Encountering Medieval Textiles and Dress D. Koslin, 2016-04-30 In this wide ranging study of costume history contributors explore fashion textiles and the representation of clothing in the middle ages Essays combine the perspectives of archaeology art history economics religion costume history material culture and literary criticism and explore materials from England France the Low Countries Scandinavia Germany Italy and Ireland The collection focuses on multiple aspects of textiles and dress their making meaning and representation and explores the impact of international trade and other forms of cultural exchange Picturing the 'Pregnant' Magdalene in Northern Art, 1430-1550 Professor Penny Howell

Jolly, 2014-01-01 Examining innovations in Mary Magdalene imagery including her dress in northern art 1430 to 1550 Penny Jolly explores how the saint's widespread popularity drew upon her ability to embody oppositions and embrace a range of paradoxical roles sinner prostitute and saint erotic seductress and holy prophet Analyzing paintings by Rogier van der Weyden Quentin Massys and others Jolly investigates artists and audiences responses to increasing religious tensions expanding art markets and changing roles for women The Poems of Oswald Von Wolkenstein Albrecht

Classen, 2008-12-08 This book offers the first complete English translation of the poems by the late medieval German Tyrolean Oswald von Wolkenstein 1376 1377 1445 Oswald von Wolkenstein was one of the leading poets of his time and created some of the most exciting experimental and also deeply religious conservative poetry of the entire Middle Ages and far beyond German scholarship and musicologists have long recognized the extraordinary strength and power of Oswald's Middle High German songs both in terms of his poetic imagery and his musical performance This book proves Oswald's work to be one of the most idiosyncratic and individualistic in the entire late Middle Ages Classen reveals how Oswald continued the medieval tradition yet was a true innovator exploring new attitudes toward love sexuality travel war politics language music and above all his own individuality Chaucer's Jobs D. Carlson, 2016-04-30 Geoffrey Chaucer was not a writer primarily but a privileged official place holder Prone to violence including rape assault and extortion the poet was employed first at domestic personal service and subsequently at police work of various sorts protecting the established order during a period of massive social upset Chaucer's Jobs shows that the servile and disciplinary nature of the daily work Chaucer did was repeated in his poetry which by turns flatters his aristocratic betters and deals out discipline to malcontent others Carlson contends that it was this social political quality of Chaucer's writings not artistic merit that made him the Father of English Poetry The Dogaressa of Venice, 1200-1500 H. Hurlburt, 2016-09-27 This book focuses on the identity and public personae of the dogaressa wives of the elected doges of medieval and early modern Venice The study traces the evolution of the public functions of the group of quasi royal wives rare for their visibility during Venice's development into a regional economic and political power American Chaucers C. Barrington, 2016-04-30 This study provides extensive readings of overlooked American reconstructions of Chaucer and The Canterbury Tales from the colonial to postmodern periods demonstrating how these repackagings convey uniquely American ideas Hildegard of Bingen's Unknown Language S. Higley, 2007-12-09 The Lingua Ignota brought forth by the twelfth century German nun Hildegard of Bingen provides 1012 neologisms for praise of Church and new expression of the things of her world Noting her visionary metaphors her music and various medieval linguistic philosophies Higley examines how the Unknown Language makes arid signifiers green again This text however is too often seen in too narrow a context glossolalia angelic language secret code Higley provides an edition and English translation of its glosses in the Riesencodex with assistance from the Berlin MS but also places it within a history of imaginary language making from medieval times to the most contemporary projects in efforts to uncover this woman's bold involvement in an intellectual and creative endeavor that spans centuries England and Iberia in the Middle Ages, 12th-15th Century M. Bullón-Fernandez, María Bullón-Fernández, 2007-03-19 This groundbreaking interdisciplinary collection of essays by American British and Iberian scholars examines the literary historical and artistic exchanges between England and Iberia from the Twelfth to Fifteenth century Visual Culture and the German Middle Ages K. Starkey, 2016-04-30 This multi disciplinary collection of essays draws on various theoretical approaches to explore the highly visual nature of the Middle Ages and expose new facets of old texts and artefacts The term visual culture has been used in recent years to refer to modern media theory film modern art and other contemporary representational forms and functions But this emphasis on visuality is not only a modern phenomenon Discourses on visual processes pervade the works of medieval secular poets theologians and scholastics alike The Middle Ages was a highly visual society in which images objects and performance played a dominant communicative and representational role in both secular and religious areas of society The essays in this volume which present various perspectives on medieval visual culture provide a critical historical basis for the study of visuality and visual processes Cultural Studies of the Modern Middle Ages E. Joy, M. Seaman, K. Bell, M. Ramsey, 2007-12-09 This volume brings together contemporary popular entertainment current political subjects and medieval history and culture to investigate the intersecting and often tangled relations between politics aesthetics reality and fiction in relation to issues of morality identity social values power and justice both in the past and the present Was the Bayeux Tapestry Made in France? G. Beech, 2016-09-23 This book presents the hypothesis that the Bayeux tapestry long believed to have been made in England came from the Loire valley in France from the abbey of St Florent of Saumur This is based on a number of different kinds of evidence the most important of which is signs of a St Florent Breton influence in the portrayal of the Breton campaign in the tapestry about a tenth of the whole Queer Love in the Middle Ages Anna Klosowska Roberts, 2016-05-24 Queer Love in the Middle Ages points out queer themes in the works of the French canon including Perceval the Romance of the Rose and the Roman d'Eneas It brings out less known works that prominently feature same sex themes Yde and Olive a romance with a cross dressed heroine who marries a princess and many others The book combines an interest in contemporary French theory Kristeva Barthes psychoanalysis with a close reading of medieval texts It discusses important recent publications in pre modern queer studies in the US It is the first major contribution to queer studies in medieval French literature Commerce Before Capitalism in Europe, 1300-1600 Martha C. Howell, 2010-04-12 Later generations have sometimes found such actions perplexing often dismissing them as evidence that business people of the late medieval and early modern worlds did not fully understand market rules

The Church in the Early Middle Ages G.R. Evans, 2007-03-28 The creation of a new history of the Church at the beginning of the third millennium is an ambitious but necessary project Perhaps nowhere is it needed more than in re describing the Church s development its life and its thinking in the period that followed the end of the early Church in antiquity The cultural social and political dominance of Christendom in what we now call the West from about 600 1300 made the Christian Church a shaper of the modern world in respects which go far beyond its religious influence Writing with her customary authority and with a magisterial grasp of the original sources G R Evans brings this formative era vividly to life both for the student of religious history and general reader She concentrates as much on the colourful human episodes of the time as on broader institutional and intellectual developments The result is a compelling and thoroughly modern introduction to devotional and theological thought in the early Middle Ages as well as to ecclesiastical and pastoral life at large

Medievalism and Orientalism J. Ganim, 2016-04-30 This unique study traces fundamental parallels between medieval European and Middle Eastern cultures By examining sources in cultural history literature and architecture this book reveals mutual influences evident in the development of the current conception of the Middle Ages

The Middle Ages at Work K. Robertson, M. Uebel, 2016-04-30 This timely volume examines the commitments of historicism in the wake of New Historicism It contributes to the construction of a materialist historicism while at the same time proposing that discussions of work need not be limited to the clash between labour and capital To this end the essays offer more than a strictly historical view of the complex terms social and literary within which labour was treated in the medieval period Several of the essays strive to reformulate the very critical language we use to think about the categories of labour and work through a continually doubled engagement with modern theories of labour and medieval theories and practices of labour

Borges the Unacknowledged Medievalist M. Toswell, 2014-11-07 The Argentinian writer and poet Jorge Luis Borges 1899 1986 was many things during his life but what has gone largely unnoticed is that he was a medievalist and his interest in Germanic medievalism was pervasive throughout his work This study will consider the medieval elements in Borges creative work and shed new light on his poetry

The Religious Worlds of the Laity in Late Antique Gaul Lisa Kaaren Bailey, 2016-04-07 Christianity in the late antique world was not imposed but embraced and the laity were not passive members of their religion but had a central role in its creation This volume explores the role of the laity in Gaul bringing together the fields of history archaeology and theology First this book follows the ways in which clergy and monks tried to shape and manufacture lay religious experience They had themselves constructed the category of the laity which served as a negative counterpart to their self definition Lay religious experience was thus shaped in part by this need to create difference between categories The book then focuses on how the laity experienced their religion how they interpreted it and how their decisions shaped the nature of the Church and of their faith This part of the study pays careful attention to the diversity of the laity in this period their religious environments ritual engagement behaviours knowledge and beliefs The first volume to examine laity in this period in Gaul a key region for thinking about the transition from Roman rule to post Roman society The Religious Worlds of the Laity in Late Antique Gaul fills an important gap in current literature

Ecstatic Transformation M. Uebel, 2016-04-30 This book studies the way in which medieval ways of knowing the Oriental other were constructed around the idea of a utopic East as located in the legend and Letter of Prester John c 1160 The birth of utopic thinking it argues is tied to an understanding of alterity having as much to do with the ways the medieval West understood itself as the manner in which the foreign was mapped Drawing upon the insights of cultural studies film studies and psychoanalysis this book rethinks the contours of the known and the unknown in the medieval period It demonstrates how the idea of otherness intersected in intricate ways with other categories of difference spatial gender and religious Scholars in the fields of history as well as literary and religious studies will be interested in the manner in which the book considers the formal dimensions of how histories of the Oriental other were written and lived
