Participatory Budgeting in Global Perspective Brian Wampler, Stephanie McNulty, Stephanie L. McNulty, Michael Touchton, 2021 Participatory Budgeting continues to spread across the globe as government officials and citizens adopt this innovative democratic program in the hopes of strengthening accountability civil society and well being Governments often adapt PB s basic program design to meet local needs thus creating wide variation in how PB programs function Some programs retain features of radical democracy others focus on community mobilization and yet other programs seek to promote participatory development Participatory Budgeting in Global Perspective provides a theoretical and empirical explanation to account for widespread variation in PB s adoption adaptation and impacts This book develops six PB types to account for the wide variation in how PB programs function as well as the outcomes they produce To illustrate the similar patterns across the globe four empirical chapters present a rich set of case studies that illuminate the wide differences among these programs chapters are organized regionally with chapters on Latin America Asia Sub Saharan Africa Europe and North America By organizing the chapters regionally it becomes clear that there are temporal spatial economic and organizational factors that produce different programs across regions but similar programs within each region A key empirical finding is that the change in PB rules and design is now leading to significant differences in the outcomes these programs produce We find that some programs successfully promote accountability expand civil society and improve well being but too often researchers do not have any evidence tying PB to significant social or political change Promoting Diversity ,2003 1 Structure mandate and resources 2 Role in relation to the direct victims of discrimination 3 Role and functioning in the political proces 4 Dissemination of information research and awareness building Positive Plant Interactions and Community Dynamics Francisco Pugnaire,2010-02-09 Ever since the concept of the struggle for life became the heart of Darwin s theory of evolution biologists have studied the relevance of interactions for the natural history and evolution of organisms Although positive interactions among plants have traditionally received little attention there is now a growing body of evidence showing the ef Diversity and Integration in Private International Law Veronica Ruiz Abou-Nigm,2019-08-21 No detailed description available for Diversity and Integration in Private International Law Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity Lori G. Beaman,2017 While religious conflict receives plenty of attention the everyday negotiation of religious diversity does not Questions of how to accommodate religious minorities and of the limits of tolerance resonate in a variety of contexts and have become central preoccupations for many Western democracies What might we see if we turned our attention to the positive narratives and success stories of the everyday working out of religious difference Rather than tolerance and accommodation and through the stories of ordinary people this book traces deep equality which is found in the respect humor and friendship of seemingly mundane interactions Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity shows that the telling of such stories can create an alternative narrative to that of diversity as a problem to be solved It explores the non event or micro processes of interaction that constitute the foundation for deep equality and the conditions under which deep equality emerges exists and sometimes flourishes Through a systematic search for and examination of such narratives Lori G Beaman demonstrates the possibility of uncovering revealing and recovering deep equality a recovery that is vital to living in an increasingly diverse society In achieving deep equality identities are fluid shifting in importance and structure as social interaction unfolds Rigid identity imaginings especially religious identities block our vision to the complexities of social life and press us into corners that trap us in identities that we often ourselves do not recognize want or know how to escape Although the focus of this study is deep equality and its existence and persistence in relation to religious difference deep equality is located beyond the realm of religion Beaman draws from the work of those whose primary focus is not in fact religion and who are doing their own deep equality work in other domains illustrating especially why equality matters By retelling and exploring stories of negotiation it is possible to reshape our social imaginary to better facilitate what works which varies from place to place and time to time Diversity, Culture and Counselling,
