswald discuss concepts and terminologies of time stemming from novellas like the book of Tobit, from exhortations for the wise like Ben Sira, from an apocalyptic time table in 4 Ezra, the book of Giants or Daniel and early Christian and Rabbinic compositions. The volume consists of four chapters that represent different approaches or hermeneutics of time: I Axial Ages: The Construction of Time as History; II The Construction of Time: Particular Reifications; III Terms of Time and Space; IV The Construction of Apocalyptic Time. Scholars and students of ancient Jewish and Christian religious history will find in this volume orientation with regard to an important but multifaceted and sometimes disparate topic.
