Rewilding the Church Steve Aisthorpe,2020-07-30 Following on from his bestselling The Invisible Church Steve Aisthorpe finds inspiration for his new book in the ecological concept of rewilding an approach to the environment that allows nature to break free from the dulling effects of strategic control and bring wonder back into our lives Applying this thinking to the Church Steve Aisthorpe imagines what might happen if we put less faith in our strategies and plans which inevitably depend on our own capabilities and resources and allow the Spirit to lead us beyond our capacity to imagine Rewilding the Church explores afresh the compelling invitation of Jesus to Follow me and the call to throw off everything that hinders and entangles It poses provocative questions and issues a call to contribute to the great rewilding of the Church and to be rewilded ourselves The same human instincts that have disrupted our natural environment have also constrained and domesticated the Church and Rewilding the Church commends a rediscovery of the adventure of faith Steve Aisthorpe is one of the freshest and most original voices in the church today

Liberating the Will of Australia Geoffrey Burn, 2020-08-03 Why do many First People in Australia find themselves continually under siege Why do many interventions fail to produce what was hoped for Why is it that when there have been many positive developments at some deep level nothing seems to have changed Will the Uluru Statement from the Heart ensure the future security of the First Peoples in Australia By developing strands from Christian theology Liberating the Will of Australia answers these questions in a way that gets to the heart of the problem It is shown that the way that the First Peoples were treated by the first European in comers became an indelible part of what Australia currently is This explains why harm is often done even when good is intended and why some problems are too complex to solve But that does not mean that we need to be stuck in the past through deep repentance by the Subsequent Peoples much more than an apology we can take hold of the work of God to bring new things out of what is broken Ultimately this is profoundly hopeful Although focusing on Australia the theological tools developed can be applied in other colonial and post colonial contexts The Church Militant Graham R. Smith, 2016-11-08 A worldview of spiritual warfare is widely held among charismatics and Pentecostals but it has been criticized for producing paranoia and denying personal responsibility It is less well known that the term was first used in print around 1970 by Anglican charismatics What did it mean to them then and what are the practical effects of their worldview Should we now be adopting a more sophisticated ontology of evil such as Nigel Wright s non ontological realist view or Amos Yong s apophatic theology of the demonic rather than the traditional one that Satan and demons are real ontological entities This practical theological study begins with a study of Anglican charismatic pioneers and an in depth case study of a charismatic Anglican congregation before grappling with the ontological question in dialogue with Wright together with Barth and Walter Wink Yong and Gregory Boyd A fresh engagement with the biblical texts then argues for a positive realist ontology for rebellious demonic powers and presents a Trinitarian model of spiritual warfare praxis that emphasizes personal responsibility and promotes freedom from fear Confronting Technology Matthew T.

Prior, 2020-03-16 We are living through a digital revolution which already touches every area of life and will continue to shape the future in as yet unforeseen ways Digital technologies are an ordinary part of daily life and yet they also present an unprecedented challenge to Christians to articulate a biblical theological framework to navigate times of rapid change The work of the French theologian Jacques Ellul is a theological time bomb primed for times like these Accounts of Ellul s career often divide off his sociology and theology but this book argues that Ellul conceived a single project of bringing technology into confrontation with the Word of God tackling the phenomenon he named technique the pursuit of maximal power and efficiency implicit in the technological enterprise with a profound depth of biblical and ethical insight Centering himself on the apocalypse or revelation of Jesus Christ in history Ellul offers a monumental timely though far from flawless contribution to contemporary ethical debates about the uses and abuses of technologies His work blazes a trail that Christians and all concerned for the future would do well to follow as we avoid both the naivety of technological neutrality and the dread of technological determinism

Child Soldiers and Restorative Justice Jean Chrysostome K. Kiyala, 2018-07-18 This book investigates how while children used as soldiers are primarily perceived as victims of offences against international law they also commit war atrocities In the aftermath of armed conflict the mainstream justice system targets warlords internationally armed groups and militias commanders who abduct and enrol children as combatants leaving child perpetrators not being held accountable for their alleged gross human rights violations Attempts to prosecute child soldiers through the mainstream justice system have resulted in child rights abuses Where no accountability measures have been taken demobilised young soldiers have experienced rejection and eventually some have returned to soldiering This research provides evidence of the potential of restorative justice peacemaking circles and locally based jurisprudence specifically the Baraza to hold former child soldiers accountable and facilitate their reintegration into society

Christian Anthropology , Wounded Healers & Reconciliation Fatigue Bryan Mark Urbsaitis, 2009-06-01 How do NGOs understandings of reconciliation differ from those of their clients within a larger project of national healing How do staff at these NGOs balance remembering the past with nation building and international development when they may be victims themselves Why do certain groups and individuals continue to feel marginalized so long after liberation And how might NGOs in South Africa constitute a reconciliation social movement Wounded Healers argues that while South Africans have been reconciling apartheid era abuses since 1994 ongoing reconciliation struggles of individuals must not be overlooked within the larger quest for national healing Focusing on memorialization missing persons 30 000R reparation payouts as well as on the continued oppression of marginalized identity based on culture race class gender sexual orientation and HIV and AIDS this ethnographic analysis will appeal to all those interested in post conflict democratization NGOs international development non Western communication conflict peace building communication education ethnography cultural anthropology activism Africa and anyone interested in global social justice
