Food, Feminisms, Rhetorics Melissa A. Goldthwaite, 2017-06-19 Inspired by the need for interpretations and critiques of the varied messages surrounding what and how we eat Food Feminisms Rhetorics collects eighteen essays that demonstrate the importance of food and food related practices as sites of scholarly study particularly from feminist rhetorical perspectives Contributors analyze messages about food and bodies from what a person watches and reads to where that person shops taken from sources mundane and literary personal and cultural This collection begins with analyses of the historical cultural and political implications of cookbooks and recipes explores definitions of feminist food writing and ends with a focus on bodies and cultures both self representations and representations of others for particular rhetorical purposes The genres objects and practices contributors study are varied from cookbooks to genre fiction from blogs to food systems from product packaging to paintings but the overall message is the same food and its associated practices are worthy of scholarly attention

Colonial Food in Interwar Paris Lauren Janes,2016-02-25 In the wake of the First World War in which France suffered severe food shortages colonial produce became an increasingly important element of the French diet The colonial lobby seized upon these foodstuffs as powerful symbols of the importance of the colonial project to the life of the French nation But how was colonial food really received by the French public And what does this tell us about the place of empire in French society In Colonial Food in Interwar Paris Lauren Janes disputes the claim that empire was central to French history and identity arguing that the distrust of colonial food reflected a wider disinterest in the empire From Indochinese rice to North African grains and tropical fruit to curry powder this book offers an intriguing and original challenge to current orthodoxy about the centrality of empire to modern France by examining the place of colonial foods in the nation s capital The

4-hour Chef Timothy Ferriss,2012 Building upon Timothy Ferriss s internationally successful 4 hour franchise The 4 Hour Chef transforms the way we cook eat and learn Featuring recipes and cooking tricks from world renowned chefs and interspersed with the radically counterintuitive advice Ferriss s fans have come to expect The 4 Hour Chef is a practical but unusual guide to mastering food and cooking whether you are a seasoned pro or a blank slate novice The Bloomsbury

Ancient Jewish Food in Its Geographical and Cultural Contexts Susan Weingarten, 2025-03-25 This book is the first in depth study of food in talmudic literature in its geographical and cultural contexts It demonstrates the sharing of foods and foodways between Jews and their non Jewish neighbours in the Near East in Late Antiquity Using both ancient written sources and archaeological evidence this book sets the foods of the Mishnah and Palestinian Talmud in their Graeco Roman context and the foods of the Babylonian Talmud and the ge onim in their Persian and Arab contexts It explores practices of food preparation and their contribution to the ancient diet as well as analysing the relationships between food status and culture The rabbinical authors of talmudic literature were more concerned with everyday food than were aristocratic Classical authors by examining both talmudic sources and archaeological finds this book paints a new picture of the diet lifestyle and culture of ordinary people Ancient Jewish Food in Its Geographical and Cultural Contexts will interest Food Historians as well as students and scholars of Jewish Studies particularly the period of the Mishnah and Talmud as well as those dealing with the wider social and cultural history of the Ancient Near East Coming To, and Staying In, the Poorest Country in the EU Petko Hristov, Ivaylo Markov, Violeta Perikleva, Desislava Pileva, 2023-07-11 This book is a multi layered scientific study of the immigrants who have come to Bulgaria since 1990 specifically their patterns of movement settlement social networks identity dynamics integration and adaptation their impact on the social environment and changes in the cultural specifics Until recently studies on immigration in Bulgaria have mainly been oriented towards particular communities within the framework of ethnic studies The chapters in this volume do not ignore immigrants ethnicity and origins but their main focus is reasons for migration be they economic educational political marital or lifestyle based The book examines several important factors of settlement in Bulgaria interaction between the local population and immigrants stereotypes and attitudes towards the newcomers as well as the influence of local kinship and social networks and contacts African American Foodways Anne Bower, 2009 Moving beyond catfish and collard greens to the soul of African American cooking The Metamorphosis of Greek Cuisine Nafsika Papacharalampous, 2023-11-10 This book is an ethnography of the metamorphosis of rural foods and traditional dishes and of the making of cuisine and identity in contemporary Athens In the wake of the financial crisis in Athens in the mid 2010s forgotten rural foods of the past are transformed into luxurious artisanal foods while traditional dishes appear reinvented in fine dining restaurants after decades of darkness How and why is this all happening in a city of poverty hardship and economic crisis Through sensory descriptions and thick ethnographic material it follows the Athenian affluent middle class in upscale delis and goes inside fine dining restaurant kitchens discussing the complex combination of cuisine tradition memory and identity revealing the cultural logic and social aspects of cuisine It demonstrates how cuisine emerges from very different often contradictory social spaces not only as an intellectual and aesthetic endeavour of chefs or as a revival of foods and foodways that link the country and the city but also as interlinked with embodied memories and embedded in social relations and commensality This book will be of great interest to scholars and students in Anthropology and Food Studies

Consumer trends and new product opportunities in the food sector Klaus G. Grunert,2023-08-07 The food sector is changing Consumers want not only tasty and healthy food products but products that are sustainable and authentic At the same time new developments in farming food processing and retailing open up new opportunities in the development of food products Bridging these challenges and opportunities is a major task for food marketing This book traces consumer trends regarding healthiness sustainability authenticity and convenience It gives an introduction to current developments in farming in food processing technology and in retailing It also explains how segmentation and consumer led product development can lead to new food products in response to these trends

The Edible Monument Marcia Reed,2015-10-13 The Edible Monument considers the elaborate architecture sculpture and floats made of food that were designed for court and civic celebrations in early modern Europe These include popular festivals such as Carnival and the Italian Cuccagna Like illuminations and fireworks ephemeral artworks made of food were not well documented and were challenging to describe because they were perishable and thus quickly consumed or destroyed In times before photography and cookbooks there were neither literary models nor a repertoire of conventional images for how food and its preparation should be explained or depicted Although made for consumption food could also be a work of art both as a special attraction and as an expression of power Formal occasions and spontaneous celebrations drew communities together while special foods and seasonal menus revived ancient legends evoking memories and recalling shared histories values and tastes Drawing on books prints and scrolls that document festival arts elaborate banquets and street feasts the essays in this volume examine the mythic themes and personas employed to honor and celebrate rulers the methods materials and wares used to prepare depict and serve food and how foods such as sugar were transformed to express political goals or accomplishments This book is published on the occasion of an exhibition at the Getty Research Institute from October 13 2015 to March 23 2016

The Taste of Empire Lizzie Collingham,2017-10-03 A history of the British Empire told through twenty meals eaten around the world In The Taste of Empire acclaimed historian Lizzie Collingham tells the story of how the British Empire's quest for food shaped the modern world Told through twenty meals over the course of 450 years from the Far East to the New World Collingham explains how Africans taught Americans how to grow rice how the East India Company turned opium into tea and how Americans became the best fed people in the world In The Taste of Empire Collingham masterfully shows that only by examining the history of Great Britain's global food system from sixteenth century Newfoundland fisheries to our present day eating habits can we fully understand our capitalist economy and its role in making our modern diets

Hastorf, 2017 Introduction The Social Life of Food Part I Laying the Groundwork Framing Food Investigation The Practices of a Meal in Society Part II Current Food Studies in Archaeology The Archaeological Study of Food Activities Food Economics Food Politics Power and Status Part III Food and Identity The Potentials of Food Archaeology Food in the Construction of Group Identity The Creation of Personal Identity Food Body and Personhood Food Creates Society Significant Food Jeff Birkenstein, Robert C. Hauhart, 2024 Significant Food is a collaborative work of textual analysis and criticism that chews on the role and prominence of food in American literature The volume offers close readings of many well known and some less well known examples of American writing as studied through the food culture sensibilities of a well stocked cupboard of contributors who offer their analyses for public consumption Editors Jeff Birkenstein and Robert C Hauhart find that literary criticism has focused on the role food plays in literary production to a greater extent than recognized at first glance and that its role has become increasingly common only in the last two decades Still while there is critical commentary regarding authors use of food across the expanse of American literature there has been a lack of a unifying critical theories to guide these analyses Birkenstein and Hauhart offer the theory of significant food a method that asks literary critics to evaluate and assess the extent nature and role that food plays in literary production When food and food moments are used intensively and significantly within the drama memoir poem novel short story or other writing then one can say that it has achieved a status that makes it indispensable to the work at hand
