Encounter In Crete:

Encounter in Crete Hugo Manning, 1971-01-01 He Who Dares David Sutherland, 1998-08-12 A British Army veteran offers a glimpse of the action undertaken by special forces during World War II in this memoir With so few survivors of the Second World War military generation alive today it is extremely fortunate that men like David Sutherland recorded their experiences for posterity There can be few veterans whose contribution to victory can rival Sutherland s as readers of this superb memoir will discover Much of the action is set in the Aegean where the author served with the Special Boat Service an off shoot of the infant SAS raiding airfields on the German held islands This is really thrilling stuff made all the more moving by the author s profound and lasting admiration for the Greek resistance fighters who risked not just their lives but those of their families and entire villages by giving their support David Sutherland has written a true adventure story But it is one which raises that age old yet acutely disconcerting question When men have lived lives like this what am I doing catching the 8 15 from Woking Praise for He Who Dares If you have any interest in Special Forces the war in the Aegean or just to marvel at the courage and adaptability of that rare breed who fought in non standard formations this is a book for you Well written full of detailed stories of action but also the intimate details of a young officer with all the concerns and complexities of a dangerous job with the added responsibility for other people s lives For those of us who are armchair warriors this is essential reading of a biography from that unique breed of men Surrey Constabulary History Journal The European Outthrust and Encounter David B. Quinn, Cecil H. Clough, P. E. H. Hair, Paul Edward Hedley Hair, 1994-01-01 For half a century David Beers Quinn wrote on the history of the early relationship between England and North America This volume was presented in tribute to his meticulous and authoritative but cautious scholarship on the occasion of his 85th birthday It includes his Reflections on a lifetime of research and his bibliography But his interests in the early period of the expansion of Europe have never been limited to England or North America and this volume accordingly takes as its theme the widest historical context of the subject and period the whole European outthrust and encounter in its first phase Ten contributions by recognized scholars provide select exemplars to serve as a stimulating introduction to this vast theme Three overview essays deal with specific regions of the outthrust chosen because of differences in outcome Ethiopia the Far East and Siberia The remaining essays consider specific episodes in localities ranging from Guayana to China and their discursive echoes and are essentially concerned with a leading feature of David Quinn s scholarship the discovery examination and interpretation of sources A preliminary essay discusses the theme and links the various contributions within a framework of critical generalization Mediterranean Encounters Fariba Zarinebaf, 2018-07-24 Mediterranean Encounters traces the layered history of Galata a Mediterranean and Black Sea port to the Ottoman conquest and its transformation into a hub of European trade and diplomacy as well as a pluralist society of the early modern period Framing the history of Ottoman European encounters within the institution of ahnames commercial and diplomatic treaties this thoughtful book offers a critical perspective on the existing scholarship For too long the Ottoman empire has been defined as an absolutist military power driven by religious conviction culturally and politically apart from the rest of Europe and devoid of a commercial policy By taking a close look at Galata Fariba Zarinebaf provides a different approach based on a history of commerce coexistence competition and collaboration through the lens of Ottoman legal records diplomatic correspondence and petitions She shows that this port was just as cosmopolitan and pluralist as any large European port and argues that the Ottoman world was not peripheral to European modernity but very much part of it

Latins, Greeks and Muslims: Encounters in the Eastern Mediterranean, 10th-15th Centuries David Jacoby, 2023-05-31 Trade shipping military conquest migration and settlement in the eastern Mediterranean of the 10th 15th centuries generated multiple encounters between states social and national groups and individuals belonging to Latin Christianity Byzantium and the Islamic world The nature of these encounters varied widely depending on whether they were the result of cooperation rivalry or clashes between states the outcome of Latin conquest which altered the social and legal status of indigenous subjects or the result of economic activity They had wide ranging social and economic repercussions and shaped both individual and collective perceptions and attitudes These often differed depending upon nationality standing within the dominant or subject social strata or purely economic considerations In any event at the individual level common economic interests transcended collective national and cultural boundaries except in times of crisis The studies in this latest collection by David Jacoby explore the multiple facets of these eastern Mediterranean encounters and their impact upon individual economic activities with special attention to the other outsiders in foreign environments foreign privileged versus indigenous traders the link between governmental intervention naturalization and fiscal status as well as the interaction between markets and peasants

Venice's Intimate Empire Erin Maglaque, 2018-06-15 Mining private writings and humanist texts Erin Maglaque explores the lives and careers of two Venetian noblemen Giovanni Bembo and Pietro Coppo who were appointed as colonial administrators and governors In Venice's Intimate Empire she uses these two men and their families to showcase the relationship between humanism empire and family in the Venetian Mediterranean Maglaque elaborates an intellectual history of Venice's Mediterranean empire by examining how Venetian humanist education related to the task of governing Taking that relationship as her cue Maglaque unearths an intimate view of the emotions and subjectivities of imperial governors In their writings it was the affective relationships between husbands and wives parents and children humanist teachers and their students that were the crucible for self definition and political decision making Venice's Intimate Empire thus illuminates the experience of imperial governance by drawing connections between humanist education and family affairs From marriage and reproduction to childhood and adolescence we see how intimate life was central to the Bembo and Coppo families experience of empire Maglaque skillfully argues that it was within the intimate family that Venetians relationships to empire its politics its shifting social structures its metropolitan and colonial cultures were determined

, Heresy in the University Jacques

Berlinerblau,1999 One of the most controversial books to come out of the academy in the last fifteen years is Martin Bernal's Black Athena. It has been a true cause celebre. Afrocentrists have both praised the book and claimed that Bernal stole from the work of black scholars to create his study of the Afroasiatic roots of classical civilization. Classicists feel passionately about what they perceive as an attack from an outsider on the origins not only of ancient Greece but of their own discipline. It seems that everyone has something to say about the book; the question is how many really understand it. In Heresy in the University, Jacques Berlinerblau provides an exegesis of the contents of Black Athena, making it accessible to a wider audience. As he clarifies and restates Bernal's opus, Berlinerblau identifies Bernal's flaws in reasoning and gaps in evidence. He cuts to the heart of Bernal's prose, singling out the key points of Bernal's argument, explaining and arranging them in a cogent manner. Berlinerblau addresses the critics' really important objections, including his own, and links each of them to the appropriate substantive argument in Black Athena. He goes beyond simple summary and exposition to present the underlying stated and unstated agendas of Bernal and his critics. Ultimately, he exposes both sides and asks what the flawed reasoning from all concerned reveals about the stakes in this key academic dispute and what that in turn says about the modern academy. Jacques Berlinerblau is an assistant professor and director of Judaic studies at Hofstra University. Cretomania

Alexandre Farnoux,2017-07-05 Since its rediscovery in the early 20th century through spectacular finds such as those by Sir Arthur Evans at Knossos, Minoan Crete has captured the imagination not only of archaeologists but also of a wider public. This is shown among other things by its appearance and uses in a variety of modern cultural practices: from the innovative dances of Sergei Diaghilev and Ted Shawn to public and vernacular architecture, psychoanalysis, literature, sculpture, fashion designs, and even neo-pagan movements to mention a few examples. Cretomania is the first volume entirely devoted to such modern responses to and uses of the Minoan past. Although not an exhaustive and systematic study of the reception of Minoan Crete, it offers a wide range of intriguing examples and represents an original contribution to a thus far underexplored aspect of Minoan studies: the remarkable effects of Minoan Crete beyond the narrow boundaries of recondite archaeological research. The volume is organised in three main sections: the first deals with the conscious, unconscious, and coincidental allusions to Minoan Crete in modern architecture and also discusses archaeological reconstructions; the second presents examples from the visual and performing arts as well as other cultural practices illustrating how Minoan Crete has been enlisted to explore and challenge questions of Orientalism, religion, sexuality, and gender relations; the third focuses on literature and shows how the distant Minoan past has been used to interrogate critically more recent Greek history. Blitzkrieg to Desert Storm

Robert Michael Citino,2004 When Germany launched its blitzkrieg invasion of France in 1940, it forever changed the way the world waged war. Although the Wehrmacht ultimately succumbed to superior Allied firepower in a two-front war, its stunning operational achievement left a lasting impression on military commanders throughout the world, even if their own operations were rarely executed as effectively. Robert Citino analyzes military campaigns from the second half of the twentieth century to further demonstrate the difficulty of achieving decisive results at the operational level Offering detailed operational analyses of actual campaigns Citino describes how UN forces in Korea enjoyed technological and air superiority but found the enemy unbeatable provides analyses of Israeli operational victories in successive wars until the Arab states finally grasped the realities of operational level warfare in 1973 and tells how the Vietnam debacle continued to shape U S doctrine in surprising ways Looking beyond major power conflicts he also reveals the lessons of India s blitzkrieg like drive into Pakistan in 1971 and of the senseless bloodletting of the Iran Iraq War Citino especially considers the evolution of U S doctrine and assesses the success of Desert Storm in dismantling an entrenched defending force with virtually no friendly casualties He also provides one of the first scholarly analyses of Operation Iraqi Freedom showing that its plan was curiously divorced from the realities of military history grounded instead on nebulous theories about expected enemy behavior Throughout Citino points to the importance of mobility especially mobilized armor in modern operational warfare and assesses the respective roles of firepower training doctrine and command and control mechanisms Brimming with new insights Citino s study shows why technical superiority is no guarantee of victory and why a thorough grounding in the history of past campaigns is essential to anyone who wishes to understand modern warfare Blitzkrieg to Desert Storm provides that grounding as it addresses the future of operational level warfare in the post 9 11 era

Early Greek Epic: Language, Interpretation, Performance Christos Tsagalis, 2022-12-05 In the last fifty years major developments have taken place both in the field of Homeric studies and in the rest of early Greek epic These developments have not only created a more solid basis for studying the Homeric epics but they have also broadened our horizons with respect to the place of Homeric poetry within a larger cultural milieu The impressive advances in Hesiodic studies the more systematic approach to the Epic Cycle the more nuanced use and re evaluation of dominant twentieth century theories like Neoanalysis and Oral Theory the study of other fragmentary Greek epic the cognitive turn narratology the performance of epic poetry in the ancient and modern world the fruitful utilization of Indo European material and the widely accepted recognition of the close relation between Homer and the mythology and literature of the ancient Near East have virtually shaped anew the way we read and understand Homer Hesiod and early Greek epic The studies collected in this volume are informed by most of the aforementioned sub fields and span four research areas i Homer ii Hesiod iii the Epic Cycle d the performance of epic

Encounters and Dialogues with Martin Heidegger, 1929-1976 Heinrich Wiegand Petzet, 1993-06 Despite his predominance in twentieth century philosophy no intellectual biography of Martin Heidegger has yet appeared This account of Heidegger s personal relations originally published in German and extensively corrected by the author for this translation enlarges our understanding of a complex figure A well known art historian and an intimate friend of Heidegger s Heinrich Wiegand Petzet provides a rich portrait of Heidegger that is part memoir part biography and part cultural history By recounting chronologically a series of encounters between the two friends from their meeting in 1929 until the philosopher s death in 1976 as well as between Heidegger and other contemporaries Petzet reveals not only new aspects of Heidegger's thought and attitudes toward the historical and intellectual events of his time but also the greater cultural and social context in which he articulated his thought

Close Encounters? R.J Lambourne,M.J Shallis,M Shortland,1990-01-01 Currently science fiction in all its forms is enjoying enormous popular interest There can be no doubt that science fiction books and films have great influence on the public view of science and scientists Close Encounters examines the historical development of science fiction as a genre in books and films tracing its roots examining its most common ideas exploring its relationship to real science and attempting to assess its cultural impact Discussion focuses on major themes such as time travel politics religion ecology and disasters The authors consider the science in science fiction the images of scientists that science fiction conveys and some of the political religious and social motifs prominent in science fiction They also discuss pseudo science and its growing influence on the public perception of science This fascinating thought provoking study should be read by all those interested in how the nature of science and its role in our society is portrayed in science fiction

Unexpected Encounters Francesco Vietti,2024 Exploring different dimensions of the intersection of migration and tourism in the Mediterranean this book is the result of extensive ethnographic research carried out over a decade in the Mediterranean region It focuses on three main themes the impact of migrants visiting their country of origin for holidays called roots tourism the dynamics of the border encounters between local people tourists and migrants and how tourism has affected the cultural diversity in urban areas The book shows how migration and tourism play complementary roles in boosting the global dynamics of cultural social economic and political transformation in the Mediterranean

Intercultural Encounters Wim M. J. van Binsbergen,2003 This book brings together fifteen essays investigating aspects of interculturality Like its author it operates at the borderline between social anthropology and intercultural philosophy It seeks to make a contribution to intercultural philosophy by formulating with great precision and painful honesty the lessons deriving from extensive intercultural experiences as an anthropologist Its culminating section presents an intercultural philosophy revolving on the tenet cultures do not exist The kaleidoscopic nature of intercultural experiences is reflected in the diversity of these texts Many belong to a field that could be described as meta anthropology others are more clearly philosophical occasionally they spill over into belles lettres ancient history and comparative cultural and religious studies The ethnographic specifics supporting the arguments are diverse deriving from various African situations in which the author has conducted participatory field research Tunisia Zambia Botswana and South Africa

Encounters with Paul Ben Witherington,Ann Witherington,2024-01-19 As a New Testament character of note the Apostle Paul is second only to Jesus In this companion volume to Encounters with Jesus Ben and Ann Witherington draw on the biblical text and deep knowledge of historical context to bring alive the reactions of several contemporaries to the famous apostle and his words and deeds Here we hear from friends and companions as well as passing acquaintances and outright enemies of Paul Including many photos and illustrations this book helps us to see Paul from many vivid points of view that all up add to a compelling and revealing portrait

Encounters with Greek Art Carolyn MacDonald, 2025-03-06 Encounters with Greek Art sheds new light on the invention of ancient identities by focusing on encounters between viewers and artworks swept to Italy on the tides of Roman imperialism between 146 BCE and 117 CE Bringing globalization theory to bear on a wide range of texts and images MacDonald traces the construction and contestation of a critical nexus of categories Greek versus Roman and high culture versus low As the book moves from text to image from monumental to domestic space and from the imperial capital to the towns of Italy readers will discover how Greekness and Romanness were imagined and reimagined as contingent but powerful devices for grappling with the flux of images objects and individuals around the globalized world of the Roman empire This book is intended for scholars graduate students and advanced undergraduates interested in Greek and Latin literature Roman visual culture identity in antiquity and histories of globalization

Six Encounters with Lincoln Elizabeth Brown Pryor, 2018-02-06 Winner of the Barondess Lincoln Award from The Civil War Round Table of New York Fascinating reading this book eerily reflects some of today's key issues The New York Times Book Review From an award winning historian an engrossing look at how Abraham Lincoln grappled with the challenges of leadership in an unruly democracy An awkward first meeting with U S Army officers on the eve of the Civil War A conversation on the White House portico with a young cavalry sergeant who was a fiercely dedicated abolitionist A tense exchange on a navy ship with a Confederate editor and businessman In this eye opening book Elizabeth Brown Pryor examines six intriguing mostly unknown encounters that Abraham Lincoln had with his constituents Taken together they reveal his character and opinions in unexpected ways illustrating his difficulties in managing a republic and creating a presidency Pryor probes both the political demons that Lincoln battled in his ambitious exercise of power and the demons that arose from the very nature of democracy itself the clamorous diversity of the populace with its outspoken demands She explores the trouble Lincoln sometimes had in communicating and in juggling the multiple concerns that make up being a political leader how conflicted he was over the problem of emancipation and the misperceptions Lincoln and the South held about each other Pryor also provides a fascinating discussion of Lincoln's fondness for storytelling and how he used his skills as a raconteur to enhance both his personal and political power Based on scrupulous research that draws on hundreds of eyewitness letters diaries and newspaper excerpts Six Encounters with Lincoln offers a fresh portrait of Lincoln as the beleaguered politician who was not especially popular with the people he needed to govern with and who had to deal with the many critics naysayers and dilemmas he faced without always knowing the right answer What it shows most clearly is that greatness was not simply laid on Lincoln's shoulders like a mantle but was won in fits and starts

Elemental Encounters in the Contemporary Irish Novel Claire McGrail Johnston, 2019-12-19 The underlying premise of this book is that reading is touching Words leap out of their beds and pierce flesh like a knife Storytelling breathes within the dynamic of encounters with air fire earth and water

permeated by emotion imagination and touch These ideas are contextualized within ancient community rituals social justice gatherings pedagogical practices and map making The four elements are retrieved from exile as imaginative corporeal and generative substances that operate within stories like medicine bundles Reading becomes a Deleuzian enterprise of health a challenging experience that grasps Paulo Freire's generative themes and is simultaneously thought provoking and valuable The capacious literary space capable of housing this sensual ferment is the novel More verb than noun the novel is an elemental bundle that engages with flesh in all its manifestations This book spotlights Irish novels by John Banville and Mary Morrissy exploring how they revitalise the elements with sensual social and tactile textures Mediterranean Encounters in the City Michela Ardizzoni, Valerio Ferme, 2015-12-03 This book documents and analyzes how the contemporary Mediterranean city manages and negotiates its identity as a result of recent reconfigurations in its cultural religious and social landscape The events of Sept 11 2001 have recast difference as a central trope of identification in urban borderland settings unleashing heated debates about cultural convergences and animating anxieties about an arguable clash of civilizations in modern cities These emerging uncertainties have also grown stronger as the homogenizing forces of globalization unsettle essential principles of the nation state and nationhood and render fixed perceptions of distinctive and singular people and cultures more tenuous Recent scholarship and public discourse have accordingly framed discussions of these encounters around concerns of geo political security and international policy Unfortunately framed within these terms our understanding of how various groups within the Mediterranean metropolis deal with the intensification of difference as a lived experience has remained regrettably thin This volume transcends this limitation and explores new interdisciplinary research paradigms that will help us gain a comprehensive perspective on how complex macro and micro tensions contradictions and similarities are negotiated in building urban identities in the Mediterranean basin The contributors to this volume explore the multi faceted nature of Mediterranean cities and engage a critical discussion of identity production and consumption in the Mediterranean basin By spanning two centuries and examining both the Northern and Southern shores of the Mediterranean the chapters in this book provide a broad and comprehensive investigation of the ways in which recent cultural productions have framed and re imagined the Mediterranean city as a locus of departures arrivals and contested belonging By focusing on cinema photography new media magazines music and literature as different stages for the performative representation of Mediterraneity the authors highlight the vibrancy of the intercultural discourses taking place along the shores of the mare nostrum and provide new perspectives from which to explore the relationship between North and South East and West
