Music in Renaissance Magic Gary Tomlinson, 1993 Magic enjoyed a vigorous revival in sixteenth century Europe attaining a prestige lost for over a millennium and becoming for some a kind of universal philosophy Renaissance music also suggested a form of universal knowledge through renewed interest in two ancient themes the Pythagorean and Platonic harmony of the celestial spheres and the legendary effects of the music of bards like Orpheus Arion and David In this climate Renaissance philosophers drew many new and provocative connections between music and the occult sciences In Music in Renaissance Magic Gary Tomlinson describes some of these connections and offers a fresh view of the development of early modern thought in Italy Raising issues essential to postmodern historiography issues of cultural distance and our relationship to the others who inhabit our constructions of the past Tomlinson provides a rich store of ideas for students of early modern culture for musicologists and for historians of philosophy science and religion A scholarly step toward a goal that many composers have aimed for to rescue the idea of New Age Music that music can promote spiritual well being from the New Ageists who have reduced it to a level of sonic wallpaper Kyle Gann Village Voice An exemplary piece of musical and intellectual history of interest to all students of the Renaissance as well as musicologists The author deserves congratulations for introducing this new approach to the study of Renaissance music Peter Burke NOTES Gary Tomlinson's Music in Renaissance Magic Toward a Historiography of Others examines the otherness of magical cosmology A passionate eloquently melancholy and important book Anne Lake Prescott Studies in English Literature

Sartre and Magic Daniel O'Shiel, 2019-06-27 Jean Paul Sartre's technical and multifaceted concept of magic is central for understanding crucial elements of his early philosophy 1936 1943 not least his conception of the ego emotion the imaginary and value Daniel O Shiel follows the thread of magic throughout Sartre's early philosophical work Firstly Sartre's work on the ego 1936 shows a personal reflective form of consciousness that is magically hypostasized onto the pre reflective level Secondly emotion 1938 is inherently magical for Sartre because emotive qualities come to inhere in objects and thereby transform a world of pragmatism into one of captivation Thirdly analyses of The Imaginary 1940 reveal that anything we imagine is a spontaneous creation of consciousness that has the power to enchant and immerse us even to the point of images holding sway over us Culminating with Sartre's ontological system of Being and Nothingness 1943 O Shiel argues that Sartre does not do away with the concept but in fact provides ontological roots for it This is most evident in Sartre's analyses of value possession and language A second part shows how such Sartrean magic is highly relevant for a number of concrete case studies the arts advertising racism and stupidity and certain instances of psychopathology O Shiel shows that Sartre's magical being is important for any contemporary philosophical anthropology because it is essentially at work at the heart of many of our most significant experiences both creative and damaging
