Economies Of The Heart:

The Heart of Economic Reform Donald Daochi Tong, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2002 Banking reform lies at the heart of economic reform in China and is central to sustaining the country's high economic growth This timely book covers an important economic policy issue in China namely the existing and potential roles of the financial sector in the development of the Chinese economy It explores for the first time the relationship between the reforms of the financial sector of state owned enterprises SOEs and of the social welfare system Donald D Tong presents a wealth of valuable data accompanied by original insights and interpretations The author also examines the original estimates of the cost of the social welfare burden given that social services such as old age pension housing healthcare and education are provided by the SOEs rather than by the private or public sector directly

The Heart of Economy Vigneshwaran Ganapathi, 2023-08-22 Love is a force that can both heal and destroy It can bring us to the heights of joy and also to the depths of despair It is a feeling that is both universal and deeply personal and one that has captured the hearts and imaginations of people for centuries The story that you are about to read is a love story It is a tale of two people who find each other in the midst of their own struggles and pain and who are forever changed by the love that they share It is a story that explores the complexities of love and the ways in which it can both save and challenge us As the author of this book I have been inspired by the power of love to transform us Through the characters in this story I have attempted to capture the many facets of this emotion from the passion and intensity of new Economics for Humans Julie A. Nelson, 2024-05-31 At its core an economy is about providing goods and services for human well being But many economists and critics preach that an economy is something far different a cold and heartless system that operates outside of human control In this impassioned and perceptive work Julie A Nelson asks a compelling question given that our economic world is something that we as humans create aren't ethics and human relationships dimensions of a full and rich life intrinsically part of the picture Economics for Humans argues against the well ingrained notion that economics is immune to moral values and distant from human relationships Here Nelson locates the impediment to a more considerate economic world in an assumption that is shared by both neoliberals and the political left Despite their seemingly insurmountable differences both make use of the metaphor first proposed by Adam Smith that the economy is a machine This pervasive idea Nelson argues has blinded us to the qualities that make us work and care for one another qualities that also make businesses thrive and markets grow We can wed our interest in money with our justifiable concerns about ethics and social well being And we can do so if we recognize that an economy is not a machine but a living thing in need of attention and careful tending This second edition has been updated and refined throughout with expanded discussions of many topics and a new chapter that investigates the apparent conflict between economic well being and ecological sustainability Further developing the main points of the first edition Economics for Humans will continue to both invigorate and inspire readers to reshape the way they view the economy its possibilities and their place within it

Control of Cardiovascular Diseases in Developing Countries Institute of Medicine, Committee on Research, Development, and Institutional Strengthening for Control of Cardiovascular Diseases in Developing Countries, 1998-09-29 Cardiovascular diseases CVD are increasing in epidemic proportions in developing countries CVD already accounts for almost 10 percent of the developing world's burden of disease and is likely to become the developing world's leading cause of death There is reason for hope however given that huge potential exists for applying R D to control this emerging epidemic both in creating powerful new interventions such as vaccines and dietary supplements and in guiding behavior In addition a considerable body of evidence suggests that current risk factor prevention programs and low cost case management of CVD offer feasible cost effective ways to reduce CVD mortality and disability in developing country populations Large scale CVD control efforts are lacking however and thus governments and individuals are left to make choices about health and health care services without the benefit of appropriate knowledge This report was designed to promote a policy dialogue on CVD based on informed knowledge of R D opportunities that offer effective affordable and widely applicable responses in developing countries The report examines a the emerging burden of CVD in developing countries b the future worldwide burden of CVD c current prevention and treatment of CVD in developing countries d R D to support CVD control e opportunities and priorities for R D and the need for institutional arrangements for collaboration in facing the epidemic

Congenital Heart Disease P. Syamasundar Rao, 2012-01-18 There are significant advances in the understanding of the molecular mechanisms of cardiac development and the etiology of congenital heart disease CHD However these have not yet evolved to such a degree so as to be useful in preventing CHD at this time Developments such as early detection of the neonates with serious heart disease and their rapid transport to tertiary care centers availability of highly sensitive noninvasive diagnostic tools advances in neonatal care and anesthesia progress in transcatheter interventional procedures and extension of complicated surgical procedures to the neonate and infant have advanced to such a degree that almost all congenital cardiac defects can be diagnosed and corrected Treatment of the majority of acyanotic and simpler cyanotic heart defects with currently available transcatheter and surgical techniques is feasible effective and safe The application of staged total cavo pulmonary connection Fontan has markedly improved the long term outlook of children who have one functioning ventricle This book I hope will serve as a rich source of information to the physician caring for infants children and adults with CHD which may help them provide optimal care for their patients

Revolution of the Heart Michel Leroux, 2013-03 If you were to travel the world you would quickly come to realize that the vast majority of humanity has the same list of wants and needs food shelter water education justice and safety to name a few Joys and sorrows hopes and desperations are also similar in many ways Even though it sometimes justifies our personal paradigm to believe differently WE ARE ALL FUNDAMENTALLY THE SAME If at the core we are all the same why then is it that we collectively are having such a hard time Essentially this last question is where the inspiration for this book comes from The content of the book comes from the author's decades of research observations and experiences gained while living and working in more than nine different countries visiting over sixty countries spread on six continents A love a passion and ultimately a belief that humanity has the power to choose to create a better life for all is the driving force behind this exploration of human suffering and how to ultimately rise above it This need for a better life for all has never been as apparent as it is now Our collective denial of the reality of suffering is being confronted We are starting to realize that there is no choice but to deal with it problems are not going away but rather they seem to be multiplying exponentially Perhaps we live in times where it has become luxurious thinking to believe that someone else will fix the environment the economy social injustices international conflicts human trafficking or poverty It is time for greatness on a mass level to be expressed This book is meant to appeal to the heart more than the mind The expression analyzing something to death couldn't be more appropriate than now All potential progress seems to be continuously stalled with the belief that there is a need to generate more data to really understand the problems Will we die as a species because of our mind's obsession for analysis or will our hearts see through the smoke of insanity put out the fires so that at some point hopefully sooner than later the mind will be able to see clearly through its confusion Ultimately the question is how will we individually and collectively deal with the problems currently facing humanity This question is essentially addressed to the vast majority of humanity as most are suffering from the excessive greed that has swept the planet There are countless ways one can contribute to the betterment of the world It always starts with people taking one small step to make a difference It starts with YOU Never underestimate the power that one person has to change the world The purpose of the book is threefold to bring about an awareness of the current situation on the planet so that people can start to question their current paradigm and see how they feed into the problems rather than help solve them to encourage a new level of personal responsibility that is necessary in any time of change or crisis and provide information and tools to help in the transformational process by empowering people The book is divided into three parts Part 1 It's All About Me Isn't It The Individual Part 2 What About the Others The Collective Part 3 Together The Individual and the Collective Each part has a different number of chapters The general book outline follows Foreword This part introduces why the book was written The foreword sets the stage for what is to come in the book and encourages the reader to read right through as some chapters are more challenging than others and that the solutions proposed are spread throughout the book Part 1 It's All About Me I Driving the Economy through Innovation and Entrepreneurship Department of Management Studies, 2013-04-09 Modern technologies are central to creation of wealth through business expansion leading to economic development This is visible in the fast paced technology induced economic growth experienced by most countries especially by rapidly growing economies such as India China Brazil South Korea among others Increasing individual scientific contribution nurturing entrepreneurial talent promoting innovative competence strategically prioritizing and investing in technologies and enhancing national economic wealth are some of the important

The Heart of a Father Karl Thompson, 2019-12-31 A book on the heart of a father can be multidimensional The two areas that I will focus on are faith and finances which are key to becoming productive citizens God placed us on earth to occupy and have dominion over it We were created to be citizens of God's kingdom Therefore as believers we have dual citizenship status Despite geographic boundaries we have one common homeland called earth and one common fatherland called heaven Citizenship has responsibilities It requires strong faith in God our creator On earth we are required to carry out responsibilities as part of our dominion mandate We are required to meet our financial responsibilities and respect and love each other That means we must be financially educated We must demonstrate prudent use of the gifts that he has given us and attest to his goodness Man has yet to demonstrate true citizenship

Transnational Geographies of The Heart Katie Walsh, 2018-07-23 Transnational Geographies of the Heart explores the spatialisation of intimacy in everyday life through an analysis of intimate subjectivities in transnational spaces Draws on ethnographic research with British migrants in Dubai United Arab Emirates during a phase of rapid globalisation and economic diversification in 2002-2004 Highlights the negotiation of interpersonal relationships as enormously significant in relation to the dialectic of home and migration Includes four empirical chapters focused on the production of expatriate subjectivities community and friendships sex and romance and families Demonstrates that a critical analysis of the geographies of intimacy might productively contribute to our understanding of the ways in which intimate subjectivities are embodied emplaced and co-produced across binaries of public private and local global space

Economies of Peace Werner Distler,Elena B. Stavrevska,Birte Vogel,2020-06-09 Looking beyond and beneath the macro level this book examines the processes and outcomes of the interaction of economic reforms and socio economic peacebuilding programmes with and international interventions in people s lived realities in conflict affected societies The contributions argue that disregarding socio economic aspects of peace and how they relate to the everyday leaves a vacuum in the understanding of the formation of post conflict economies To address this gap the book outlines and deploys the concept of post conflict economy formation This is a multifaceted phenomenon including both formal and informal processes that occur in the post conflict period and contribute to the introduction adjustment or abolition of economic practices institutions and rules that inform the transformation of the socio economic fabric of the society The contributions engage with existing statebuilding and peacebuilding debates while bringing in critical political economy perspectives Specifically they analyse processes of post conflict economy formation and the navigation between livelihood needs local translations of the liberal hegemonic order and different sparse manifestations of welfare states The book concludes that a sustainable peace requires the formation of peace economies economies that work towards reducing structural inequalities and grievances of the pre conflict period as well as addressing the livelihood concerns of citizens This book was originally published as a special issue of Civil Wars Heart Disease Gerdi

Weidner,Mária Kopp,Margareta Kristenson,2002 Annotation This book addresses one major question Why do men get more heart disease than women Recent global trends in heart disease show that traditional coronary risk factors such as elevated blood pressure and cholesterol are poor candidates in explaining the gender gap in heart disease Changes in these risk factors also cannot explain the recent cardiovascular disease epidemic among middle aged men in Eastern Europe This book will focus on environmental behavioral and psychosocial variables as well as new risk factors of a biological nature in an attempt to understand the gender gap in heart disease It combines perspectives from numerous disciplines such as demography epidemiology medicine sociology and psychology This book features the work of a distinguished group of international researchers appearing in Richard Stone s report on Stress the invisible hand in Eastern Europe s death rates Science vol 288 June 9 2000 pp 1732 33 It combines perspectives from numerous disciplines such as demography epidemiology medicine nutrition sociology and psychology to explore the environmental behavioral and psychosocial influences on men s greater susceptibility to heart disease Preventive Cardiology: A Companion to Braunwald's

after the recent financial crisis It calls for social medicine both in the sense of understanding health as the outcome of social conditions and as the necessity of a collective approach for addressing health inequities through a social polity as it contains the costs and sustains the healthcare systems
