Doria Shafik Egyptian Feminist : A Woman apart Cynthia Nelson, 1996 Cynthia Nelson brings to life a bold and gifted Egyptian of the mid twentieth century who helped define what it means to be a modern Arab woman Doria Shafik 1908 1975 an Egyptian feminist poet publisher and political activist participated in one of her country's most explosive periods of social and political transformation During the 40s she burst onto the public stage in Egypt openly challenging every social cultural and legal barrier that she viewed as oppressive to the full equality of women As the founder of the Daughters of the Nile Union in 1948 she catalyzed a movement that fought for suffrage and set up programs to combat illiteracy provide economic opportunities for lower class urban women and raise the consciousness of middle class university students She also founded and edited two prominent women's journals wrote books in both French and Arabic lectured throughout the world married and raised two children For a decade she ignited the imagination of the press where she was variously described as the perfumed leader a danger to the Muslim nation a traitor to the revolution and the only man in Egypt Then in 1957 following her hunger strike in protest against the populist regime of Gamal Abdul Nasser she was placed under house arrest Within months her magazines folded her name was officially banned from the press and she entered a long period of seclusion that ended with her suicide in 1975 With the cooperation of Shafik's daughters who made available her three impressionistic unpublished and sometimes contradictory memoirs Nelson has uncovered Shafik's story and brings the life and achievements of this remarkable woman to a Western audience Brilliantly re-creates the untold story of Doria Shafik the most impressive exponent of liberal Egyptian feminism Magically the delicately sketched background gives the reader a wonderful sense of the sweep of modern Egyptian history The effect is mesmerizing Raymond W Baker Williams College A compelling story beautifully written Jacqueline S Ismail University of Calgary

Changing and Unchanging Face of U.S. Civil Society Marcella Ridlen Ray, 2017-12-02 Ray has written a book that should be read by anyone interested in the current debates about the general health of civil society in the United States American Journal of Sociology The formation maintenance and well being of American civil society is a topic of intense debate in the social sciences Until now this debate has lacked rigor with the term civil society commonly used interchangeably and imprecisely with other terms such as civic engagement Today s discourse also lacks methodological discipline and relies too heavily on narrowly selected evidence in support of a particular argument In this invaluable contribution to the debate Marcella Ridlen Ray supplies an empirical study based on a theoretical model of democratic civil society one that posits high levels of communication diversity autonomy mediation and voluntary association In Ray s account the emergent story of U S civil society is that of a dynamic institution not necessarily one that is linear in its progression It is a tale of flux resilience and stability over the long term that is consistent with subtexts on political equilibrium she notes in the work of early political analysts such as Aristotle Machiavelli Locke Burke and later Tocqueville Ray dispels the widely accepted myth that Americans are increasingly apathetic and withdrawn from common interests The evidence reveals a persistence of long standing public spiritedness despite the fact that individuals use wider discretion in deciding if and how to attach to community and despite a historical lack of enthusiasm for performing civic duties in lieu of more pleasurable leisure activity This public spiritedness continues to reflect embedded religious cultural values that disproportionately influence how and when people dedicate time and money to associational life U S civil society has grown more inclusive and democratic as Americans venture at growing rates across differences in perspective
