

The background of the entire cover is a painting. It depicts a calm body of water, possibly a lake or a wide river. In the foreground, a sailboat with a single white sail is moving from left to right, leaving a small wake. The water is a mix of light and dark blue-green. In the background, there is a dense, green forested hillside. The sky is a pale, hazy blue, and several small, dark birds are scattered across it. The overall style is that of a classic oil painting.

Health Inequities in India T.K. Sundari Ravindran,Rakhal Gaitonde,2017-12-21 This timely contribution to the global literature on health inequities approaches the subject through a synthesis and analysis of relevant published literature on India Amongst the BRICS countries India ranks the lowest in the gender gap index and has the highest poverty rate and there is clear evidence that socio economic inequalities have increased in India in the twenty first century These have direct impact on the health conditions of its people however there has been relatively little concerted research attention on health inequities in India This volume fills the gap by synthesizing research evidence since the year 2000 on the topic This is perhaps the first volume on this topic of such scope and breadth Its uniqueness lies in the synthesis of evidence across a range of axes of disadvantages within a single volume socio economic position caste gender other socially constructed vulnerabilities such as disability HIV status migrant status and health system factors contributing to or mitigating inequities in health Each core chapter not only summarizes research findings but also engages critically with the perspectives reflected in the chapters and proposes a framework for understanding the mechanisms through which health inequities result This volume highlights and addresses research gaps in both methodology and content and is valuable to researchers and students of public health and allied health disciplines including the social sciences and also to policy makers and donors

The Making and Mirroring of Masculine Subjectivities Susan Mooney,2022-08-09 This book shows how diverse critical modern world narratives in prose fiction and film emphasize masculine subjectivities through affects and ethics Highlighting diverse affects and mental states in subjective voices and modes modern narratives reveal men as feeling intersubjective beings and not as detached masters of master narratives Modern novels and films suggest that masculine subjectivities originate paradoxically from a combination of copying and negation surplus and lack sameness and alterity among fathers and sons siblings and others In this comparative study of more than 30 diverse world narratives Mooney deftly uses psychoanalytic thought narrative theories of first and third person narrators and Levinasian and feminist ethics of care creativity honor and proximity We gain a nuanced picture of diverse postpaternal postgentlemen emerging out of older character structures of the knight and gentleman
