New Perspectives in Diasporic Experience Connie Rapoo, Maria Luisa Coelho, Zahira Sarwar, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 Taking a transcultural and interdisciplinary approach to Diaspora studies New Perspectives in Diasporic Experience offers a wide range of new and challenging perspectives on Diaspora and confirms the relevance of this field to the discussion of contemporary forms of identity construction movement settlement membership and collective identification This volume investigates constructions of diasporic identity from a variety of temporal and spatial contexts They explore encounters between diasporic communities and host societies and examine how diasporic experiences can contribute to perpetuating or challenging normalised perceptions of the Other The authors discuss how visual and literary representations become an integral part of diasporic experiences and identities Other themes examined include communities attempts to reverse the negative effects of Diaspora and maintain cultural continuity as well as generational differences and dialogue within the Diaspora and the power that individuals have to negotiate marginal identities in diasporic settings The Commonwealth Review, 2007

Voices Rising Xiaoping Li, 2011-11-01 In the late twentieth century Western multicultural societies wrestled with questions of cultural difference identity and otherness In Canada activists from racialized communities took leading roles in the struggle over Canadian identity Voices Rising examines Asian Canadian political and cultural activism around community building identity making racial equity and social justice Informed by a postcolonial and postmodern cultural critique Voices Rising traces the trajectory of progressive cultural discourse generated by Asian Canadian cultural activists over the course of several generations Xiaoping Li draws on historical sources and personal testimonies to convincingly demonstrate how culture acts as a means of engagement with the political and social world As an interdisciplinary inquiry addressing topical issues of race ethnicity identity and transculturalism Voices Rising will be welcomed by scholars researchers and students in Canadian studies cultural studies ethnic histories postcolonial theory globalization studies diaspora theory and transcultural analysis The general reader interested in Canadian identity and cultural history will also find this book accessible and useful

Indian Diaspora, 2008-01-01 Indian Diaspora Social Gerontology Nursing Multiculturalism Education In historic and ethnographic accounts of Indians living in diaspora the elderly seem to receive much less attention than the new generation and its progress prosperity and success Using critical pedagogy approach this book attempts to close that gap by focusing on the voices of the Punjabi Bengali Sindhi and Gujarati diasporic Indians elderly living in five countries Learning to listen to the voices of these seniors may enable professors teachers students policy makers and parents to work towards building democratic societies     Studies in Third World Societies ,1986     Fractured Identity Sushma Varma,Radhika Seshan,2003 Contributed papers presented at a two day workshop held at the University of Pune in February 2002 sponsored by the CSP     Painting the Maple Veronica Jane Strong-Boag,1998 Painting the Maple explores the critical interplay of race and gender in shaping Canadian culture history politics and healthcare These interdisciplinary essays draw on feminist postcolonial and critical theory in a wide ranging discussion that encompasses both high and popular forms of culture the deliberation of policy and its execution and social movements as well as individual authors and texts The contributors who come from many fields establish connections among discourses of race gender and nation building that have conditioned the formation of Canada for more than one hundred years They analyze ways in which these elements have participated in and contributed to exclusionary practices and policies such as marginalization of women and racialized groups Together their essays paint a picture of a nation that privileges whiteness masculinity and Christianity This book gathers many insights on the construction of Canada hitherto scattered in the literature It will be of interest to feminist scholars and others concerned with issues of race and gender At times provocative Painting the Maple illuminates the challenges that lie ahead for all Canadians who aspire to create a better future in a reimagined nation     The Sikh Next Door Manpreet J Singh,2021-12-30 The Sikhs have been a people in transition Unwanted displacements willing movements and a changing world have led them through demographic occupational and experiential shifts While this has led to the evolution of new facets within the community it has also evoked mixed responses from outside As new generations of Sikhs engage with the world through sensibilities defined by their contemporary contexts they find themselves constructed in images dissonant with their lived realities The Sikh Next Door An Identity in Transition traces these changes while also making an incisive analysis of old stereotypes some heroic some menacing and some farcical It simultaneously brings into focus the real people behind these images their varying social stances and their collective commitment to a common religious identity The work attempts to reframe the Sikhs bending a few existing narratives and offering an impetus for a more nuanced understanding of the community     Thresholds in Feminist Geography John Paul Jones,Heidi J. Nast,Susan M. Roberts,1997 This innovative collection explores the concept of space as it relates to feminist studies Utilizing a range of theoretical perspectives a distinguished group of international scholars crosses over the thresholds of difference methodology and representation that challenge feminist geography     Performing Qualitative Cross-Cultural Research Pranee Liamputtong,2010-04-01 Cross cultural research is rife with ethical and methodological challenges but despite the increased demand for such research discussions on culturally sensitive methodologies are still largely neglected Consequently researchers often find themselves faced with difficulties but lack information on how to deal with them This text provides an in depth discussion on how to perform qualitative research in cross cultural contexts with an emphasis on a more ethical sensible and responsible approach Pranee Liamputtong suggests culturally sensitive and appropriate research methods that would work well with cultural groups She offers thought provoking perspectives and diverse cultural examples which will be of value to both novice and experienced cross cultural researchers Throughout the volume there are references to the excellent work of many cross cultural researchers who have paved the way in different social and cultural settings The Lived Experience of South Asian Immigrant Women in Atlantic Canada Helen Ralston,1996 This study has made use of historical records census data and in depth interviews with 120 first generation women to generate a detailed portrayal of the demographics of South Asian women immigrants and their lived experiences The text begins with a discussion of the major theoretical issues in studying South Asian women in Canada and the impact of Canadian immigration policy on this group of women It goes on to provide a profile of these women and their socio demographic context of their everyday lives in three domains work in the home work outside the home and participation in community organizations notably religious and cultural organizations Immigrant Women in Atlantic Canada Evangelia Tastsoglou,Peruvemba S. Jaya,2011 At last an in depth exploration of immigrant women s experiences in the labour force family and broader community in Atlantic Canada Highlighting feminist research on women and gender based analyses the collection focuses on the intersections of gender with race ethnicity and class

Nation-Building, Education and Culture in India and Canada K. Gayithri,B. Hariharan,Suchorita Chattopadhyay,2019-09-10 This volume provides comparative perspectives on issues related to education culture sustainable development and nation building in India and Canada It takes cognizance of current research in Indo Canadian comparative studies and is meant to facilitate further research in these areas It importantly highlights the trends and growth areas in comparative social science and humanities research between the countries The chapters in this volume discuss the research that scholars have recently undertaken in both countries and the impact that such comparative research has on developing partnerships learning methodologies and socio cultural narratives that empower interdisciplinary research The chapter authors take up important issues related to community college development mental health in education multilingual education indigenous populations and their education and development They discuss issues related to bilateral and foreign trade agreements as well as policies of the two countries on climate change research Lastly they discuss indigenous performance cultures and sports in the two countries and the long history of migration from India to Canada The volume is of interest to a wide readership from the humanities and social sciences particularly readers interested in Indo Canadian scholarship The Sikh Diaspora in Vancouver Kamala Elizabeth Nayar,2004-01-01 The result of an exhaustive analysis of the beliefs and attitudes among three generations of the Sikh community and having conducted over 100 interviews Nayar highlights differences and tensions with regards to the role of familial relations child rearing and religion Religion, Identity and Change Simon Coleman,Peter Collins,2017-03-02 Religion is of enduring importance in the lives of many people yet the religious landscape has been dramatically transformed in recent decades Established churches have been challenged by eastern faiths revivals of Christian and Islamic fundamentalism and the eclectic spiritualities of the New Age Religion has long been regarded by social scientists and psychologists as a key source of identity formation ranging from personal conversion experiences to collective association with fellow believers This book addresses the need for a reassessment of issues relating to identity in the light of current transformations in society as a whole and religion in particular Drawing together case studies from many different expressions of faith and belief Hindu Muslim Roman Catholic Anglican New Age leading scholars ask how contemporary religions or spiritualities respond to the challenge of forming individual and collective identities in a nation context marked by secularisation and postmodern decentring of culture as well as religious revitalisation The book focuses on Britain as a context for religious change but asks important questions that are of universal significance for those studying religion How is personal and collective identity constructed in a world of multiple social and cultural influences What role can religion play in creating reinforcing or even transforming such identity

International Handbook of Student Experience in Elementary and Secondary School D. Thiessen, Alison Cook-Sather, 2007-06-03 The International Handbook of Student Experience in Elementary and Secondary School brings together in a single volume the groundbreaking work of scholars who have conducted studies of student experiences of school in Afghanistan Australia Canada England Ghana Ireland Pakistan and the United States Drawing extensively on students interpretations of their experiences in school as expressed in their own words chapter authors offer insight into how students conceptualize and approach school understand and address the ongoing social opportunities for and challenges in working with other students and teachers and the multiple ways in which they shape and contribute to school improvement The individual chapters are framed by an opening chapter which provides background on bases of and trends in research on students experiences of school and a final chapter which uses the interpretive framework translation provided to explore how researching students experiences of school challenges those involved to translate their qualitative research methods the terms they evoke to describe and define students experiences of schools and in fact themselves as researchers

Psychological Perspectives on Stress and Health Girishwar Misra, 1999 Identity and Language Learning Bonny Norton, 2013-10-04 Identity and Language Learning draws on a longitudinal case study of immigrant women in Canada to develop new ideas about identity investment and imagined communities in the field of language learning and teaching Bonny Norton demonstrates that a poststructuralist conception of identity as multiple a site of struggle and subject to change across time and place is highly productive for understanding language learning Her sociological construct of investment is an important complement to psychological theories of motivation The implications for language teaching and teacher education are profound Now including a new comprehensive Introduction as well as an Afterword by Claire Kramsch this second edition addresses the following central questions Under what conditions do language learners speak listen read and write How are relations of power implicated in the negotiation of identity How can teachers address the investments and imagined identities of learners The book integrates research theory and classroom practice and is essential reading for students teachers and researchers in the fields of language learning and teaching TESOL applied linguistics and literacy This book is open access under a CC BY ND licence
