Play It Again, Sam Andrew Horton, Stuart Y. McDougal, 2024-03-29 This title was originally published in 1998 Play It Again Sam is a timely investigation of a topic that until now has received almost no critical attention in film and cultural studies the cinematic remake As cinema enters its second century more remakes are appearing than ever before and these writers consider the full range Hollywood films that have been recycled by Hollywood such as The Jazz Singer Cape Fear and Robin Hood foreign films including Breathless and Three Men and a Baby which Hollywood has reworked for American audiences and foreign films based on American works among them Yugoslav director Emir Kusturica's Time of the Gypsies which is a makeover of Coppola's Godfather films As these essays demonstrate films are remade by other films Alfred Hitchcock went so far as to remake his own The Man Who Knew Too Much and by other media as well The editors and contributors draw upon narrative film and cultural theories and consider gender genre and psychological issues presenting the remake as a special artistic form of repetition with a difference and as a commercial product aimed at profits in the marketplace The remake flourishes at the crossroads of the old and the new the known and the unknown Play It Again Sam takes the reader on an eye opening tour of this hitherto unexplored territory This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1998
