

No.257 Squadron

En julio de 1942, en High Ercall, los Hurricane Mk.IIc del No.257 Sqn, comenzaron a dar paso a los Typhoon Mk.Ib y, en septiembre, ya habían sido totalmente reemplazados, en RAF Exeter. Los nuevos aparatos se utilizaron para contrarrestar los ataques de los cazabombarderos alemanes Fw 190 contra la costa sur de Inglaterra. En marzo de 1944, fue encuadrado en la No.146 Wing, centrándose en ataques al otro lado del Canal. El 27 de julio, se trasladó a Normandía -B.3 St. Croix- para poder actuar más de cerca en el apoyo de los Ejércitos aliados que, a través de Bélgica -Deurne- y Holanda -B.89 Mill- avanzaban sobre Alemania. En el invierno de 1944-45, las operaciones se ralentizaron, aunque no por ello dejó de participar en el ataque al Cuartel General de la Gestapo en Amsterdam el 19 y 26 de noviembre. El 5 de marzo de 1945, fue oficialmente disuelto en Mill.

No.263 Squadron

En diciembre de 1943, los Westland Whitetail Mk.I del No.263 Sqn fueron reemplazados por Typhoon, en RAF Warmwell, en el cometido de atacar a los campos de aviación y buques germanos en Francia. El 17 de julio de 1944, fue encuadrado en la No.136 Wing de la 2nd Tactical Air Force. A finales de julio, la No.136 Wing fue disuelta y el escuadrón se incorporó a la No.146 Wing, en agosto, para trasladarse con el resto de la gran unidad a Normandía -B.3 St. Croix-. El 27 de agosto, los pilotos de esta unidad, junto con los del No.266 Sqn, cometieron el trágico error de atacar a seis pequeños buques británicos que se encontraban ante el cabo d'Antifer, hundiendo a dos, dejando seriamente dañado a otro y matando a 78 oficiales y marinos de la Royal Navy. Durante la retirada alemana de Normandía, el escuadrón se dedicó a destruir la mayor parte de los puentes del Sena.

Durante el invierno de 1944-45, se dedicaron a atacar las guarniciones cercadas del Estuario del Escalda y la isla de Walcheren y tomaron parte en los ataques al Cuartel General de la Gestapo en Amsterdam, los días 19 y 26 de noviembre, desde las bases B.70 Deurne y B.89 Mill. Con la primavera, se iniciaron vuelos de reconocimiento armado sobre Alemania.

Fue disuelto el 30 de agosto de 1945, en Hildesheim (Alemania).

Hawker Tempest and Sea Fury Robert JACKSON,1992

A History of Aviation at Brooklands in 100 Objects Nigel Spooner,2024-07-30

At the dawn of the twentieth century mankind had not yet achieved powered flight The main motive power then was provided by steam engines heavy dirty and inefficient If one wanted to travel over seas one had to travel on them A journey from London to New York by steam driven train and ship took more than 6 days By the time the same century drew to a close in December 1999 air travel was the normal choice for long journeys Millions of people every day flew comfortably and safely in pressurised aluminium airliners propelled by simple clean and efficient gas turbine engines The same journey from London to New York could be achieved at supersonic speed in less than 6 hours For much of that century many of the extraordinary developments that moved aviation from fragile wood and fabric biplanes to supersonic transports were achieved on 330 acres of low lying former estate farmland in Surrey England The estate was called Brooklands Those marshy acres were transformed from 1907 into the world s first custom built motor racing circuit then a rapidly developing aerodrome and finally one of the country s largest aircraft factories employing tens of thousands of people Nearly 19 000 aircraft of many different types were built at Brooklands during nine decades of peace and war By the 1980s however it was being eclipsed by larger manufacturing sites elsewhere with longer runways and better communications links its owner by then called British Aerospace finally closed the factory in 1989 This book tells the history of those amazing developments through 100 of the key aircraft engines places and other objects that can still be seen either in or near Brooklands Museum or in other locations around the country It also highlights the stories of six designers whose inspiring creativity produced aircraft engines and weapons ranging from Camel to Concorde Fury to Harrier Wellington to Viscount Merlin to Olympus Between them Thomas Sopwith Barnes Wallis Rex Pierson Sydney Camm Stanley Hooker and George Edwards were responsible for much of what was designed built and flown not only at Brooklands but elsewhere too The book is arranged in successive historical episodes but the many links between the objects and the designers should allow readers to follow different paths if they so wish It is not intended as a technical reference but rather to inspire the reader to seek out the objects and discover more about them

Canadian Warbirds of the Post-War Piston Era Harold A. Skaarup,2001 This aviation handbook is intended to provide the reader with a quick reference to the propeller driven aircraft flown by the Royal Canadian Air Force the Royal Canadian Navy the Canadian Army and the Canadian Forces in the post WWII piston era The handbooks in this series include a general description and a photograph from the Canadian Forces Archives of at least one of the key variants or marks of each aircraft that has been in Canadian military service Each aircraft is listed alphabetically by manufacturer number and type General details describing the aircraft's engines, service ceiling, speed, armament or weapons load are also included along with a brief description of the Canadian Squadrons which flew the aircraft on operations. This is the fifth volume in the series. It describes the piston-powered fighters, bombers, patrol aircraft, trainers, transports, and utility aircraft flown by Canadian aircrews after WWII. A list of museums, private aircraft collections, and other locations where a number of the survivors might be found is also included. The handbook is not a definitive list of all Canadian manufactured or operated aircraft, but it should serve as a quick reminder of the major examples for anyone with an interest in Canadian military aviation.

The Four Geniuses of the Battle of Britain David Coles, Peter Sherrard, 2012-10-24. Had it not been for the vital contributions of the four men and their inventions described in this book, the Battle of Britain could not have been won by the Royal Air Force. Each of these brilliant men contributed enormously to the aircraft and equipment upon which the gallant RAF fighter pilots depended to take on and defeat the hitherto overpowering Luftwaffe during Hitler's European onslaught. Watson Watt was the moving force behind Britain's vital early warning radar network that allowed Allied fighter aircraft to intercept the incoming German bomber raids. Henry Royce was the driving force throughout the development of the Merlin engine that powered both the Hurricane and Spitfire. Sydney Camm persevered with the design of the Hawker Hurricane, which was to destroy more Luftwaffe bombers in the Battle than any other type. It was amazingly resilient and provided an extremely stable gun platform. Never living long enough to see the success of his beautiful Spitfire, R.J. Mitchell was the designer of the only British aircraft that could outperform the Nazi Bf 109s fighters and which allowed the attacking Hurricanes a little more safety while doing their job below. This is the story of those men behind the scene of the greatest air battle in history.

Ultimate Allied Fighters of the Second World War Justo Miranda, 2024-01-07. During the five years of the Second World War, the power of engines and speed of aircraft increased as much as it did during twenty years of peacetime. Conventional aircraft and engines reached the limits marked in the original design and surpassed them very fast. The basis for this huge achievement was exotic fuels, short-lived artificially overpowered engines, propellers with four, five, and even six blades, and thinner wings with special sections of laminar flow. Then the faster Allied fighters began to be attacked by a demon that lived in the air: scientists called it compressibility buffeting, and different types of aircraft suffered it at different speeds and manifested it in different ways. The American and British designers never understood the true causes behind the aerodynamic phenomenon. They were forced to adopt brute force solutions by increasing engine power on the turbojet-powered fighters, leaving in the background the research on the last projects of fighters driven by monster piston engines. The purpose of this book is to present them to the public for its notable interest.

Cataloging Policy and Support Office,2009 Hawker Typhoon And Tempest Philip Birtles,2018-11-10 With the technology of the Hurricane being at the end of the biplane combat aircraft era there was an urgent requirement for a modern fighter with a capability ahead of the anticipated German fighter development for the Luftwaffe The Hawker design team lead by Sydney Camm created the all metal stressed skin structure Typhoon powered by the revolutionary Napier Sabre engine Whereas the Hurricane had been developed in peacetime the Typhoon was designed in wartime when the urgency of the programme caused the development of both the airframe and engine to be accelerated resulting in teething troubles not being fully solved when the aircraft entered service with the RAF The much improved Tempest used the same engine and basic fuselage with thinner lamina flow wings giving improved performance at altitude and allowing the destruction of the V1s at low altitude Both aircraft made a significant impact on the victory by the Allies in WW2 although their low level ground attack missions were extremely hazardous and resulted in high pilot losses
