Emerging Communities Ann P. Bishop, 1993 Emerging Communities Ann P. Bishop, 1994 Emerging Communities Ann P. Bishop, 1994 Resources in Education, 2001-10 Moving Beyond the Presentation Layer Joan S. Mitchell, Diane Vizine-Goetz, 2013-05-13 Can the Dewey Decimal System meet the needs of the rapidly changing information environment Moving Beyond the Presentation Layer explores the Dewey Decimal System from a variety of perspectives each of which peels away a bit of the presentation layer the familiar linear notational sequence to reveal the content and context offered by the DDS Library professionals from around the world examine how the content and context offered by the DDS can evolve to meet the needs of the changing information environment with a special focus on the impact of the Internet on current and future developments Moving Beyond the Presentation Layer examines whether the Dewey Decimal System is a rigid structure best suited to a physical information environment or a polymorphic one that can be adapted to meet a variety of physical and virtual needs This unique book reviews the 40 year history of the online use of classification systems the development of the Relative Index over 22 editions of the DDC recommendations to ensure the viability of the DDC in a time of mass digitization using DDS in an environment where it hasn't been used before teaching the DDS special issues related to the use of the DDS in Europe North America and Africa and the future of online classification Topics examined in Moving Beyond the Presentation Layer include using the DDC as the browsing mechanism for resource discovery classification as an online cataloging tool classification as an online end user tool browser behavior in a DDC based Web service the role of the DDS in the ongoing HILT High Level Thesaurus project using the DDS to organize Web resources localization and interoperability in knowledge organization mapping terminologies to classification systems the Dewey Browser and much more Moving Beyond the Presentation Layer is an essential professional resource for librarians information scientists computer scientists and metadata and Web services specialists Handbook of Research on Urban Informatics: The Practice and Promise of the Real-Time City Foth, Marcus, 2008-12-31 This book exposes research accounts which seek to convey an appreciation for local differences for the empowerment of people and for the human centred design of urban technology Provided by publisher Biomedical Engineering and Information Systems: Technologies, Tools and Applications Shukla, Anupam, Tiwari, Ritu, 2010-07-31 Bridging the disciplines of engineering and medicine this book informs researchers clinicians and practitioners of the latest developments in diagnostic tools decision support systems and intelligent devices that impact and redefine research in and delivery of medical services Provided by publisher Communities and Technologies 2007 Charles Steinfield, Brian T. Pentland, Mark Ackerman, Noshir Contractor, 2010-05-27 This book covers the relationship between information and communication technologies ICTs and communities both physical and virtual The chapters deal with such subjects as online social network communities implicit online communities tools for researching communities user generated content communities communities of practice and trust in communities Among the many

contexts for community technology applications studied in these chapters are businesses and professional settings health care game communities e government rural communities low income communities and physical neighborhoods Collectively they demonstrate the dynamic and interdisciplinary nature of evolving communities and technologies scholarship

Historical Information Science Lawrence J. McCrank, 2001 Here is an extensive review and bibliographic essay backed by 5 000 citations about developments in information technology since the advent of personal computing and the convergence of the disciplines Its focus is on the access preservation and analysis of historical information primarily in electronic form and the relationships between new methodology and instructional media technique and research trends in library special collections digital libraries electronic and data archives and museums The National Electronic Library Gary Pitkin, 1996-06-30 The National Information Infrastructure will bring information to the doorstep of every household Librarianship must respond to this development through the National Electronic Library Librarianship as a profession must set the information agenda if it is to be a viable and influential entity in the electronic environment Traditional library services are being redefined by technology and the concept of the National Electronic Library must combine the roles of the academic institution public enterprise and library education This professional reference is a guide to assist librarians in planning for the future The volume maintains that the growing electronic environment is driving a cultural transformation in which libraries must examine and understand what libraries have been what they are and what they need to be Libraries need to participate actively in this transformation in order to remain the central providers of information and related services The book explores the National Electronic Library as a concept and formal organization Library services collections and the physical facility are examined in terms of present and future needs based on the rapidly changing electronic environment and the volume relates the future management of information to administrative structures constituencies public and technical services collection development education and strategic planning Scholarly Publishing Robin P. Peek, Gregory B. Newby, 1996 An examination of the critical issues facing universities academics libraries and scholarly presses at a time when publishing has begun moving from a print to an electronic paradigm The essays explore the technical social and organizational impact of computer mediated communication Highway to Health DIANE Publishing Company, 1996-09

Documentation Abstracts , 1999 Liberating Voices Douglas Schuler, 2008 Inspired by the vision and framework outlined in Christopher Alexander s classic 1977 book A Pattern Language Schuler presents a pattern language containing 136 patterns designed to meet these challenges Using this approach Schuler proposes a new model of social change that integrates theory and practice by showing how information and communication whether face to face broadcast or Internet based can be used to address urgent social and environmental problems collaboratively Each of the patterns that form the pattern language which was developed collaboratively with nearly 100 contributors is presented consistently each describes a problem and its context a discussion and a solution The pattern language begins with the most general patterns Theory and proceeds to the most specific Tactics Each pattern is a template for research as well as action and is linked to other patterns thus forming a single coherent whole Library & Information Science Abstracts ,2004 Beyond the Information Commons Charles Forrest,Martin Halbert,2020-08-22 In the closing decades of the twentieth century academic libraries responded to rapid changes in their environment by acquiring and making accessible a host of new information resources developing innovative new services and collaborative partnerships and building new kinds of technology equipped spaces to support changing user behaviors and emerging patterns of learning The Information Commons or InfoCommons blossomed in a relatively short amount of time in libraries across North America and around the world particularly in Europe and the British Commonwealth This book is more than a second edition of the 2009 book A Field Guide to the Information Commons which documented the emergence of a range of facilities and service programs that called themselves Information Commons This new book updates this review of current practice in the Information Commons and other new kinds of facilities inspired by the same needs and intents but goes beyond that by describing the continued evolution This new book is an attempt to answer the question What might be the next emerging concept for a technology enabled user responsive mission driven form of the academic library Like its predecessor Beyond the Information Commons is structured in two parts First a brief series of essays explore the Information Commons from historical organizational technological and architectural perspectives The second part is a field guide composed of more than two dozen representative entries describing various Information Commons using a consistent format that provides both perspective on issues and useful details about actual implementations Each of these includes photos and other graphics Technology and Management in Library and Information Services Frederick Wilfrid Lancaster,Beth Sandore,1997 Intended both as a text for a graduate level course in library and information science and for managers of library and related information services this volume is divided into the following sections the effects of technology on the institution and its management the effects of technology on services and users and special issues in the management of technology Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR *Proceedings of the ...
