Hearts Have Reasons Love Is The Highest Form Of Human Expression:

The Heart Has Its Reasons Beata Toth, 2015-10-27 This book explores a hitherto neglected area of theological anthropology the unity of human emotionality and rationality embodied in the biblical concept of the heart While the theological contours of human reason have for long been clearly drawn and presented as the exclusive seat of the image of God affectivity has been relegated to a secondary position With the reintegration of the body into recent philosophical and theological discourses a number of questions have arisen if the image also resides in the body how does this change one's view of the theological significance of human affectivity In what way is our likeness to God realized in the whole of what we are Can one overcome the traditional dissociation between intellect and affectivity by a renewed theory of love In conversation with patristic and medieval authors e g Irenaeus Tertullian Gregory of Nyssa Maximus Aquinas and in dialogue with more recent interlocutors Pascal Ricoeur Marion Milbank John Paul II this work pursues a novel theological vision of the essential unity of our humanity

Reason, Will and Emotion P. Crittenden, 2012-09-28 This powerful exploration of an important topic in philosophy of mind from ancient to contemporary philosophy presents an original argument against the current direction of debate and examines a wide range of philosophers from both continental and analytic traditions

Ford,2009-08-28 Several years ago I enrolled in a graduate course on educational research that focused on closing the achievement gap for African American children The course was structured to explore issues causes and concerns for the achievement gap Studying different educational outcomes reading books and articles we regularly shared our insights about some leading causes Most importantly we were instructed to stay within our subject areas when finding any contributions to that gap In my attempt to complete the assignment of researching possible causes in my discipline of art education I found myself frustrated and angry Why There were no research studies exploring how art education was a part of the equation leading to solutions in closing the gap In addition there were no basic instructions or curricula designed to make connections to the art student to develop critical thinking skills or to incorporate the use of students life experiences for learning Furthermore I felt that art education was used as a testing ground in urban schools like the Chicago Public Schools using Teaching Artists to teach art with no teaching certification or teaching qualifications Booth 2003 The purpose of this approach was to use their knowledge and practices of art to influence change in students learning This kind of experiment branched away from any real effort to integrate art education and truly recognize it as a viable core subject area While conducting research for the course I found that researchers defined the achievement gap between white and African American students solely in terms of the four core subjects of math science social studies and language arts with no attention given to art education e g Berlak 2001 Honig 2001 Limn 2000 Sacks 2000 A study by the National Black Caucus entitled Closing the Achievement Gap Improving Education Outcomes for African American Children November 2001 reports Make improving the literacy skills of students a top priority Students who cannot read will experience little success in school Reading is the key to academic achievement in every subject ranging from math and English to science and history We must put reading first by finding initiatives and programs designed to strengthen the reading skills of students particularly low performing students Again there was no mention of art As both an African American and an art teacher I found it very disturbing that the recommendations of many national and local art educational organizations and schools failed to address the importance of teaching art education in African American urban school settings My dissertation research ultimately arose from this concern The Master Key to Riches - A Sequel to Think and Grow Rich Napoleon Hill,2017-05-21 A Lifetime of Study Condensed and Clarified In 1908 Andrew Carnegie challenged Hill to discover and publish the practical Philosophy of Achievement that Carnegie knew existed but had never been assembled Published in 1928 Law of Success distilled Hill s
