Thomas Merton's Encounter with Buddhism and Beyond Jaechan Anselmo Park, 2019-03-07

Thomas Merton recognized the value and possibility of contemplative dialogue between monastics and contemplatives of other religious traditions and hoped that through such dialogue monastics would strive for inter monastic communion and a bonding of the broader spiritual family He held out hope that this bond would demonstrate the fundamental unity of humanity to a world that was becoming ever more materialistic and divided Among other themes and topics this book explores Thomas Merton s role as a pioneer of Buddhist Christian dialogue and monastic interreligious dialogue It delves into the process of Merton s self transformation through contemplative experiences explores his encounter with Zen and Tibetan Buddhists and his pioneering engagements in Buddhist Christian dialogue and presents and responds to the criticisms of those who raise questions about Merton's understanding of Buddhism. Fr. Jaechan Anselmo Park OSB articulates and analyzes the influences of Buddhist theory and practice on Thomas Merton's contemplative spirituality and shows how Merton's legacy has influenced and continues to inspire interreligious and inter-monastic dialogue particularly in an Asian monastic context.

Encounters in Yoga and Zen Trevor Leggett, 2022-09-09 Gleaned from the author's experiences over many years of yoga and Zen training as well as from conversations with teachers, folk stories and temple magazines, this is a fascinating and enlightening compendium of tales from the yoga and Zen traditions. Stories such as these are used in many spiritual schools, teaching they're the flint or steel that makes the spark which, when nurtured daily, fires the imagination, heralding enlightenment and insight.

An Inquiry into the Good Kitaro Nishida, 1992-01-29 An Inquiry into the Good, the earliest work of Kitaro Nishida, established its author as the foremost Japanese philosopher of the twentieth century. The book represents the foundation of Nishida's philosophy, which reflects both his deep study of Zen Buddhism and his thorough analysis of Western philosophy. In this important new translation, two scholars, one Japanese and one American, have worked together to present a lucid and accurate rendition of this basic work. They have also included an enlightening introduction and ample notes to aid the Western reader. Nishida sets forth the notion of pure experience. The concept that pure or direct experience precedes the separation of subject and object and is true reality. He next considers reality investigating its relation to thinking, volition and intuition. The Good, which Nishida considered to be the realization of our internal demands or ideals, is analyzed in the light of the nature of reality and pure experience. In conclusion, Nishida suggests a theory of God as the unifier of the universe and the universe as an expression of God. Throughout, he touches upon the work of Western philosophers such as Kant, Hegel, Fichte, William James and John Dewey in order to explicate his ideas. Front flap.

The Hope of Liberation in World Religions Miguel A. De La Torre, 2008 Liberation theology emphasizes the Christian mission to bring justice to the poor and oppressed. As a part of Christian theology, liberation theology has been most frequently associated with the Catholic Church in Latin America. This groundbreaking work seeks to identify how the theological concepts of liberation theology might be manifested within other world faith traditions. This is thus the first book that attempts to find a common ground for liberation theology across religions. All of the contributors are scholars who share the religion or belief system they describe. Throughout, they endeavor to articulate liberationist concepts from the perspective of those who have been marginalized.

The Authority of Experience John Pickering, 2013-12-02 This collection of writings presents contemporary views on the integration of Buddhism in the West. Over the past few decades, Buddhism has deepened its presence in the West, and as a result, teachings and practices are becoming integrated with those of Western psychology in a more productive way. The decline of mechanism and positivism offers new opportunities to bring together Western Buddhist views of the mind and its relationship to its surroundings. Written by psychologists and scholars, the essays discuss many of the difficult questions raised by Buddhism's increased presence In particular the issue of the balance between authenticity and accessibility is examined Buddhist traditions are often perceived as inaccessible and too firmly fixed to a cultural framework with some people especially women left feeling alienated and undervalued However by responding to this by attempting to synthesise Buddhism with the values of contemporary culture can lead to doubts about authenticity and dilution Examining these issues and many more the contributors seek to bring Buddhism into a realistic and informed relationship with contemporary Western thought Curators of the Buddha Donald S. Lopez Jr., Donald S. Lopez, 1995-08-15 A critical history of the study of Buddhism in the West incorporating insights of colonial and post colonial cultural studies Social political and cultural conditions that have shaped the course of Buddhist studies are discussed Teaching for Aesthetic Experience Gene Diaz, Martha McKenna, 2004 The artist educators in this book invite you to come with them on a journey of discovery into the meaning of teaching for aesthetic experience With learning as their art they create educational encounters with passion and feeling and leave their students with vivid impressions growth and change Each author engages in aesthetic experience from an individual perspective as poet dancer visual artist or musician and each of them engages as an educator who brings art into his or her classroom no matter what the subject Inspired by the words of philosopher Maxine Greene the contributors transform the theoretical into the practical urging students to look to the arts and nature for simple beauty and awaken their minds to new possibilities of creative learning Zazen Kido Inoue, 2011-02-11 The human mind is inherently free It neither affirms nor denies It is not constrained by the conflict of the opposites like right and wrong or self and others An awakened mind knows that the dynamic unity between self and others forms part of an integrated whole Having direct knowledge of this mind brings profound peace The teachings of the Buddha point the way to acquire this knowledge through direct personal experience In this intriguing and enlightening collection of stories three Zen students reflect on their personal journeys and share how their lives subsequently transformed because of the practice Under the direction of Zen Master Kido Inoue they share their doubts their difficulties their amazement and the transformations that they experienced in their lives The ultimate aim of Zen is to break out of the constraints of ego and have direct personal experience of the absolute infinity of our being It is to awaken to the truth of our nature beyond the ego In a nutshell Zen focuses on the essence of mind Embodied Cross Arata Miyamoto, 2010-07-01 The cross carries the polar memories of history One memory is the terrible violence imposed on Jesus and the other is the memory of faith in the midst of the deepest abyss in human history A theology of the cross contextualizes the dangerous combination of these memories in the present reality of life and death A theology of the cross is thoroughly preoccupied with the agency of God but not in a way that deals with the systematic apologetics of the knowledge of God It deals with the knowledge of God before it becomes knowledge It is the matter of the living and dying of our life This book explores theologians of the cross in a global flow and proposes an intercontextual perspective of theology Chinese and Buddhist Philosophy in Early Twentieth-Century German Thought Eric S. Nelson, 2017-08-24 Presenting a comprehensive portrayal of the reading of Chinese and Buddhist philosophy in early twentieth century German thought Chinese and Buddhist Philosophy in Early Twentieth Century German Thought examines the implications of these readings for contemporary issues in comparative and intercultural philosophy Through a series of case studies from the late 19th century and early 20th century Eric Nelson focuses on the reception and uses of Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism in German philosophy covering figures as diverse as Buber Heidegger and Misch He argues that the growing intertextuality between traditions cannot be appropriately interpreted through notions of exclusive identities closed horizons or unitary traditions Providing an account of the context motivations and hermeneutical strategies of early twentieth century European thinkers interpretation of Asian philosophy Nelson also throws new light on the question of the relation between Heidegger and Asian philosophy Reflecting the growing interest in the possibility of intercultural and global philosophy Chinese and Buddhist Philosophy in Early Twentieth Century German Thought opens up the possibility of a more inclusive intercultural conception of philosophy

The Measure of All Things Shlomo Giora Shoham, 2014-09-01 The Measure of All Things is the final volume in a trilogy about man as related to the genesis of the world to metaphysics and to the ontological vicissitudes of the human species This book reviews the condition of man and his relationship with the forces of evolution in both a biological and a spiritual sense It is therefore an innovative excursion into the present day arguments between the evolutionist and creationist regarding the fate of man

Journeys East Harry Oldmeadow, 2004-04-28 Journeys East tells the story of the twentieth century s encounters between East and West by exploring the lives of many of the most fascinating scientists intellectuals artists and spiritual seekers of our time

Opening New Horizons Joseph Quinn Raab, 2021-01-19 On the surface Christianity and Zen Buddhism can appear to be worlds apart even antithetical Christianity affirms the reality of the Tri personal God and the eternal salvation of mortal human beings Zen denies both the existence of God and the soul Yet Thomas Merton the Catholic spiritual master and D T Suzuki the famous teacher of Zen engaged in an extensive dialogue and found ways of mutually affirming shared meanings of God and person that each regarded to be true This book explores that dialogue within the larger context of Merton s attraction to Buddhism and considers the implications of their achievement for contemporary theologies of religious pluralism

Will and Grace Hune Margulies, 2017-11-13 This book is a poetic reading of the dialogical philosophy of martin buber my reading of martin buber takes me to this principal insight god is not in heaven nor on earth god is not above nor below not within and not without not in the soul or in the flesh god is not an entity anywhere god is the between of an i and a thou these pages are not an academic study in the strict sense my meditations in this book are not a literal description of buber s philosophy for buber would never have approved of taking his words in any way other than in dialogue buber wrote in dialogue with the reader and i read buber in the poetic philosophy of his words in other words we can say that the essential thinking in martin buber s philosophy is that the presence of god in us is always enacted as the presence of god between us god like love like poetry is a deed we do the god deed is actualized not in rituals or temples but in the practices of the sacraments of the neighbor for there is nothing we can predicate of god but we can still meet god in the embrace of the neighbor we meet god as we meet with one another in genuine relationship god is not in the relationship god is the relationship god is no thing but there is nothing that isn't god in the between of an i and a thou

The Oxford Handbook of Process Philosophy and Organization Studies Jenny Helin, Tor Hernes, Daniel Hjorth, Robin Holt, 2014-05-15 Process approaches to organization studies focus on flow activities and evolution understanding organizations and organizing as processes in the making They stand in contrast to positivist approaches that see organizations and phenomena as fixed static and measurable Process approaches draw on a range of ideas and philosophies The Handbook examines 34 philosophers and social theorists both those commonly linked to process thinking such as Whitehead Bergson and James and those that are not as often addressed from a process perspective such as Dilthey and Tarde Each chapter addresses the background and context of this thinker their work with a focus on the processual elements and the potential contribution to organization and management research For students and scholars in the field of Organization Studies this book is an entry point into the work of philosophical thinkers and social theorists for whom the world is far from being a solid place
