Caught In A Trap: Kidnapping Elvis Chris Charlesworth,2017-07-12 Caught in a Trap draws back the veil of secrecy on the most dramatic event in the life of Elvis Presley In October of 1975 Elvis was kidnapped and held in a cabin in the Kentucky mountains where he was made to sing for his supper After a week in captivity a ransom was paid to ensure his release a sensational affair that was hushed up on orders from the White House This psychological thriller not only tells the dramatic tale of how Elvis was snatched but delves into the innermost thoughts of the King of Rock n Roll How does Elvis react when he is treated like an ordinary citizen told to sweep floors and chop wood How does he interact with his kidnappers And how do those close him among them ex wife Priscilla and manager Colonel Tom Parker respond to the crisis With all of his needs catered for by others Elvis Presley was the very opposite of self sufficient simultaneously the neediest man that Priscilla would ever encounter yet at the same time in need of nothing Elvis was a paradox reared on a diet that had left him as helpless as a child when he wasn t surrounded by his courtiers whoever had kidnapped him thought Priscilla would soon realise what a handful he could be The Lindbergh Baby Kidnapping Charles River Charles River Editors,2015-11-10 Includes pictures Includes accounts of the crime and trial Includes online resources and a bibliography for further reading Includes a table of contents I am writing this literally within the shadow of the electric chair For upward to fourteen months I have been confined in the cell nearest to the execution chamber in the New Jersey penitentiary The courts of New Jersey have now said that I shall die on the night of April 3 and that I shall die in the chair that is just beyond the door that faces me and has faced me every waking hour of my life these past fourteen months The courts have said that on the night of April 3 I shall be prepared to leave the cell which has been my home walk through the door which has been facing me these weary months tread the few steps that lead from that door to the electric chair that on that night I shall be led out on a walk from which I shall never return Bruno Richard Hauptmann Amelia Earhart once noted In my life I had come to realize that when things were going very well indeed it was just the time to anticipate trouble And so it would be with America's other famous aviator Charles Lindbergh had spent the first 30 years of his life escaping multiple plane crashes becoming a hero across the world and starting a family but his luck ran out in an awful way in March of 1932 Tragically the other major life event associated with Charles Lindbergh besides his historic transatlantic flight was the crime of the century On March 1 1932 20 month old Charles Jr was kidnapped right out of his crib from the family's home in rural East Amwell New Jersey and for 10 long weeks the nation hoped and prayed in chorus with the distraught parents for his safe return Both Charles and his pregnant wife Anne made frequent public pleas for their son's safe return while ransom negotiations took place between a self identified kidnapper and Dr John F Condon a volunteer intermediary On April 2 the Lindbergh family paid a ransom of 50 000 in exchange for information about the child's whereabouts but the information was false The mystery continued until May 12 when a passing trucker found the corpse of a dead toddler by chance in the woods outside of Mount Rose New Jersey Through careful investigation the police were able to arrest Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the crime about 30 months later after they tracked some of the money paid through the ransom to a gas station in Manhattan Hauptmann still had more than 13 000 of the ransom hidden in his garage when authorities closed in Following his six week long trial in for kidnapping and murder in early 1935 the jury found him guilty on all counts and Judge Thomas Trenchard sentenced him to death by electrocution which was carried out on April 3 1936 at Trenton State Penitentiary Unfortunately the kidnapping of his son became more than just a personal matter for Charles Lindbergh over the next several years it evolved in his mind to a dislike of America in general It is almost as if unable to accept the role that his personal popularity and fame played in the tragedy Lindbergh chose instead to blame those who made him famous and popular In an extremely emotional interview with his friend reporter Lauren Lyman he said We Americans are a primitive people We do not have discipline Our moral standards are low It shows up in the private lives of people we know their drinking and behavior with women It shows in the newspapers the morbid curiosity over crimes and murder trials Americans seem to have little respect for law or the rights of others In a perfect world or even simply one not on the brink of war his remarks might have been forgotten or at the very least heard with a sympathetic ear as the rantings of a grieving father However they would be quoted again and again in future years coming to epitomize the world's view of Lindbergh's politics and values Kidnapped J S Donovan, 2020-05-29 Two innocents are taken and only one woman can find them Renowned Miami detective Anna Dedrick returns to her rural birthplace with hopes of leaving behind the vices of the big city That dream shatters when the town's pride an African American child prodigy goes missing As the only woman equipped for the job Anna takes the case but soon discovers the town suspecting her estranged brother and herself The Kidnapping of Christina Lattimore Joan Lowery Nixon, 1980-05 As she steps out of her car in the driveway Christina Lattimore sees a figure in a mask Without a chance to defend herself she is grabbed and drugged and wakes up on a narrow cot in a chilly basement Her kidnappers are holding her for ransom But will her family pay Christina soon discovers her family is convinced that she is an accomplice in her own kidnapping Christina is on her own to prove her innocence But what if she can't
