

The Christian Encounter with Other Faiths

- Christianity was born into a religiously plural world
 - Early encounters with paganisms, and other salvation faiths, Orphic Mysteries, Mithraism
 - Mixed relationships: positive and negative
- In the C4th – C5th CE the world of Christian Europe became increasingly mono-traditional
 - Other faiths were 'banned'
 - Contact with paganisms as Christianity spread – conversion
 - Significant tendency to 'adopt' other faiths
- In the Middle Ages the only other significant 'religions' were Islam and Judaism
 - Jews were seen as those who had not recognized their messiah and as guilty of deicide
 - Muhammad was believed to have been an embittered Cardinal, and hence was simply another heretical wing of Christianity
- From C18th, but especially C19th, growing knowledge of other faiths
 - Various patterns as to how to respond
 - Generally, missionary response, but this could lead to appreciation

Encounter Christianity Mixed Pack:

God's Feet or the Mission's Pack Donkey Hans-Martin Milk, 2022-12-15 The title of this book originates from the self description of Namibian Evangelists in their own words African evangelists of the Rhenish Mission Society RMS played a crucial but mostly overlooked role in shaping the spiritual and social networks that transformed indigenous communities from the early nineteenth century The author draws from a wide range of German Namibian and South African archival sources that have been supplemented with a large number of interviews to explore the history of the indigenous evangelists of the RMS African supporters were often the first heralds of the new religion at remote villages and cattle posts before the white strangers made an appearance The Namibian evangelists familiarity with the traditional culture and the local vernacular endowed them with a credibility that many of the European newcomers found difficult to acquire By interweaving mission and church history between 1820 and 1990 with a biographical approach the author brings a hidden chapter in Namibian history to life

Mission and Context Jione Havea, 2020-06-30 Mission is contrived from and performed over lived contexts but the visions that guide and drive mission are oftentimes blinded by power position protection and plenitude This collection visits those matters with queering attention to the shadows that empires cast over the contexts of mission and to the collusion and complicity of Christians and churches with empires past as in the case of Rome and present as in the case of the United States of America In the interests of those in mission fields who survived but continue to agonize under the burdens of empires the contributors to this work dare to re vision the course and cause of mission Writing from minoritized settings in Africa Asia the Americas and Oceania the authors interweave the principles and practices of mission with the opportunities in decolonial theology and hermeneutics minoritized and migrant Christologies repatriation and the courage to get up and get out indigenous insights and wisdom mission archives stories of resistance and endurance in zones of contact and violence restless souls and returning spirits and life centered spiritual encounters In Mission and Context as with previous volumes in this series empires do not have the final word nor are they the final world

The Western Christian Advocate ,1900 Jesus Imandars and Christ Bhaktas Jonas Adelin Jørgensen,2008 The massive changes of Christianity during the 20th century raise the perennial question about its identity in a new radical form The author addresses the question of identity and asks how globalisation religious pluralism and the polycentric nature of Christianity affect Christian self identification and theological reflection First religious life and theological reflection among believers in Jesus from Muslim and Hindu background in South Asia is presented in two empirical studies Secondly the findings are analysed and interpreted within a broad theoretical framework drawing on models for syncretistic processes from history of religions cultural anthropology and Christian theology Finally the study concludes with a systematic theological perspective on the interreligious hermeneutics underlying the changes of Christianity and discusses how interreligious hermeneutics might inform missiology as well as Christian theologies of religions and how this might challenge our understanding of the church s nature and mission In conclusion it is argued that a global polycentric Christianity can be interpreted as fellowship created by the Spirit and centred on Christ Christian Register and Boston Observer... ,1886 T.P.'s and Cassell's Weekly ,1926
