The Nineteenth-century Visual Culture Reader Vanessa R. Schwartz, Jeannene M. Przyblyski, 2004 This Reader brings together for the first time key writings about the nineteenth century a key period in contemporary discussion of visual culture Exploring such topics as photographs exhibitions and advertising the editors suggest that modernity rather than modernism is a valuable way of understanding the changes particular to the visual culture of the time and they investigate a variety of nineteenth century images technologies and visual experiences With three specially written essays about definitions of visual culture as an object of study the book examines genealogies and introduces key writings about culture from writers living in the nineteenth century itself or from those who scrutinized its visual culture from early in the twentieth century such as Walter Benjamin and Siegfried Kracauer The Nineteenth Century Visual Culture Reader is organized around key themes technologies of vision practices of display and the circulation of images cities and the built environment visual representations of the past visual representations of categories of racial sexual and social differences spatial configurations of inside and out private and public Selections include well known authors and new research by younger scholars to produce a well balanced and comprehensive collection

Absolute Music and the Construction of Meaning Daniel Chua, 1999-11-25 This book is born out of two contradictions first it explores the making of meaning in a musical form that was made to lose its meaning at the turn of the nineteenth century secondly it is a history of a music that claims to have no history absolute music The book therefore writes against that notion of absolute music which tends to be the paradigm for most musicological and analytical studies It is concerned not so much with what music is but with why and how meaning is constructed in instrumental music and what structures of knowledge need to be in place for such meaning to exist From the thought of Vincenzo Galilei to that of Theodore Adorno Daniel Chua suggests that instrumental music has always been a critical and negative force in modernity even with its nineteenth century apotheosis as absolute music

Beyond Our Lights and Shadows Judith A. Merkle, 2016-07-14 Do not neglect the gift that is in you which was given to you through prophecy with the laying of hands by the council of elders 1Tim 4 14 Members of the church today can comprehend Paul's sentiment to Timothy While not all ordained all baptized Christians have experienced the laying on of hands in baptism They have been touched by that mysterious mix of charism initiated into the Body of Christ through the Holy Spirit as well as launched into life with Christ through the institution of the Church with all its concreteness ambiguity sinfulness and goodness Through the lens of

Christian theology along with the sociology of Max Weber in his study of charism and institution in modern society Judith A Merkle analyzes the interaction and tautness between the concept of powerful grace through baptism and the institution in the life of the modern church Weber asserts that freedom and creativity in modern society only become manifest within social relations Since these highly valued modern experiences do not exist outside the institutional framework they exist in tension with the constrictive and creative aspects of the institution Judith A Merkle offers the reader perspective on this contemporary experience in the church
