Emerging Johannesburg:

Emerging Johannesburg Richard Tomlinson, 2003 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company A Place That Matters Yet Sara Byala, 2024-05-31 A Place That Matters Yet unearths the little known story of Johannesburg's MuseumAfrica a South African history museum that embodies one of the most dynamic and fraught stories of colonialism and postcolonialism its life spanning the eras before during and after apartheid Sara Byala in examining this story sheds new light not only on racism and its institutionalization in South Africa but also on the problems facing any museum that is charged with navigating colonial history from a postcolonial perspective Drawing on thirty years of personal letters and public writings by museum founder John Gubbins Byala paints a picture of a uniquely progressive colonist focusing on his philosophical notion of three dimensional thinking which aimed to transcend binaries and thus quite explicitly racism Unfortunately Gubbins died within weeks of the museum's opening and his hopes would go unrealized as the museum fell in line with emergent apartheid politics Following the museum through this transformation and on to its 1994 reconfiguration as a post apartheid institution Byala showcases it as a rich and problematic archive of both material culture and the ideas that surround that culture arguing for its continued importance in the establishment of a unified South Africa
