Neo-race Realities in the Obama Era Heather E. Harris, 2019-05-01 Neo race Realities in the Obama Era expands the discourse about Barack Obama s two terms as president by reflecting upon the impact of neo racism during his tenure Continually in conversation with tienne Balibar s conceptualization of neo racism as being racism without race the contributors examine how identities become the target of neo racist discriminatory practices and policies in the United States Individual chapters explore how President Obama s multiple and intersecting identities beyond the racial binaries of Black and White were perceived as well as how his presence impacted certain marginalized groups in our society as a result of his administration s policies Evidencing the hegemonic complexity of neo racism in the United States the contributors illustrate how the mythic post race society that many wished for on election night in 2008 was deferred in order to return to the uncomfortable comfort zone of the way America used to be

The Pursuit of Racial and Ethnic Equality in American Public Schools Kristi L. Bowman, 2014-12-19 In 1954 the Supreme Court decided Brown v Board of Education ten years later Congress enacted the Civil Rights Act These monumental changes in American law dramatically expanded educational opportunities for racial and ethnic minority children across the country They also changed the experiences of white children who have learned in increasingly diverse classrooms The authors of this commemorative volume include leading scholars in law education and public policy as well as important historical figures Taken together the chapters trace the narrative arc of school desegregation in the United States beginning in California in the 1940s continuing through Brown v Board the Civil Rights Act and three important Supreme Court decisions about school desegregation and voluntary integration in 1974 1995 and 2007 The authors also assess the status of racial and ethnic equality in education today and consider the viability of future legal and policy reform in pursuit of the goals of Brown v Board This remarkable collection of voices in conversation with one another lays the groundwork for future discussions about the relationship between law and educational equality and ultimately for the creation of new public policy A valuable reference for scholars and students alike this dynamic text is an important contribution to the literature by an outstanding group of authors      Confronting Racial Injustice Gerald Hiestand,Joel Lawrence,2022-11-30 One of the greatest crises facing the church is the crisis of racial injustice that has so long marred the body of Christ in America Evangelicals have traditionally had a set of biblical theological and cultural tools we have used for dealing with questions about race the necessity of personal responsibility the possibility of heart renewal through faith in Jesus the transformative impact of interpersonal relationships and the bedrock conviction that every human being is made in the image of God and is thus of equal worth and dignity But in the world after 2020 the evangelical church must now recognize that our theological playbook has been ineffective in rooting out racism from the church and in confronting our own complicity in racial injustice We must now ask What other theological convictions are required of us as we consider the image bearing humanity of George Floyd Breonna Taylor Ahmaud Arbery and many others Confronting Racial Injustice explores theological vistas to aid the church in our pursuit of racial justice      The World's Work ,1913 A history of our time      Out of Turmoil Dean P. Vesperman,Anne Aydinian-Perry,Matthew T. Missias,Whitney G. Blankenship,2023-01-01 It is not difficult to argue that the social sciences are in a period of transition Our day to day lives have been marked by uncertainty as our social lives have vacillated wildly between highs and lows tensions between fellow citizens have heightened along ideological fault lines and educators have been placed squarely at the center of public discourses about what and how we should be teaching By any measure we are living in a time where every moment seems to be rife with high stakes realities that must be navigated Ladson Billings 2020 called on educators to reimagine education and contest the notion of a return to normal In the current highly polarized context where we see multiple competing narratives rather than promoting a return to normal or business as usual approach we argue that educators must use the lessons of the last two years as well as draw on what we have learned from history and the social sciences By asking ourselves how we might interrogate and inform current social landscapes and the challenges that arise from them we have the opportunity to take leadership in fostering innovation building solidarity and re imagining the teaching and learning of history and the social sciences We recognize that humans live in multiple complex communities that include intersectional identities relationships with power agency and discourses and lived realities that are as unique as they are divergent Consequently the task of educators and the goal of this volume is to provide a clarion voice to a dynamic relational and undeniably human social world      The Hung Society Or the Society of Heaven and Earth John Sebastian Marlow Ward,William George Stirling,1926      The Story of Man James William Buel,1889      American Conservation in Picture and in Story Ovid Butler,1946      The Annual American Catalog, 1900-1909 ,1907      In the Adirondacks Matt Dallos,2023-03-28 An immersive journey into the past present and future of a region many consider the Northeast s wilderness backyard Out of all the rural areas of the United States including those in the West which are bigger and propped up by more pervasive myths about adventure and nation and wilderness and freedom the Adirondacks has accumulated a well known identity beyond its boundaries Untouched unspoiled it is defined by what we haven't done to it Combining author Matt Dallos's personal observations with his thorough research of primary and secondary documents In the Adirondacks rambles through the region to understand its significance within American culture and what lessons it might offer us for how we think about the environment In vivid prose Dallos digs through the region's past and present to excavate a series of compelling stories and places a moose named Harold a hot dog mogul's rustic mansion an ecological restoration on an alpine summit a hermit who demanded a helicopter ride and a millionaire who dressed up as a Native American to rob a stagecoach Along the way Dallos listens to locals and tourists visits wilderness areas and souvenir shops and digs through archives in museums and libraries In the Adirondacks blends lively history and immersive travel writing to explore the Adirondacks that captivated Dallos's childhood imagination while presenting a compelling and entertaining story about America's largest park outside of Alaska The result is an inquisitive journey through the region's bogs and lakes and boreal forests and the lives of residents and tourists Dallos turned toward the region to understand why he couldn't shake it from his mind What he learned is that he's not the only one In the Adirondacks explores the history and future of the most complicated contested park in North America raising important questions about the role of environmental preservation and the great outdoors in American history and culture
