Health And Cultures Exploring The Relationships Policy Practices And Education:

Culture and Health Malcolm MacLachlan, 2006-05-01 Most Western health professionals practice in multicultural societies The influence of culture on illness health and rehabilitation is therefore very important Despite this most lower level health psychology texts skim over these differences and assume our traditional biomedical approach will be appropriate for all In this completely revised and updated edition of a groundbreaking book Malcolm MacLachlan redresses the balance by showing how social and cultural aspects interact with the purely physical from assessment and treatment all the way through to effects on rehabilitation Cultural Consultation Laurence J. Kirmayer, Jaswant Guzder, Cécile Rousseau, 2013-08-15

Based on a recently completed project of cultural consultation in Montreal Cultural Consultation presents a model of multicultural and applicable health care This model used clinicians and consultants to provide in depth assessment treatment planning and limited interventions in consultation with frontline primary care and mental health practitioners working with immigrants refugees and members of indigenous and ethnocultural communities Evaluation of the service has demonstrated that focused interventions by consultants familiar with patients cultural backgrounds could improve the relationship between the patient and the primary clinician This volume presents models for intercultural work in psychiatry and psychology in primary care general hospital and specialty mental health settings The editors highlight crucial topics such as Discussing the social context of intercultural mental health care conceptual models of the role of culture in psychopathology and healing and the development of a cultural consultation service and a specialized cultural psychiatric service Examining the process of intercultural work more closely with particular emphasis on strategies of consultation the identity of the clinician the ways in which gender and culture position the clinician and interaction of the consultant with family systems and larger institutions Highlighting special situations that may place specific demands on the clinician working with refugees and survivors of torture or political violence with separated families and with patients with psychotic episodes This book is of valuable use to mental health practitioners who are working in multidisciplinary settings who seek to understand cultural difference in complex cases Psychiatrists psychologists social workers nurse practitioners primary care providers and trainees in these disciplines will make thorough use of the material covered in this text Interprofessional Practice with

Diverse Populations Allan Barsky, Esther Geva, Fern Westernoff, 2000-08-30 Concepts such as cultural competence multicultural practice and ethnosensitivity have taken root in the literature At the same time concepts such as cross disciplinary transdisciplinary interdisciplinary and interprofessional practice have been articulated Although these two trends coexist in print the literature in the various helping professions does not address whether and how the issues of client diversity and interprofessional practice can come together in productive and better informed ways The present book promises to close this gap and offer health care professionals theoretically grounded examples of best practices The range of diversity includes Native American Taiwanese Portuguese African American Algerian Irish South Asian and gay clients

Dynamics of Community Formation Robert W. Compton, Jr., Ho Hon Leung, Yaser Robles, 2017-10-13 This interdisciplinary work discusses the construction maintenance evolution and destruction of home and community spaces which are central to the development of social cohesion By examining how people throughout the world form different communities to establish a sense of home the volume surveys the formation of identity within the context of rapid development global and domestic neoliberal and political governmental policies and various societal pressures The themes of cooperation conflict inclusion exclusion and balance require negotiation between different actors e g the state professional developers social activists and residents as homes and communities develop

User Modeling Anthony Jameson, Cecile Paris, Carlo Tasso, 2014-05-04 User modeling researchers look for ways of enabling interactive software systems to adapt to their users by constructing maintaining and exploiting user models which are representations of properties of individual users User modeling has been found to enhance the effectiveness and or usability of software systems in a wide variety of situations Techniques for user modeling have been developed and evaluated by researchers in a number of fields including artificial intelligence education psychology linguistics human computer interaction and information science The biennial series of International Conferences on User Modeling provides a forum in which academic and industrial researchers from all of these fields can exchange their complementary insights on user modeling issues The published proceedings of these conferences represent a major source of information about developments in this area

The Impact of New Health Imperatives on Educational Policy and Schooling Jan Wright, Valerie Harwood, 2016-02-05 Currently a great deal of public discourse around health is on the assumed relationship between childhood inactivity young people's diets and a putative steep rise in obesity Children and young people are increasingly being identified as a population at risk in relation to these health concerns Such concerns are driving what might be described as new health imperatives which prescribe the choices young people should make around lifestyle physical activity body regulation dietary habits and sedentary behaviour These health imperatives are a powerful force driving major policy initiatives on health and education in a number of countries in the Western world Schools in particular have been targeted for the implementation of a plethora of initiatives designed to help children and young people lose weight become more active and change their eating patterns inside and outside school Addressing these issues requires an innovative theoretical approach Neither the fields of eating disorders nor obesity research has addressed these issues from a sociological and pedagogical perspective The contributors to this edited collection draw on a range of social theories including Michel Foucault and Basil Bernstein to interpret the data collected across three countries Australia and New Zealand United Kingdom and from a range of primary and secondary schools Each chapter addresses various aspects of the relationship between health imperatives as constituted in government policies school programs and practices their recontextualised in school practices and the impact of this on the subjectivities of children and teachers This book was originally published as a special issue of Discourse Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education      Transcultural Nursing: Concepts, Theories, Research & Practice, Third Edition Madeleine Leininger, Marilyn McFarland, 2002-03-04 The most comprehensive guide to transcultural nursing in global settings covering pain management mental health therapies child rearing practices certification and much more Features comparisons of western and non western cultures and information on multiple cultures of urban USA      Clay's Handbook of Environmental Health Stephen Battersby, 2022-08-16 Since its first publication in 1933 Clay's Handbook of Environmental Health under its different names has provided a definitive guide for the environmental health practitioner EHP and an essential reference for the consultant and student This 22nd edition continues with its more recent successful structure reviewing the core principles techniques competencies and skills required of an EHP and then outlining the specialist subjects without getting bogged down in a legalistic approach seeking to broaden the content for a more global audience This new edition seeks to educate the EHP on the public health impacts of global heating and the climate emergency and also reflects the COVID 19 pandemic as might be expected Although seeking to have global appeal the impact of the UK leaving the EU is also addressed The book examines environmental health in different settings including in the military working in both conflict and natural disaster settings and environmental health at sea and airports In line with previous editions case studies are used to illustrate how EH problems have been resolved This new edition includes guidance on key issues in public and environmental health including air pollution contaminated land housing and health noise water food safety pests and vector control chemicals in the environment and radiation as well as sustainability and public health and humanitarian crises This handbook aims to give a basic understanding of the philosophical basis of environmental health as well as the required technical aspects and an understanding of environmental health in different settings All chapters have sections on further reading and sources of information Clay's Handbook is essential reading for all practitioners students and researchers in environmental and public health wherever they are working      Culture and Health Basanti Majumdar, 1996      Evidence-based Public Health Amanda Killoran, Michael Patrick Kelly, 2010 A follow up to Public Health Evidence Tackling Health Inequalities this book builds on the themes already introduced and provides a broader perspective on an evidence based approach to public health concentrating on health inequalities      Painting the Maple Veronica Jane Strong-Boag, 1998 Painting the Maple explores the critical interplay of race and gender in shaping Canadian culture history politics and healthcare These interdisciplinary essays draw on feminist postcolonial and critical theory in a wide ranging discussion that encompasses both high and popular forms of culture the deliberation of policy and its execution and social movements as well as individual authors and texts The contributors who come from many fields establish connections among discourses of race gender and nation building that have conditioned the formation of Canada for more than one hundred years They analyze ways in which these elements have participated in and contributed to exclusionary practices and policies such as marginalization of women and racialized groups Together their essays paint a picture of a nation that privileges whiteness masculinity and Christianity

This book gathers many insights on the construction of Canada hitherto scattered in the literature. It will be of interest to feminist scholars and others concerned with issues of race and gender. At times provocative, Painting the Maple illuminates the challenges that lie ahead for all Canadians who aspire to create a better future in a reimagined nation. School of Nursing University of California, San Francisco. School of Nursing, 1984 Transcultural Health and Social Care Irena Papadopoulos, 2006-05-11 This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States. It communicates current evidence-based knowledge in the area of transcultural care and meets the needs of health and social care practitioners who must change their practices to comply with national policies and the expectations of a multicultural public. Provides research-based information on culturally competent care of vital importance to all health and social workers in multi-cultural communities. Covers issues and user groups not covered by other publications. Covers UK issues within a European and global perspective. Sex and Gender in the Pacific Angela Kelly-Hanku, Peter Aggleton, Anne Malcolm, 2023-02-24 This book examines sex, sexuality, gender and health in the Pacific with a focus on three key sets of issues: young people, culture and education, sexual and reproductive health and well-being and belonging, connectedness and justice. Bringing together the work of scholars from across the Pacific region, this innovative volume showcases traditional knowledge and diverse disciplinary scholarship of policy and practice relevance. In addition to focusing on relationships, health, education, family and community, chapters engage with a number of cross-cutting themes including violence, justice and rights, and sexuality and gender diversity. Drawing on the diversity and richness of the Pacific, its cultures, languages and people, the book lays the foundations for future conversations and scholarship for and by those within the Pacific. Sex and Gender in the Pacific is an important resource for students, researchers and practitioners working in Pacific studies, sexuality and gender studies, public health, nursing, public policy, sociology, education and anthropology. Aboriginal Policy Research, 2010 Exploring Sexuality and Disability Shanna Katz Kattari, 2023-09-01 Offering a current, comprehensive and intersectional guide for students, practitioners and researchers, this book synthesizes existing scholarship on culturally responsive practices that assist in exploring, understanding and affirming the sexuality of disabled, chronically ill, neurodivergent and mad individuals. Drawing on an intersectional framework, it integrates insights drawn from an interdisciplinary body of scholarship including psychology, social work, sociology, history, political science, women and gender studies, cultural studies and education, along with perspectives from the practitioners who are actively defining the next generation of best practices. By highlighting the incredible resilience and resistance of disabled individuals and communities, sexuality and sexual well-being, this book challenges narratives that rely primarily on a one-dimensional view derived from the medical model and the view of disability as something to be fixed or at least tolerated rather than celebrated. In a world that pathologizes and devalues the sexual existence of disabled individuals, it illustrates how to create thriving communities and relationships and how they can organize to find their voice, providing a counter narrative of empowerment that fosters hopefulness power and health It will be of interest to all scholars students and professionals across a variety of professions including social work psychology counseling policy healthcare education community organizing and multiple social service settings
