Encountering Myself Contemporary Christian Meditations:

Encountering Myself Harry J. Cargas, 1978 Contemporary Christianity and LGBT Sexualities Stephen Hunt, 2016-05-13 The subject of gay and lesbian sexuality is perhaps the most vexed issue in the contemporary Christian Church Many churches have been forced to confront the matter both theologically and pastorally and in consequence controversies have proved divisive within the Church most notably between conservative and liberal orientated denominations as well as evangelical churches This book explores these themes from a sociological perspective addressing not only gay and lesbian sexualities but also bi and transgendered sexualities With rich empirical material being presented by a team of experts this book constitutes the first comprehensive sociological study of non hetero sexualities in relation to contemporary Christianity As such it will appeal to sociologists scholars of religion and theology as well as readers across a range of social sciences Encountering Others, Understanding Ourselves in Medieval and Early Modern Thought Nicolas Faucher, Virpi Mäkinen, 2022-12-05 Recent research has challenged our view of the Abrahamic religious traditions as unilaterally intolerant and incapable of recognizing otherness in all its diversity and richness but a diachronic and comparative study of how these traditions deal with otherness is yet to appear This volume aims to contribute to such a study by presenting different treatments of otherness in medieval and early modern thought Part I Altruism deals with attitudes and behaviors that benefit others regardless of its motives We deal with the social rights and emotions as well as the moral obligations that the very existence of other human beings whatever their characteristics creates for a community Part II Religious recognition and toleration considers identity toleration and mutual recognition created by the existence of religious or ethnic otherness in a given social religious or political community Part III Evil deals with religious otherness that is considered evil and rejected such as heretics and malevolent demonic entities. The volume will ultimately inform the reader on the nature of religious toleration including beliefs and doctrines even emotions as well as of the self definition of religious communities when encountering and defining otherness in different ways

Encounters of Body and Soul in Contemporary Religious Practices Anna Fedele, Ruy Llera Blanes, 2011-09-01 Social scientists and philosophers confronted with religious phenomena have always been challenged to find a proper way to describe the spiritual experiences of the social group they were studying The influence of the Cartesian dualism of body and mind or soul led to a distinction between non material spiritual experiences i e related to the soul and physical mechanical experiences i e related to the body However recent developments in medical science on the one hand and challenges to universalist conceptions of belief and spirituality on the other have resulted in body and soul losing the reassuring solid contours they had in the past Yet in Western culture the body soul duality is alive not least in academic and media discourses This volume pursues the ongoing debates and discusses the importance of the body and how it is perceived in contemporary religious faith what happens when body and soul are un separated entities Is it possible even for anthropologists and ethnographers to escape from natural dualism The contributors here present research in novel empirical contexts the benefits and limits of the old dichotomy are discussed and new theoretical strategies proposed Faith and Thought,1980 When God and Man Failed Harry J. refined understanding of religious experience in view of contemporary theological epistemology Diverse sample studies taken from the extensive field of religion theology and religious studies reveal that religious experience is today clearly a pivotal issue More specifically this is made evident in modern theological hermeneutics and in the anti modern and or post modern reactions thereto the theology of world religions and inter religious dialogue the contemporary resurgence of religiosity in Western society and culture and the so called turn to religion in contemporary continental philosophy It would appear from such studies that the category of religious experience is frequently called upon to clarify or explain the phenomenon of religion and religiosity on the one hand and to support and legitimise religious positions or the critique thereof on the other Because of the loss of plausibility of tradition bound religiosity and of foundational so called onto theological schemes religious experience has come to constitute for many the last or latest point of departure and anchor for religion and religious thinking This is certainly the case with respect to tendencies within contemporary Christian traditions and theological reflection In a multitude of ways and from a variety of different perspectives religious experience and experience of transcendence or of the divine have gained a prominent place in philosophical and fundamental theological conceptual schemes In reaction to this other authors have denied the very primacy given to religious experience in reflecting upon faith pointing to the constitutive role of tradition and narrative without which there is no religious experience From all this follows that the category of religious experience is in great need of reconceptualisation not least from a theological point of view On the one hand religious experience is all too easily called upon to legitimise religious claims often against tradition and on the other hand the category has become misleading in so far as it is tainted by the modern scientific understanding of experience in reaction to which tradition is then easily invoked to protect the core of religion Both young scholars at the preceding junior conference and senior scholars during the conference s paper sessions presented from diverse perspectives new ways to conceive of religious experience in view of today s challenges of secularisation religious plurality the aestheticisation of religion etc The selected contributions have been arranged in four thematically oriented parts Approaching Religious Experience in a Postmodern Age Modern re Thinking of Religious Experience Liberating Religious Experience and Encounters of the Children of Abraham from Ancient to Modern Times Antii Challenges for Spirituality Laato, Pekka Lindqvist, 2010-09-14 The 16 contributions to this volume written by scholars from various fields of religious studies lead the reader to comprehend the plurality of interreligious encounters hostile yet also peaceful between the Children of Abraham i e Judaism Christianity and Islam Scripture, Reason, and the Contemporary Islam-West Encounter S. Kepnes, B. Koshul, 2007-08-06 The unique essays in this collection use the underlying allegiance to scripture in Islam Judaism and Christianity to underscore the deep affinities between the three monotheistic traditions while at the same time encouraging respect for the differences between the traditions to be preserved Early Modern Encounters with the Islamic East Sabine Schülting, Sabine Lucia Müller, Ralf Hertel, 2016-04-29 An exploration of early modern encounters between Christian Europe and the Islamic East from the perspective of performance studies and performativity theories this collection focuses on the ways in which these cultural contacts were acted out on the real and metaphorical stages of theatre literature music diplomacy and travel The volume responds to the theatricalization of early modern politics to contemporary anxieties about the tension between religious performance and belief to the circulation of material objects in intercultural relations and the eminent role of theatre and drama for the re imagination and negotiation of cultural difference Contributors examine early modern encounters with and in the East using an innovative combination of literary and cultural theories They stress the contingent nature of these contacts and demonstrate that they can be read as moments of potentiality in which the future of political and economic relations as well as the players cultural religious and gender identities are at stake Oxford Handbook of Meditation Miquel Farias, David Brazier, Mansur Lalljee, 2021 A state of the art guide to meditation science and history its facts and myths Covers the development of meditation practices across the world exploring how the varieties of meditation techniques were created in different cultural and religious contexts Explores ethical social and religious implications and discusses controversial topics Book jacket Interrogating the Language of "Self" and "Other" in the History of Modern Christian Mission Man-Hei Yip, 2020-08-05 This book offers a critical analysis of the use of language in mission studies Language and Christian missionary activity intersect in complicated ways to objectify the other in cross cultural situations Rethinking missiological language is both urgent and necessary to subvert narratives that continue to fetishize the other as cultural stereotypes. The project takes a step forward to reconceptualize otherness as gift and such an affirmation should create a pathway for human flourishing and furthermore open new avenues for missiological exploration to address issues arising from a world dominated by bigoted discourses lies and hate speech Jesus, Encountering Scripture David Crump, 2013-05-26 Personal experiential faith is seldom given a seat at the table of academic theology and biblical studies David Crump however with the assistance of Sren Kierkegaard's religious philosophy claims that authentic understanding and thus authentic Christian commitment can only arise from the personal commitment that is faith Examining the various biblical historical cultural theological and academic hurdles demanding a truly Kierkegaardian leap of faith before one can meet the resurrected Jesus Crump's Encountering Jesus Encountering Scripture provides a very insightful discussion of key New Testament texts and issues revealing how Truth is discovered only through the subjectivity of faith Books in Print ,1979 Tragic Encounters Page Smith, 2015-11-01 Page Smith was one of America's greatest historians After studying with Samuel Eliot Morison at Harvard Smith went on to a distinguished academic career that culminated with him being the founding Provost of Cowell College the first college of the new campus of the University of California at Santa Cruz But he made his mark with a history of the United States published in eight volumes each volume carrying the subtitle A People's History of the United States These were ground braking histories composed as a long continuous narrative loosely organized around the themes present in each age or period There were sourced almost entirely in contemporaneous accounts of the events covered and they set the ground for a whole new approach to history that perhaps culminated in the work of Howard Zinn During the last years of his life Smith concentrated on composing a history of Native Americans after the first European contact This manuscript was discovered unpublished after his death Using his wonderful technique of narrative discovering in the events of each period the thematic overview of that period he again turns to contemporaneous documents to provide the structure and substance of his story From Jamestown to Wounded Knee the story of these Native peoples from coast to coast is explored granting these oppressed and nearly destroyed people a chance to tell their own broad story We know of no other similar attempt and this book will surely caution and intrigue readers as they are offered a new slant on a very old subject Encounters with the World's Religions Brad Karelius, 2015-05-15 A spectacular stretch of earth the Eastern Sierra region of California reveals volcanic reefs desert sand dunes majestic mountains and snow fed lakes and rivers Drawing on forty years of college teaching on the world s religions Professor Brad Karelius is your guide uncovering deep spiritual dimensions in this achingly beautiful place This book shares crystallizations of religious wisdom collected through the ages and finely tuned descriptions of holy sites which you may visit that will draw you deeper in your personal encounters with world spiritualities
