Empowerment Through Reflection The Narratives Of Healthcare Professionals:

Empowerment Through Reflection Tony Ghaye, 2000 Much has been said about the potential that critical forms of reflection have to empower healthcare professionals This text critiques the stereotypical view that empowerment is seen as a commodity that is bestowed upon people by those who have it to give An alternative view is presented based upon the ideas of Foucault Friere Habermas Chambers and others whose ideas embrace issues of power politics struggle negotiation and reversals in our thinking

Reflection: Principles and Practices for Healthcare Professionals 2nd Edition Tony Ghaye, Sue Lillyman, 2014-10-07 In this newly updated edition of the bestselling Reflections Principles and Practice for Healthcare Professionals the authors reinforce the need to invest in the development of reflective practice not only for practitioners but also for healthcare students The book discusses the need for skilful facilitation high quality mentoring and the necessity for good support networks The book describes the 12 principles of reflection and the many ways it can be facilitated It attempts to support with evidence the claims that reflection can be a catalyst for enhancing clinical competence safe and accountable practice professional self confidence self regulation and the collective improvement of more considered and appropriate healthcare Each principle is illustrated with examples from practice and clearly positioned within the professional literature New chapters on appreciative reflection and the value of reflection for continuing professional development are included making this an essential guide for all healthcare professionals

Understanding Disability Sally French, John Swain, 2008-02-06 This book examines disability in an accessible and interactive style as it relates to healthcare policy and practice It is aimed at physiotherapists and occupational therapists both students and practitioners but will also be useful to all healthcare workers including nurses doctors and speech and language therapists Based on the social rather than the medical model of disability Views disability in terms of environmental structural and attitudinal barriers which deny disabled people full participation in society Engages health professionals in critical reflection on the provision of services to disabled people Case studies and activities throughout facilitate understanding of issues presented

Developing the Reflective Healthcare Team Tony Ghaye, 2008-04-15 Team working and learning through reflection are both fundamental to quality healthcare This book is the first to explore the use of the practices of reflection to develop health care teams that can deliver sustainable high quality personalised care Developing the Reflective Healthcare Team is structured in three parts which are about new views of reflective practice improving team working and the use of the TA2LK facilitative reflective process to develop high performing teams

Exploring the Dynamics of Personal, Professional and Interprofessional Ethics Divya Jindal-Snape, Elizabeth S. F. Hannah, 2014-03-01 Although codes of conduct and ethics can offer guidance professionals who provide services to other people must regularly exercise their own judgment in increasingly complex and demanding work situations Because of their complexity these situations can lead to conflict between personal professional and interprofessional ethics in social work and other people centered fields Drawing on theory research and practice the contributors to this interdisciplinary volume systematically analyze these ethical dilemmas and offer practical suggestions that are sure to interest students academics and professionals Building the Reflective Healthcare Organisation Tony Ghaye,2008-04-15 Healthcare organisations have to manage change in order to evolve and improve care This book explores the use of reflective practice as a practical tool to examine growth and change and to develop an effective health care organisation English and Empowerment in the Developing World Nasreen Hussain,Mohammad Zafar,2009-10-02 This book is a collection of thought provoking papers that investigate empowerment within the context of language education and technology In the seventeen papers published in the book local and international ELT practitioners and researchers have analysed their experiences within a range of socio linguistic situations Adding significant insights and depth to a previously under researched area the publication will be of interest not only to ELT teachers and students but also to social science researchers in developing and marginalised countries The book based on selected papers presented at the 2007 Aga Khan University Centre of English Language seminar in Karachi exemplifies the issues of language and empowerment The papers deal with complex educational and socio cultural issues and force readers to undertake a cultural journey to see them from a different perspective The collection of papers whatever one s teaching learning context will become an essential resource book for all English language teachers scholars and researchers interested in learning more about the success stories and problems facing language education in the developing countries especially Asia today Reflective Practice For Healthcare Professionals Taylor, Beverley,2010-05-01 This popular book provides practical guidance for healthcare professionals wishing to reflect on their work and improve the way they undertake clinical procedures interact with other people at work and deal with power issues The new edition has been broadened in focus from nurses and midwives exclusively to include all healthcare professionals Reflective Clinical Supervision in Speech and Language Therapy Ruth Howes,2022-10-31 This book demystifies supervision in speech and language therapy focusing on the practicalities and pitfalls Clinicians are encouraged to reflect on their individual style as a supervisor and the tools they utilise to make a successful supervisory relationship Drawing on previous experience Howes offers a combination of reflective solution focused and strengths based approaches covering topics such as The importance of the supervisory conversation Ways to ensure conversations are reflective and appreciative supportive yet challenging The training needed to be effective supervisors and good supervisees The functions of supervision and how these change over time for each clinician from learning new clinical skills to support in time and energy management Practical resources for busy clinicians making it a manual of insights and support for supervision in SLT Reflective Clinical Supervision in Speech and Language Therapy will be an invaluable guide for all speech and language therapists who are either experienced or newly established supervisors supporting others with the complexities of casework and the stress of relationships in every busy working day Assessing the Nursing and Care Needs of Older Adults Helen Taylor (PhD.),2005 Health resources

Ethical and Philosophical Aspects of Nursing Children and Young People Gosia M. Brykczynska,Joan Simons,2011-01-19

Nurses and healthcare professionals are constantly faced with ethical and philosophical dilemmas when working with children in everyday practice. Ethical and Philosophical Aspects of Nursing Children and Young People is a comprehensive text on the ethics and philosophy behind paediatric nursing that reflects the contemporary issues encountered while working with children and young people. The title provides a philosophical and historical analysis of the subject looking at a review of sociological and political theories concerning the nature of childhood and providing a critical analysis of contemporary notions about childhood. It then goes on to look at moral theories and their application to paediatric nursing practice, ethical issues when caring for children of all ages from infancy to adolescence. It considers issues of disabled children, confidentiality, mental health issues, children's rights and pain management. With case studies and activities throughout, this book will enable students and newly qualified nurses both to understand philosophical concepts and issues but also to articulate their own reflections and observations on these subjects. Written by children's nurses for children's nurses. With contributions from internationally recognised experts in the field. Reflective scenarios, further reading, extensive referencing, case studies, guided questions and resources throughout. Includes appendices on the RCPCH Guidelines on Withdrawal of Treatment, the ICN Ethical Code, the Summary of the UNCRC and the RCPCH Guidelines for the Conduct of Ethical Research. Working with Disabled People in Policy and Practice Sally French, John Swain, 2011-11-15. Part of Palgrave's Interagency Working in Health and Social Care series, this book explores the policy and practice which frames work with disabled people. Providing a critical review of the mainstream services available to disabled people, it assesses the successes and failures of interagency working and offers a model for future practice. The Essential Concepts of Nursing John R. Cutcliffe, Hugh P. McKenna, 2005-01-01. For the first time, leading authorities come together to offer their expertise as they present the building blocks and concepts of nursing theory. Provides an explanation of concepts necessary as building blocks of theory. Research based. Draws extensively on literature. Experienced contributors and editors, all leading experts in their fields. Becoming a Reflective Practitioner Christopher Johns, 2013-03-19. From Reviews of the second edition: Christopher Johns is an internationally recognised pioneer of reflective practice in nursing and health care. The first edition of this book was an excellent resource and this updated version is equally impressive. This is a superb resource for nurses and all those eager to enhance their knowledge and skills in reflective practice. It is well presented, user friendly and stimulating. Nursing Standard: Becoming a Reflective Practitioner is a practical guide to using reflection in every day clinical practice. It explores the value of using models of reflection with particular reference to Christopher Johns' own model for structured reflection. Becoming a Reflective Practitioner includes accounts of everyday practice to guide the reader through the stages of reflective practice within the context of care, desirable practice and the caring relationship. This third edition reflects significant developments in reflective theory and gives greater attention to different approaches to reflection, including the use of narrative dialogue. New chapters are included on ensuring quality and managing conflict. Exemplars are included throughout and further

references and reflected reading are included at the end of each chapter Reflective practice is acknowledged as an effective approach to developing nursing care which evolves as the practitioner develops his or her own practice This book will therefore be of interest to all nurses involved in developing their clinical practice A practical guide to developing reflective practice Reflects significant developments in reflective theory Examines Christopher Johns own model for structured reflection Centred on care and the caring relationship Challenges practitioners to question their practice Mentorship in Community Nursing Judith Canham, Joanne Bennett, 2008-04-15 The importance of the community practice teacher is increasing with the expansion in primary care Universities around the country have developed courses for practice educators to provide definitive training for that role there are currently few texts that support these courses directly This book aims to redress this by covering eight specialist areas of community practice district nursing health visiting school nursing children s community health nursing community nursing mental health community nursing learning disability general practice nursing and occupational health nursing The emphasis is strongly on practical issues rather than theory and each section considers practice based dilemmas and offers appropriate debate Practical Facilitation Christine Hogan, 2005-11-03 A facilitator helps groups of people to enable them to interact more effectively in a wide range of situations and occupations including workplaces organizational planning leisure and health activities and community development Facilitation is an emerging and exciting profession Eritrea's Quest for Freedom Russom Teklay, Its journey to independence etched in the annals of the 20th century reflects the aspirations of a people who dared to dream of sovereignty and freedom This exploration begins by tracing the roots of Eritrea s identity delving into the historical echoes that resonated with calls for Affective Injustice in Healthcare Brenda Bogaert, 2025-09-30 This book explores the ambiguous role of affects in healthcare work and medical education At the same time that healthcare professionals are often encouraged to suppress or downplay their affects in order to maintain a sense of professionalism those of patients are frequently misunderstood or unheard both within clinical settings and beyond We argue that these are examples of affective injustice instances in which emotional expression is dismissed as unprofessional unproductive or inappropriate in healthcare We show that the suppression of affects is not only unrealistic but also potentially harmful and how it can lead to burnout and dissatisfaction among healthcare providers as well as negatively affect care quality in particular for marginalized groups The ambition of the book is therefore to bring this controversial issue to the forefront and to demonstrate the value of affects in healthcare and medical education as well as to offer several methodologies for greater affective expression and recognition in healthcare institutions The first part of the book lays the theoretical groundwork examining the relevance of the concept of affective injustice for healthcare and the problems that affective injustice creates for care actors and for care quality The second part offers some practical methodologies to move toward affective justice for patients and healthcare providers Proposals include narrative methods spiritual care emotionally responsive hospital design and architecture the possibilities and limits offered by patient research partners and pedagogies

for medical education The book will end by showing how to take the framework forward in particular through empirical bioethics research This book will be of interest to scholars and educators in medical ethics interdisciplinary researchers in the medical humanities as well as patients families and healthcare providers interested in the role of affects in healthcare
