relevant contributions by leading researchers on international child poverty With a preface from Sir Richard Jolly Former Assistant Secretary General of the United Nations it examines how child poverty and well being are now conceptualized defined and measured and presents regional and national level portraits of child poverty around the world in rich middle income and poor countries The book s ultimate objective is to promote and influence policy action and the research agenda to address one of the world s great ongoing tragedies child poverty marginalization and inequality      Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Vietnam Jonathan D. London, 2022-07-29 The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Vietnam is a comprehensive resource exploring social political economic and cultural aspects of Vietnam one of contemporary Asia s most dynamic but least understood countries Following an introduction that highlights major changes that have unfolded in Vietnam over the past three decades the volume is organized into four thematic parts Politics and Society Economy and Society Social Life and Institutions Cultures in Motion Part I addresses key aspects of Vietnam s politics from the role of the Communist Party of Vietnam in shaping the country s institutional evolution to continuity and change in patterns of socio political organization political expression state repression diplomatic relations and human rights Part II assesses the transformation of Vietnam s economy addressing patterns of economic growth investment and trade the role of the state in the economy and other economic aspects of social life Parts III and IV examine developments across a variety of social and cultural fields through chapters on themes including welfare inequality social policy urbanization the environment and society gender ethnicity the family cuisine art mass media and the politics of remembrance Featuring 38 essays by leading Vietnam scholars from around the world this book provides a cutting edge analysis of Vietnam s transformation and changing engagement with the world It is an invaluable interdisciplinary reference work that will be of interest to students and academics of Southeast Asian studies as well as policymakers analysts and anyone wishing to learn more about contemporary Vietnam      Labour Market and Industrial Relations in Vietnam Ingrid Artus, Judith Holland, Uwe Blien, Van Phan thi Hong, 2016-10-20 The society and economy of Vietnam is still characterised by a rapid transformation process There is high economic and political pressure coming not only from internal developments but also from foreign countries This groundbreaking book takes stock of the rapid processes of change in the labour market and the industrial relations of Vietnam The contributions of Vietnamese and international experts cover the institutional arrangements of the labour market and of the system of industrial relations and they also look at consequences for welfare and social inequality and treat the relation between culture and the economy in the country Further contributions compare Vietnam with other developing country and analyse the relationships between international and Vietnamese labour markets They also address the key question as to whether Asia is a new focal point of industrial conflicts      Good Practices in Health Financing Pablo Enrique Gottret, George Schieber, Hugh Waters, 2008-01-01 This volume focuses on nine countries that have completed or are well along in the process of carrying out major health financing reforms These countries have significantly expanded their people s health care coverage or maintained such coverage after prolonged political or economic shocks e g following the collapse of the Soviet Union In doing so this report seeks to expand the evidence base on good performance in health financing reforms in low and middle income countries The countries chosen for the study were Chile Colombia Costa Rica Estonia the Kyrgyz Republic Sri Lanka Thailand Tunisia and Vietnam Determining key research areas for healthier diets and sustainable food systems in Viet Nam Jessica E. Raneri, Gina Kennedy, Trang Nguyen, Sigrid Wertheim-Heck, Ha Do, Stef de Haan, Nguyen Phuong, 2019-10-10 Vietnamese food systems are undergoing rapid transformation with important implications for human and environmental health and economic development Poverty has decreased and diet quality and undernutrition have improved significantly since the end of the Doi Moi reform period 1986 1993 as a result of Viet Nam opening its economy and increasing its regional and global trade Yet poor diet quality is still contributing the triple burden of malnutrition with 25 percent stunting among children under age 5 26 percent and 29 percent of women and children respectively anemic and 21 percent of adults overweight Agricultural production systems have shifted from predominantly diverse smallholder systems to larger more commercialized and specialized systems especially for crops while the meatification of the Vietnamese diet is generating serious trade offs between improved nutrition and sustainability of the Vietnamese food systems The food processing industry has developed rapidly together with food imports resulting in new and processed food products penetrating the food retail outlets trending towards an increase in the Westernized consumption patterns that are shifting nutrition related problems towards overweight and obesity and with it an increase of non communicable disease related health risks While regulatory policies exist across the food system these are not systematically implemented making food safety a major concern for consumers and policy makers alike Where data exists it is not easy to aggregate with data from across food system dimensions making it difficult for Viet Nam to make an informed analysis of current and potential food system trade offs In our research we reviewed existing literature and data and applied a food systems framework to develop an initial food systems profile for Viet Nam and to identify a comprehensive set of research questions to fill current data gaps identified through the review Insights on these would provide the comprehensive evidence needed to inform policy makers on how to develop new food systems policies for Viet Nam and further refine and improve existing policies to achieve better quality diets and more sustainable food systems in Viet Nam Based on these we then engaged with stakeholders to develop research priorities in the Viet Nam context and identified 25 priority research questions This paper aims to stimulate such reflections by clearly outlining key areas for research government policy and development programs on priority investment to build the evidence base around inclusive food systems interventions that aim to result in healthier diets and more sustainable food systems for Viet Nam Childhood and Schooling in (Post)Socialist Societies Iveta Silova, Nelli Piattoeva, Zsuzsa Millei, 2017-12-07 This book explores childhood and schooling in late socialist societies by bringing into dialogue public narratives and personal memories that move beyond imaginaries of

Cold War divisions between the East and West Written by cultural insiders who were brought up and educated on the eastern side of the Iron Curtain spanning from Central Europe to mainland Asia the book offers insights into the diverse spaces of socialist childhoods interweaving with broader political economic and social life These evocative memories explore the experiences of children in navigating state expectations to embody model socialist citizens and their mixed feelings of attachment optimism dullness and alienation associated with participation in building socialist futures Drawing on the research traditions of autobiography autoethnography and collective biography the authors challenge what is often considered normal and natural in the historical accounts of socialist childhoods and engage in re writing histories that open space for new knowledges and vast webs of interconnections to emerge This book will be compelling reading for students and researchers working in education sociology and history particularly those within the interdisciplinary fields of childhood and area studies The authors of this beautiful book are professional academics and intellectuals who grew up in different socialist countries Exploring socialist childhoods in myriad ways they draw on memories and collective history emotional insider knowledge and the measured perspective of an analyst What emerges is life that was caught between real optimism and dullness ethical commitments and ideological absurdities selfless devotion to children and their treatment as a political resource Such attention to detail and examination of the paradoxical nature of this time makes this collective effort not only timely but remarkably genuine Alexei Yurchak University of California USA

Agent Orange and Rural Development in Post-war Vietnam Vu Le Thao Chi, 2020-03-04 Vu tells the story of Vietnamese farmers who have survived a 30 year war of independence and unification its damaging legacies in their living environment and the unfamiliar pressure of the market economy Vietnamese farmers are neither simply obedient beneficiaries of policy decisions made by higher authorities nor convention ridden cyphers Rather they are sophisticated decision makers capable of navigating the changes threatening to disrupt their lives over multiple generations Vu's research pays particular attention to those farmers whose families have suffered from direct and indirect exposure to the toxic herbicides popularly known as Agent Orange She demonstrates that their priority has tended to be the protection of their existing assets rather than pursuing the promise of new riches and that this tendency has helped them maintain stability in a turbulent economic environment A fascinating study for scholars of Vietnamese anthropology and society the book will also be of interest to sociologists and economists with a broader interest in the impact of economic and political change on rural lifestyles Agricultural Development in the World Periphery

Vicente Pinilla, Henry Willebald, 2018-02-06 This book brings together analysis on the conditions of agricultural sectors in countries and regions of the world's peripheries from a wide variety of international contributors The contributors to this volume proffer an understanding of the processes of agricultural transformations and their interaction with the overall economies of Africa Asia and Latin America Looking at the nineteenth and twentieth centuries the onset of modern economic growth the book studies the relationship between agriculture and other economic sectors exploring the use of resources land labour capital and the influence of institutional and technological factors in the long run performance of agricultural activities Pinilla and Willebald challenge the notion that agriculture played a negligible role in promoting economic development in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries when the impulse towards industrialization in the developing world was more impactful

Does Rising Landlessness Signal Success Or Failure for Vietnam's Agrarian Transition? Martin Ravallion, Dominique Van de Walle, 2006 In the wake of reforms to establish a free market in land use rights Vietnam is experiencing a pronounced rise in rural landlessness To some observers this is a harmless by product of a more efficient economy while to others it signals the return of the pre socialist class structure with the rural landless at the bottom of the economic ladder The authors theoretical model suggests that removing restrictions on land markets will increase landlessness among the poor but that there will be both gainers and losers with uncertain impacts on aggregate poverty Empirically they find that landlessness is less likely for the poor and that the observed rise in landlessness is poverty reducing on balance However there are marked regional differences notably between the north and the south World Bank web site

Delivering on the Promise of Pro-poor Growth Timothy Besley, Louise Cord, 2007 Economic growth is the most important determinant of poverty reduction But countries with similar rates of growth can experience different poverty reduction rates

Rapid Growth of Selected Asian Economies Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2006-01-01 This publication is part of a three volume diagnostic study on lessons learned and implications for agriculture and food security in the context of rapid growth in selected Asian economies This third volume presents the country studies for the Republic of Korea Thailand and Viet Nam It discusses experiences in agricultural development and economic growth The country studies provide useful lessons and insights on agricultural restructuring in response to changing market and trade opportunities These are expected to be of interest to relevant governments policy professionals and development practitioners in crafting national policies and strategies for rapid and sustained agricultural growth to achieve the Millennium Development Goals of poverty and hunger eradication

Regional Resilience, Economy and Society Christine Tamásy, Javier Revilla Diez, 2016-04-08 There has been a great deal of restructuring of rural places and communities under globalisation highlighting the interaction of local and global actors to produce new hybrid socio economic relations Recent research highlights the heterogeneity of globalisation in which rural places are different to each other but also different to how they were in the past Bringing together an interdisciplinary team of academics and comparative case studies from Europe West and East and Asia this book explores and discusses opportunities and challenges associated with globalising rural places and identifies possibilities for policy and practical intervention by rural development actors Special attention is paid to multi scalar processes through which rural places are reshaped through globalisation Taking a geographical approach the book produces new critical work on the interdependence between globalisation and rural spaces It is organised into five sections Part I focuses on Global Rural Linkages showing the multifaceted interrelation between actors at different geographical scale and demonstrating that globalisation is not only external to rural spaces Part II on Rural Entrepreneurship and Labour Markets explores the potential of business start ups in rural spaces which are not only necessity driven Part III Rural Innovation and Learning shows that rural places are also places for innovation and learning Part IV on Rural Policies and Governance argues that regional policies for rural places should promote side activities to maintain social capital and that regional policy should take a more integrative perspective between urban and rural spaces in order to explore complementary development paths The concluding chapter New Approaches to Rural Spaces discusses new approaches to globalising rural places in relation to the preceding chapters published in this book

Food Prices and Rural Poverty Centre for Economic Policy Research,2010-10 The link between food prices and poverty is as complex as it is important Aksoy and Hoekman have put together a book that significantly advances our knowledge of this link The book not only explores the conditions under which the poor are affected by food price movements but includes a number of empirical studies on the price poverty link in specific developing countries It deserves careful study by governments and NGOs Tim Josling Professor Emeritus Food Research Institute and Senior Fellow Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies Stanford University The timing of this book could hardly have been more appropriate while the international community still ponders on the poverty implications of the 2007-8 global food crisis food prices are on the rise again and create nervousness Governments are being called upon to protect the poor against high food prices But we know too little about the actual relationship between food prices and poverty This book provides us with new insights into this critical link and goes far beyond the simplistic views that have prevailed so far Policy makers concerned about food prices and poverty should study it carefully Stefan Tangermann Professor Emeritus Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Development University of Gottingen former OECD Director for Trade and Agriculture The spike in international food prices in 2008 was a reminder to the world of how vital food prices are for those billion or more people near or below the extreme poverty line Most of those poor people live in rural areas but many are net buyers rather than net sellers of food Even so they may benefit indirectly through higher wages when the farm price of food rises The only way to identify which groups are at risk is through careful empirical studies at the household level for each country This volume brings together a rich collection of such studies By covering rural areas of Africa Asia and Latin America it offers a range of insights for policy makers who too often focus only on the more visible urban poor Kym Anderson George Gollin Professor of Economics University of Adelaide Handbook of Emerging Economies Robert Looney,2014-03-21 A major new volume in the Routledge International Handbooks series analysing emerging and newly emerged economies including the BRICS countries Brazil Russia India China and South Africa and other likely Turkey Indonesia Mexico and South Korea as well as possible Vietnam The Philippines Nigeria Pakistan Egypt Colombia and Argentina candidates for emerging economy status Chapters on theories surrounding emerging markets including the Beijing Washington Consensus debate offer an overview of current issues in development economics in addition to providing an integrated framework for the country case studies Written by experts this handbook will be invaluable to academics and students of economics and emerging economies as well as to business people and researchers seeking information on economic development and the accelerating pace of globalization      The World Bank Research Program
