Passionate Embrace Elisabeth Gerle, 2018-01-01 Protestant ethics has often been associated with work and duty excluding sensuality sexuality and other pleasures In an age of body worship as well as body loathing Elisabeth Gerle explores new paths embarking on a conversation with Martin Luther in dialogue with contemporary theologians on attitudes towards desire ethics and politics She draws on Eros theology to challenge traditional Lutheran stereotypes such as the dichotomies between different forms of love as well as between spirit and body Gerle argues that Luther's spiritual breakthrough where grace and gifts of creation became central provides new meaning to sex and desire as well as to work body and ordinary life Women are seen in a new light as companions autonomous ethical agents part of the priesthood of all This had revolutionary consequences in Europe at the time and it represents a challenge to contemporary theologies with a nostalgic appetite for austerity asceticism and female submission Luther's erotic and genderfluid language is a healthy challenge to oppressive political structures centred on greed profit and competition A revised Scandinavian creation theology and a deep sense of the incarnational mystery are resources for contemporary theology and ethics Fiction, 1876-1983: Titles R.R.
