Emigration From Hong Kong Tendencies And Impacts Hong Kong Series Paperback:

Emigration from Hong Kong Ronald Skeldon, 1995 The book centres around a Hong Kong wide survey of emigration designed to examine how many people may leave before 1997 who are most likely to leave and what the impact of their leaving will be Hong Kong's Transitions, 1842-1997 Judith M. Brown, Rosemary Foot, 1997-06-12 The reversion of Hong Kong to China on 1 July 1997 is an event of major historical significance This volume examines this dramatic event from a long term perspective against the background of earlier turning points in Hong Kong's political economic and social history It also explores Hong Kong's links with China and Britain in this troubled last decade of colonial rule and offers a basis for assessing the territory's possible future as a part of the Chinese state Emigration from Hong Kong Ronald Skeldon, 1995 The book centres around a Hong Kong wide survey of emigration designed to examine how many people may leave before 1997 who are most likely to leave and what the impact of their leaving will be Beyond Chinatown Mette Thunø, 2007 Annotation The rough camps and shantytowns built by nineteenth and early twentieth century Chinese immigrants to the West eventually became settled Chinatowns across the globe Because it opens a new approach to the study of recent Chinese migration this volume will be of vital interest in the fields of both general and Chinese migration studies But bringing to life as it does the momentous changes now sweeping the Chinese world in all parts of the globe it will also attract a far wider readership The Hong Kong Reader Ming K. Chan, Gerard A. Postiglione, 2016-09-16 This paperback reader provides the student and general reader with easy access to the major issues of the Hong Kong transition crisis Contributors include both editors as well as Frank Ching Berry F Hsu Reginald Yin wang Kwok Peter Kwong Julian Y M Leung Ronald Skeldon Alvin Y So Yun wing Sung and James T H Tang the majority of whom live and work in Hong Kong and experience the transition firsthand personally and professionally Islam and China's Hong Kong Wai-Yip Ho, 2013-06-07 Hong Kong is a global city state under the sovereignty of the People's Republic of China and is home to around 250 000 Muslims practicing Islam However existing studies of the Muslim majority communities in Asia and the Northwest China largely ignore the Muslim community in Hong Kong Islam and China's Hong Kong skillfully fills this gap and investigates how ethnic and Chinese speaking Muslims negotiate their identities and the increasing public attention to Islam in Hong Kong Examining a range of issues and challenges facing Muslims in Hong Kong this book focuses on the three different diasporic Muslim communities and reveals the city state's triple Islamic heritage and distinctive Islamic culture It begins with the transition from the colonial to the post colonial era and explores how this has impacted on the experiences of the Muslim diaspora and the ways this shift has compelled the community to adapt to Chinese nationalism whilst forging greater links with the Gulf Then with reference to the rise of new media and technology the book examines the heightened presence of Islam in the Chinese public sphere alongside the emergence of Chinese Islamic websites which have sought to balance transnational Muslim solidarity and sensitivity towards Chinese government's concern of external extremism Finally it concludes by investigating Hong Kong

s growing awareness of the Muslim minorities demands for Islamic religious education and how this links with the city state's aspiration to become the new gateway for Islamic finance. Indeed Wai Yip Ho posits that Hong Kong is now shifting from its role as the broker that bridged East and West during the Cold War to that of a new mediator between China and the Middle East. Drawing on extensive ethnographic research this book thoughtfully charts a new area of inquiry and as such will be welcomed by students and scholars of Chinese studies, Islamic studies, Asian studies and ethnicity studies.

Chinese Among Others Philip A. Kuhn, 2008-03-27 In this book distinguished historian Philip A. Kuhn tells the remarkable five century story of Chinese emigration as an integral part of China's modern history. Although emigration has a much longer past its modern phase dates from the sixteenth century when European colonialists began to collaborate with Chinese emigrants to develop a worldwide trading system. The author explores both internal and external migration complementary parts of a far reaching process of adaptation that enabled Chinese families to deal with their changing social environments. Skills and institutions developed in the course of internal migration were creatively modified to serve the needs of emigrants in foreign lands. As emigrants Chinese inevitably found themselves among others. The various human ecologies in which they lived have faced Chinese settlers with a diversity of challenges and opportunities in the colonial and postcolonial states of Southeast Asia, in the settler societies of the Americas and Australasia and in Europe. Kuhn traces their experiences worldwide alongside those of the others among whom they settled: the colonial elites, indigenous peoples and rival immigrant groups that have profited from their Chinese minorities but also have envied, feared and sometimes persecuted them. A rich selection of primary sources allows these protagonists a personal voice to express their hopes, sorrows and worldviews. The post Mao era offers emigrants new opportunities to leverage their expatriate status to do business with a Chinese nation eager for their investments, donations and technologies. The resulting new migration, the author argues, is but the latest phase of a centuries old process by which Chinese have sought livelihoods away from home.

Reluctant Exiles? Ronald Skeldon, 2016-09-16 This work presents an assessment of the migration from Hong Kong that has occurred since the second half of the 1980s. This pronounced outflow of highly educated people, a brain drain, is having a profound impact on destination areas as well as on Hong Kong itself.

Ann Hui's Song of the Exile Audrey Yue, 2010-03-01 With due emphases on diasporic intimacies, cine feminism and transcultural literacy, Audrey Yue has written a sensitive and lucid study doing justice to a remarkable film by a remarkable director, Rey Chow. Duke University. This book pushes the boundaries of existing studies on Hong Kong cinema studies. Yue provides us with innovative ways of reading intimacy in the diaspora as nostalgia for the familiar or idealised as cultural memories that make up diasporic archives as modes of transformation of kinship. Structures as affects produced through new media technologies. The book concludes with a self reflexive exploration of teaching Song in Australia. By situating the film under the rubric of critical multiculturalism, Yue demonstrates how the teaching of postcolonial cinema can be sustained as a political pedagogy that resists the pluralist demands of a neoliberal curriculum. This is a carefully researched rigorously analytical and intellectually profound study that will make its mark in the fields of diaspora transcultural communication and cinema studies Jacqueline Lo Australian National University The resolutely independent filmmaker Ann On wah Hui continues to inspire critical acclaim for her sensitive portrayals of numerous Hong Kong tragedies and marginalized populations In a pioneering career spanning three decades Hui has been director producer writer and actress for more than 30 films In this work Audrey Yue analyses a 1990 film considered by many to be one of Hui's most haunting and poignant works Song of the Exile The semi autobiographical film depicts a daughter's coming to terms with her mother's Japanese identity Themes of cross cultural alienation divided loyalties and generational reconciliation resonate strongly amid the migration and displacement pressures surrounding Hong Kong in the early 1990s Even now more than a decade after the 1997 Handover the film is a perennial favourite among returning Hong Kong emigrants and international cinema students This book examines how Hui challenges the myth of the original home as singular familial and romantic and constructs the second home as a new space for Hong Kong modernity Yue also discusses the teaching of the film in the diaspora demonstrating its potential as an affective and performative text of transcultural literacy and diasporic negotiations in the cross cultural classroom American Book Publishing Record Cumulative 1998 R R Bowker Publishing, 1999-03
