Routledge Revivals: Medieval Science, Technology and Medicine (2006) Thomas Glick, Steven J. Livesey, Faith Wallis, 2017-07-05 First published in 2005 this encyclopedia demonstrates that the millennium from the fall of the Roman Empire to the Renaissance was a period of great intellectual and practical achievement and innovation In Europe the Islamic world South and East Asia and the Americas individuals built on earlier achievements introduced sometimes radical refinements and laid the foundations for modern development Medieval Science Technology and Medicine details the whole scope of scientific knowledge in the medieval period in more than 300 A to Z entries This comprehensive resource discusses the research application of knowledge cultural and technology exchanges experimentation and achievements in the many disciplines related to science and technology It also looks at the relationship between medieval science and the traditions it supplanted Written by a select group of international scholars this reference work will be of great use to scholars students and general readers researching topics in many fields including medieval studies world history history of science history of technology history of medicine and cultural studies Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia A.C.S. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola, 2016-03-09 Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective Since then research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian Muslim relations but no overview has appeared Moreover very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem meaning evidence in Arabic Persian and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources and too little attention has been given to material culture The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism
