The Nexus of Economics, Security, and International Relations in East Asia Avery Goldstein, Edward D. Mansfield, 2012-08-29 While over the last 30 years the global economy s center of gravity has shifted to East Asia the region has remained surprisingly free of interstate military conflict Yet this era of peace and growth has been punctuated by periodic reminders of enduring security problems in the region from China s military modernization to unresolved territorial disputes to persistent tensions on the Korean peninsula This volume is one of the first to treat these issues of economics and security as interconnected rather than separate Its authors leading scholars from the U S and China shed new light on this important nexus by applying insights from a rich variety of approaches to explore and explain the dynamics of a region whose importance for students of both international political economy and international security has grown dramatically They show that both economic and security fundamentals matter if one is to understand the reasons for and evaluate the durability of East Asia s recent peace and prosperity

Regional Economic Organizations and Conventional Security Challenges M. Leann Brown, 2017-11-22 Within the context of regional integration comparative regionalism organizational change and regional security literatures this book investigates three cases wherein regional economic organizations were confronted with conventional security threats the 1978 91 Association of Southeast Asian Nations Vietnam Standoff the 1990 Economic Community of West Africa Liberian Civil War Challenge and the 1990 91 European Communities Balkans Crisis While the literature suggests multiple possible explanations for regional economic organizations response to these security challenges including systemic and power related factors organizational factors and functional needs and cognitive and social factors the author argues that the decision to transform a regional economic organization into a conventional security actor is most influenced by decision makers perceptions of threat and functional necessity

Regional Security in Southeast Asia Mely Caballero-Anthony, 2005 The book examines ASEAN s mechanisms in managing challenges and threats to regional security Its extensive analyses of the ASEAN story of managing regional security cover the different phases of ASEAN s development as a regional organization and explore the perceptible changes that have occurred in regional mechanisms of conflict management The book also examines the roles of relevant actors beyond the states of ASEAN and the key interactions that have evolved over time which have been instrumental in moving regional mechanisms beyond the ASEAN way The book argues that the ASEAN way has not been impervious to change As the association finds its way through periods of crises and continues to confront the many challenges ahead ASEAN and its mechanisms are already being transformed beyond the narrow confines of the modalities associated with the ASEAN way The changes in the political and security landscape of the region as well as the democratic transitions taking place in some member states have set the stage for a much more dynamic set of regional actors and processes that bring into question the kind of regionalism that is now taking place in the region This book therefore attempts to capture these evolving dynamics and examines the way regionalism is changing in Southeast Asia

Reinventing Regional Security Institutions in Asia and Africa Kei Koga, 2016-12-08 Regional security institutions play a significant role in shaping the behavior of existing and rising regional powers by nurturing security norms and rules monitoring state activities and sometimes imposing sanctions thereby formulating the configuration of regional security dynamics Yet their security roles and influence do not remain constant Their raison d etre objectives and functions experience sporadic changes and some institutions upgrade military functions for peacekeeping operations while others limit their functions to political and security dialogues The question is why and how do these variances in institutional change emerge This book explores the mechanisms of institutional change focusing on regional security institutions led by non great powers It constructs a theoretical model for institutional change that provides a new understanding of their changing roles in regional security which has yet to be fully explored in the International Relations field In so doing the book illuminates why when and how each organization restructures its role function and influence Using case studies of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS and the Organization of African Unity OAU

African Union AU it also sheds light on similarities and differences in institutional change between regional security institutions

Central Asia and Regional Security Mr P L Dash, Ms Anita Sengupta, Mr Murat M Bakhadirov, 2014-02-15 While security concerns have assumed salience across the globe Afghanistan's proximity to Central Asia has meant that security or perceptions of insecurity dominate the strategic discourse in the region. Issues that stand out include the challenges that the Central Asian states will face in terms of stability, ethnic tensions, radicalization of youth, destabilization of commodity flows and energy security and the impact that these could have on Central Asian society. However, security cannot just be defined in terms of security at the borders. It needs to be defined in cosmopolitan terms through an array of issues like movements across borders, radicalism within states, the sharing of water and various multilateral attempts at combating insecurity. This volume is an attempt to focus on some of these issues that reflect on perceptions of security principally from Indian and Uzbek positions. It examines shifts over the last two decades from debates on the geopolitical importance of the region from a great game perspective to the salience of new engagements within the international arena. Strategic Minilateralism and the Regional Security Architecture of the Indo-Pacific Thomas S. Wilkins, Building Regional Security in the Middle East Emily B. Landau, Tamar Malz, Zeev Maoz, 2004-11-23 Discussions on regional security were initiated in the Middle East in 1992 as part of the Middle East peace process. The collapse of the Oslo process and other regional developments in the latter half of the 1990s have diminished hopes that the initial gains made in this direction might further develop as violence has again become the primary mode of effecting political changes in the region. On the backdrop of this somewhat dismal current reality in the Middle East, the rationale for this volume is that research into regional security structures should nevertheless be pursued. When looking at the long term process of creating regional security, setbacks are not unlikely. The articles that make up this collection focus on the problems that have been encountered and possible directions for getting regional efforts back on track. A special issue of the Journal of Strategic Studies. The ASEAN Regional Security Partnership Angela Pennisi di Floristella, 2015-08-25 ASEAN's role as a security provider remains largely a matter of scholarly debate. Through the lens of the concept of regional security partnership, this book uncovers a more nuanced understanding of ASEAN capacity, highlighting both its merits and fragilities in coping with traditional and emerging security problems. Asia-Pacific Regional Security Assessment 2022 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), 2022-06-10 The Asia Pacific Regional Security Assessment examines key regional security issues relevant to the policy focused discussions of the IISS Shangri La Dialogue Asia's premier defence summit convened by the International Institute for Strategic Studies. It is published each year in association with the Dialogue and the issues analysed within its covers are central to discussions at the event. Among the topics explored are US Indo Pacific strategy, alliances and security partnerships, Chinese perspectives on regional security, Taiwan's security and the possibility of conflict, the continuing challenges posed by North Korea's nuclear and missile programmes, the nuclear dynamics of Sino American security relations, air and naval operations in the Asia Pacific Sino American technology competition Japan's competition and cooperation with China India's role in the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue Quad the evolving regional security engagement of European states and the European Union China's role as an upstream state in the Mekong sub region and the climate crisis and Asia Pacific security As this volume goes to press the war in Ukraine overshadows the international security landscape and many chapters in this volume touch on the conflict's ramifications for security in the Asia Pacific Authors include leading regional analysts and academics at the forefront of research and analysis Aidan Foster Carter James Crabtree Peter A Dutton Brian Eyler Michael Green Sheryn Lee Jeffrey G Lewis Tanvi Madan Jeffrey Mazo Ben Schreer Yun Sun Nicholas Szechenyi Brendan Taylor Ashley Townshend and Paul Triolo The Economy-Security Nexus in Northeast Asia T.J. Pempel, 2013-01-04 The dynamics of Northeast Asia have traditionally been considered primarily in military and hard security terms or alternatively along their economic dimensions This book argues that relations among the states of Northeast Asia are far more comprehensible when the mutually shaping interactions between economics and security are considered simultaneously It examines these interactions and some of the key empirical questions they pose the answers to which have important lessons for international relations beyond Northeast Asia Contributors to this volume analyze how the states of the region define their security and how bilateral relations in hard security issues and economic linkages play out among Japan China and the two Koreas Further the chapters interrogate how different patterns of techno nationalist development affect regional security ties and the extent to which closer economic connections enhance or detract from a nation's self perceived security The book concludes by discussing scenarios for the future and the conditions that will shape relations between economics and security in the region This book will be welcomed by students and scholars of Asian politics Asian economics security studies and political economy
