The Church As Learning Community Norma Cook Everist, 2010-10-01 Norma Cook Everist contends that it is meaningful to say that in ministries of administration outreach and pastoral care the church is functioning as a learning community Whenever and wherever Christians are being formed into the image of Jesus Christ through ministry there Christian education is taking place Christian education is the name we give to that process of formation Building on this central insight Everist has written a major new introduction to the tasks and practices of Christian education Part 1 of the book focuses broadly on what it means to be the church in the world Part 2 shows how being a learning community requires ongoing growth in faith throughout the span of life Part 3 shifts focus to the church as it moves into the community and world

The 10 Key Roles of a Pastor Gary L. McIntosh, 2021-06-08 If most pastors were pressed to describe an average day of ministry they'd have trouble doing it. In a single day a pastor may fill many different roles in quick succession from counselor to theologian to student to CEO to custodian. Well let's hope there's usually someone else available to perform that last role. Some roles come more naturally than others but every pastor wants to perform each role to the best of their ability. In The 10 Key Roles of a Pastor church consultant Gary L McIntosh shows pastors how to understand and juggle their many essential roles, prioritize their time and energy, manage their people's expectations of them and empower others to take up the vital work of the church body. Pastors just starting out in ministry as well as those who have been at it a while and find themselves overworked and overwhelmed will value this practical resource. It is also an enlightening read for those in church leadership who would benefit from understanding the pressures their pastor faces on a daily basis. The Mark of Zion Stephen C. Rasor, Michael I. N. Dash, 2010-11-01 This volume deals with the varied forms of shame reflected in biblical, theological, psychological and anthropological sources. Although traditional theology and church practice concentrate on providing forgiveness for shameful behavior, recent scholarship has discovered the crucial relevance of social shame evoked by mental status, adversity, slavery, abuse, illness, grief and defeat. Anthropologists, sociologists and psychologists have discovered that unresolved social shame is related to racial and social prejudice, to bullying, crime, genocide, narcissism, post-traumatic stress and other forms of toxic behavior. Eleven leaders in this research participated in a conference on The Shame Factor sponsored by St Mark's United Methodist Church in Lincoln, NE in October 2010. Their essays explore the impact and the transformation of shame in a variety of arenas comprising in this volume a unique and innovative resource for contemporary religion, therapy, ethics and social analysis. The Shape of Zion Michael I. N. Dash, Christine D. Chapman, 2007-10-01 The Shape of Zion is a practical and functional resource that provides a public profile of the organizational backbone of black congregations within the United Methodist Church and the Presbyterian Church USA and historically black congregations including African Methodist Episcopal, African Methodist Episcopal Zion, Christian Methodist Episcopal, Church of God in Christ, National Baptist Convention of America, National Baptist Convention USA Inc, Progressive National Baptist Convention. Research for this resource was initiated to enhance the capability of religious denominations in the use of congregational studies. It will provide pastoral leadership with principles and guidance allowing congregations to compare themselves to other faith groups and congregations. Questions for reflection, decision and action are also included. Empower Jeff Martin, 2021-02-16 How do you lead a movement? Movements that unify millions and sustain national relevance over the course of decades are hard to come by. They are even harder to plan and predict. But that is exactly what happened and is captured with stunning detail in this book. In Empower Jeff Martin drills in to four key principles that can unlock a volunteer-led movement. They were unearthed from an event he founded in 2004 called Fields of Faith that focused on giving ordinary people the microphone. It has impacted and united millions of people, thousands of volunteers and countless community organizations. Each year over 250,000 people gather on one night in communities across the country. How was he able to lead Kenneth O. Gangel, 1997-01-05 Team leadership is the exercise of one's spiritual gifts under the call of God to serve a certain group of people in achieving the goals God has given them toward the end of glorifying Christ. How is your church or organization governed? Does it have an authoritarian top-down administration? Is the ministry vision developed by a few top officials with little input from staff or volunteers? Today the definition of an effective leader has changed. No longer does the model leader manage like the Lone Ranger; either do it his way or no way. Today the model leader shares responsibility with fellow team leaders and seeks to serve them. In this complete revision of his earlier work Building Leaders for Church Education, Dr. Gangel carefully lays a biblical foundation for the team leadership model. This leadership is not dogmatic control or personality worship. It has no room for political power plays. Instead, it is Paul gently nurturing young Christians in his epistles. It is Barnabas willingly thrusting others into situations where they develop their own gifts. It is Christ choosing not one but twelve men to carry on His ministry. It is servant leadership. With examples, illustrations, and suggestions for further reading at the end of each chapter, Dr. Gangel prods and encourages the reader to move beyond the safety net of autocratic leadership into the rewarding, effective practice of leading with and through others.

Church Refugees Josh Packard, Ashleigh Hope, 2015-06-01 They're called The Dones. After devoting a lifetime to their churches, they're walking away. Why? Sociologists Josh Packard and Ashleigh Hope reveal the results of a major study about the exodus from the American church. And what they've discovered may surprise you. Church refugees aren't who you'd expect. Among those scrambling for the exits are the church's staunchest supporters and leaders. Leaving the church doesn't mean abandoning the faith. Some who are done with church report they've never felt spiritually stronger. The door still remains open a crack. Those who've left remain hungry for community and the chance to serve, and they're finding both. Sifting through hundreds of hours of in-depth interviews, Packard and Hope provide illuminating insights into what has become a major shift in the American landscape. If you're in the church, discover the major reasons your church may be in danger of losing its strongest members and what you can do to keep them. If you're among those done with church, look for your story to be echoed here. You're not alone, and at last you're understood. Share your story at TheDones.com.

Re:Vision Aubrey Malphurs, Gordon E. Penfold, 2014-10-14 Pastors around the country continue to look for the program, the book, or the sermon series that will turn their plateaued or declining churches around. But what if the answer to revitalizing the church was closer to home? According to trusted church leadership expert Aubrey Malphurs and veteran pastor Gordon E. Penfold, it is. They believe that pastors themselves are the key. In a time when many pastors are jumping from church to church every two or three years as they search for the right fit where they can make a difference, churches are suffering from a lack of sustained leadership from pastors with a viable vision for ministry. In Re:Vision, Malphurs and Penfold take pastors through a process of discovery and self-evaluation designed to help them re-envision their role, create a culture for positive change, and recruit people to come alongside them as helpers and encouragers. Multiple appendices offer self-diagnostic tools and surveys to help pastors assess their strengths and weaknesses for more effective ministry
