Cassell's Magazine, 1902      The Conflicted Mind Geoffrey Beattie, 2017-11-01 One of the greatest paradoxes of human behavior is our tendency to say one thing and do something completely different We think of ourselves as positive and fair minded caring about other people and our environment yet our behavior lets us down time and time again Part of the reason for this is that we may have two separate selves two separate and dissociated mental systems one conscious reflective and rational and one whose motives and instincts are rooted in the unconscious and whose operation resists reflection no matter how hard we try In all kinds of areas of our life love politics race smoking survival one system seems to make very different sorts of judgements to the other and is subject to distinct hidden biases The Conflicted Mind explores how and why this system operates as it does and how we may use that knowledge to promote positive behaviour change However the conflicted mind is a broader concept than just the clash between potential hypothetical systems of thinking because in one form or another it forms the very pillars on which the edifice of social psychology is built This unique book therefore examines key social psychology theories and research in a new light including Festinger s concept of cognitive dissonance Milgram s obedience experiments Bateson s description of conflict in communications and Bartlett s explorations of the constructive nature of human memory Geoffrey Beattie argues that although these classic studies were sometimes great and imaginative beginnings they were also full of flaws which social psychology must remedy if it is to make the kind of impact it aspires to In doing so he offers a ground breaking perspective on why we think and act in the way we do to see what lessons can be learned for the discipline of social psychology going forward Written in the author s distinct open and engaging style The Conflicted Mind is a fascinating resource for researchers specialists and students in the field as well as the general reader
