Enchantment in South Asia, 16th-18th Centuries Ines G. Zupanov,2025-10-01 Max Weber's classical notion of enchantment serves in this book to highlight the clash and rewiring of ethical and cosmological codes in European and Indian early modern cultural encounters from the 16th century onward Since Portuguese imperialism was unable to justify itself without invoking otherworldly intervention Catholic missionaries provided the vocabulary and narrative of global salvation Each chapter in this volume explores a range of enchantment techniques used by missionaries encompassing historical prose poetry images and translations woven through with emotions and wrapped in illocutionary force Catholic missionaries in India wrote from and about the soft belly of tropical colonialism with certainty about the triumph of Christianity Understanding the subterranean bond between history and fiction is at the heart of this book

Sacral Kingship Between Disenchantment and Re-enchantment Ronald G. Asch,2014-07-01 France and England are often seen as monarchies standing at opposite ends of the spectrum of seventeenth century European political culture On the one hand the Bourbon monarchy took the high road to absolutism while on the other the Stuarts never quite recovered from the diminution of their royal authority following the regicide of Charles I in 1649 However both monarchies shared a common medieval heritage of sacral kingship and their histories remained deeply entangled throughout the century This study focuses on the interaction between ideas of monarchy and images of power in the two countries between the execution of Mary Queen of Scots and the Glorious Revolution It demonstrates that even in periods when politics were seemingly secularized as in France at the end of the Wars of Religion and in latter seventeenth century England the appeal to religious images and values still lent legitimacy to royal authority by emphasizing the sacral aura or providential role which church and religion conferred on monarchs

[By Levinus Brown.] Levinus BROWN,1745 The Power of the Sacred Hans Joas,2021 In The Power of the Sacred Hans Joas develops a new sociological theory of religion by reconstructing existing scientific theories of religion from the eighteenth century to the present Through a critical reading and reassessment of key texts Joas proposes an alternative to the narratives of disenchantment and secularization which have dominated debates on the topic He further offers the most thorough reconstruction of the meaning of this concept demonstrates how problematic it is for an appropriate understanding of religion in modernity and presents the basic features of an alternative Re-Enchantment James Elkins,David Morgan,2011-01-13 The near absence of religion from contemporary discourse on art is one of the most fundamental issues in postmodernism Artists critical of religion can find voices in the art world but religion itself including spirituality is taken to be excluded by the very project of modernism The sublime re enchantment as in Weber and the aura as in Benjamin have been used to smuggle religious concepts back into academic writing but there is still no direct communication between religionists and scholars Re
