Emerging Voices A Cross Cultural Reader:

Emerging Voices Janet Madden, Sara M. Blake, 1990 Understanding Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God Neal Lester, 1999-10-30 Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God highlights the vitality of African American culture. This casebook demonstrates how African Americans fashioned themselves individually and collectively to combat racism, classism, and sexism. With provocative documents that contextualize the complex issues of the novel, Lester provides an excellent resource for students and teachers first approaching the excitement and cultural flavor that define Hurston's novels. The casebook is an encyclopedia of African American folk culture that simultaneously presents historical, political, and social commentary on the relationships between men and women and between blacks and whites in America. Documents include interviews with people living in the South at the time of the novel's publication, poetry, rap, folktales, and sermons. Also included are original materials on ebonics, minstrel songs, the blues tradition, the novel in theatrical and dance performance, and materials on Hurston's hometown of Eatonville, Florida. Exploring the Dynamics of Second Language Writing Barbara Kroll, 2003-04-14 The book addresses issues in the field of teaching academic writing to non-native speakers. This book provides a series of discussions about multiple aspects of second language writing, presenting chapters that collectively address a range of issues that are important to new teachers at the post-secondary level. The 13 chapters provide scholarly vision, insight, and interpretation oriented toward explaining the field of teaching academic writing to non-native speakers. The book is designed to provide foundational content knowledge in this area, with each chapter authored by recognized experts in the field. In addition to helping train new teachers, the book will serve as an updated reference book for practicing teachers and scholars to consult. Speak to Me Words Dean Rader, Janice Gould, 2003-11 Although American Indian poetry is widely read and discussed, few resources have been available that focus on it critically. This book is the first collection of essays on the genre, bringing poetry out from under the shadow of fiction in the study of Native American literature. Highlighting various aspects of poetry written by American Indians since the 1960s, it is a wide-ranging collection that balances the insights of Natives and non-Natives, men and women, old and new voices.

Women in Literature Jerilyn Fisher, Ellen Silber, 2003-06-30 With the literary canon consisting mostly of works created by and about men, the central perspective is decidedly male. This unique reference offers alternate approaches to reading traditional literature, as well as suggestions for expanding the canon to include more gender-sensitive works. Covering 96 of the most frequently taught works of fiction, essays offer teachers, librarians, and students fresh insights into the female perspective in literature. The list of titles, created in consultation with educators, includes classic works by male authors like Dickens, Faulkner, and Twain, balanced with works by female authors such as Kate Chopin's The Awakening and Mary Shelley's Frankenstein. Also included are contemporary works by writers such as Alice Walker and Margaret Atwood that are being incorporated into the curriculum, as well as those advancing a more global view such as Sandra Cisneros' House on Mango.

Street and Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart The essays are expertly written in an accessible language that will help students gain greater awareness of gender related themes Suggestions for classroom discussions with selected works for further study are incorporated into the entries The volume is organized alphabetically by title and includes both author and subject indexes An appendix of gender related themes further enhances this volume's usefulness for curriculum applications and student research projects

Crossing the Mainstream Eileen Iscoff Oliver, 1994 Intended to help literature teachers examine ways in which the traditional canon can be expanded to include diversity in curricular choices this book invites readers to work together to find new and better ways to introduce an ever changing student body to what has heretofore been either unacknowledged or undervalued The book is divided into three sections Part 1 Multicultural Literature for Whom develops a rationale for expanding the canon to include multicultural literature in every student's experience and also confronts the issue of censorship Part 2 Curricular Challenges Beyond Eurocentric Values begins the task of cataloging the multitude of literary works that might be included in the new repertoire and also explores the process of learning a different kind of critical analysis This section of the book also provides comprehensive bibliographies of African American Asian American Jewish Latino Native American and cross cultural literatures as well as bibliographies of literature addressing emotional mental and physical disabilities homelessness homosexuality older adults teenage suicide and Vietnam veterans Finally Part 3 Teaching Strategies for Multicultural Literature gives examples of how multicultural works can be incorporated into literature courses Also included are discussions of incorporating multicultural perspectives within composition classes assessing student writing and making interdisciplinary connections in teaching multicultural literature

New Voices on the Harlem Renaissance Australia Tarver, Paula C. Barnes, 2006 This book expands the discourse on the Harlem Renaissance into more recent crucial areas for literary scholars college instructors graduate students upper level undergraduates and Harlem Renaissance aficionados These selected essays authored by mostly new critics in Harlem Renaissance studies address critical discourse in race cultural studies feminist studies identity politics queer theory and rhetoric and pedagogy While some canonical writers are included such as Langston Hughes and Alain Locke others such as Dorothy West Jessie Fauset and Wallace Thurman have equal footing Illustrations from several books and journals help demonstrate the vibrancy of this era Australia Tarver is Associate Professor of English at Texas Christian University Paula C Barnes is an Associate Professor of English at Hampton University

Cross-Cultural Reckonings Blanche H. Gelfant, 1995-01-27 Blanche H Gelfant's book Cross Cultural Reckonings both demonstrates and questions the applicability of postmodern cultural and literary theories to realistic texts to fiction and autobiographies valued for their truth Drawing together an unusual combination of Russian American and Canadian writers the various essays of this book provide new and original perspectives upon the puzzling issues of national identity of historical change and continuity of gender and the integrity of literary genres the boundaries between text and context and the underlying if overlooked conflicts between the postmodern critic's skepticism and a writer's belief in the transcendence of art and truth To avoid the contingencies inherent in binary comparisons the essays in this book seek a triadic form analogous to the triptych or polyptych of the visual arts Multi faceted non linear and open ended such a form might allow the academic essay to recover a waywardness that traces back to Montaigne cited in prefatory notes and to the etymological meaning of the essay as an exagium or weighing as an act of reckoning A study at once elegant erudite and personal Cross Cultural Reckonings reckons with writers of different backgrounds and reputation in whom Gelfant discovers surprising affinities among them the Russian writers Lydia Chukovskaya Natalya Baranskaya and Alexander Solzhenitsyn Ethel Wilson a highly reputed Canadian writer the famous cross cultural figure Emma Goldman and established as well as new or rediscovered American writers such as Willa Cather Saul Bellow Arlene Heyman and Meridel Le Sueur These writers are discussed singly and in comparative essays each of which is discrete and self contained while all interconnect and reflect upon each other as exemplary demonstrations of cross cultural literary criticism and the deferred final judgment that results from a weighing and reweighing of books

Multicultural Education ,1993 Translation of Contemporary Taiwan Literature in a Cross-Cultural Context

Szu-Wen Kung,2021-03-01 Translation of Contemporary Taiwan Literature in a Cross Cultural Context explores the social cultural and linguistic implications of translation of Taiwan literature for transnational cultural exchange It demonstrates principally how asymmetrical cultural relationships mediation processes and ideologies of the translation players constitute the culture specific translation activity as a highly contested site where translation can reconstruct and rewrite the literature and the culture it represents Four main theoretical themes are explored in relation to such translation activity sociological studies cultural and rewriting studies English as a lingua franca and social and performative linguistics These offer insightful perspectives on the translation as an interpretive encounter between not only two languages two cultural systems and assumptions taking place but also among various translation mediators This book will be useful to scholars and students working on translation and cultural studies China Taiwan literature studies and literature studies in cross cultural contexts

PALABRAS Yamile Silva,Hank Willenbrink,2013 PALABRAS Dispatches from THE FESTIVAL DE LA PALABRA features short stories by authors including Junot Diaz Aurora Arias and Mayra Santos Febres from the Caribbean Central and Latin America Spain and Catalonia Many of the stories in this collection are translated into English for the first time Edited by Yamile Silva and Hank Willenbrink this collection of new short fiction displays aesthetically diverse and remarkable voices from the Americas and Iberia Christian Reflection in Africa Paul Bowers,2018-07-05 This reference collection presents academic reviews of more than twelve hundred contemporary Africa related publications relevant for informed Christian reflection in and about Africa The collection is based on the review journal BookNotes for Africa a specialist resource dedicated to bringing to notice such publications and furnishing them with a one paragraph description and evaluation Now assembled here for the first time is the entire collection of reviews through the first thirty issues of the journal's history. The core intention both of the journal and of this compilation is to encourage and to facilitate informed Christian reflection and engagement in Africa through a thoughtful encounter with the published intellectual life of the continent. Reviews have been provided by a team of more than one hundred contributors drawn from throughout Africa and overseas. The books and other media selected for review represent a broad cross section of interests and issues of personalities and interpretations including the secular as well as the religious. The collection will be of special interest to academic scholars, theological educators, libraries, ministry leaders and specialist researchers in Africa and throughout the world but will also engage any reader looking for a convenient resource relating to modern Africa and Christian presence there. Richard Wright Keneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908-1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son. By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris. But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes. He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers. This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays, books and articles from 1983 through 2003. Arranged alphabetically by author, within years are some 8320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book-length studies of African American literature and literary criticism. Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author's earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982. This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics. Reading the Short Story Anna Wing-bo Tso, Scarlett Lee, 2019-11-11 Beginning with a brief history and evolution of the short story genre alongside an overview of the key short story writers and an explanatory chapter of literary criticism, this book aims to give readers insight into the works by canonical British, Irish and American authors including Edgar Allan Poe, James Joyce, Flannery O'Connor and more. Applying close reading skills and critical literary approaches to twelve selected short stories in English, this work conducts comparative analyses to reveal the interrelationships between the texts, the authors, the readers and the sociocultural contexts. Developed and tested in literature classes at university over several semesters, this book addresses key issues, topics and trends in the short story genre.

New Voices of Muslim North-African Migrants in Europe Cristián H. Ricci, 2019-08-26 New Voices of Muslim North African Migrants in Europe captures the experience in writing of a fast-growing number of individuals belonging to migrant communities in Europe. The book follows attempts to transform postcolonial literary studies into a comparative translingual and supranational project. Cristián H. Ricci frames Moroccan literature written in European languages within the ampler context of borderland studies. The author addresses the realm of a literature that has been practically absent from the field of postcolonial literary studies, i.e. Neerlandophone or Gay Muslim literature. The book also converses with other minor literatures and theories from Sub-Saharan Africa as well as Asians and Latinos as in the Americas that combine histories of colonization labor migration and enforced exile Community Newspapers in India Annapurna Sinha,2023-11-17 This book provides a comprehensive account of community newspapers in India discussing their reach practices management and influence on communities It focuses on the core characteristics associated with community media such as access and participation advocacy and self management among other With the help of detailed case studies of two established newspapers Khabar Lahariya and Namaskar the book highlights the unique aspects of their rhizomatic expansion and the practices for social change By examining their manifestations and metamorphosis the book shows how community media is fluid and evolves with time owing to diverse motivations The author also examines themes such as media democracy and citizens engagement role of alternative media and the diversity of practices and profiles to highlight the relevance identity and purpose of alternative media in general and community newspapers in particular This book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of media studies journalism and mass communication political studies development studies law and South Asian studies It will also be useful to NGOs and CSOs working in the areas of community engagement social development and empowerment and literacy Reinventing English John Gaughan,2001 Instead of ignoring the controversial issues that emerge from discussions of gender race and sexuality John Gaughan addresses these issues head on in the literature and writing he assigns Theology in the Context of World Christianity Timothy C. Tennent,2009-05-26 Thinking more globally about the formation of theology enriches our understanding of what it means to be a Christian It s no secret that the center of Christianity has shifted from the West to the global South and East While the truths of the Christian faith are universal different contexts and cultures illuminate new questions understandings and expressions What does this mean for theology as Western theologians understand it Timothy Tennent argues that the Christian faith is culturally and theologically translatable Theology in the Context of World Christianity is written to expand our ecclesiastical cartography by highlighting within each of the major themes of systematic theology studies that are engaging the global church such as Anthropology with studies drawn from the different views of human identity between Eastern and Western cultures Christology with a focus on the emphases that African Christians place on the characteristics of Christ Pneumatology by looking at the role of the Holy Spirit in Latin American Pentecostalism Eschatology by focusing on how this branch of theology shapes world missions and evangelism Each of the ten chapters examines traditional theological categories in conversation with theologians from across the globe making this volume valuable for students pastors missionaries and theologians alike Theological reflection is active and exciting in the majority world church and Tennent invites you to your own reflection and celebration of Christ s global church These are perspectives that should be heard considered and brought into conversation with Western theologians Global theology can make us aware of our own blind spots and biases and has much to offer toward the revitalization of Western Christianity Home and Away Stephen Burns,Clive Pearson,2013-01-11 Home and Away is a cluster of exercises in contextual theology in different but related modes Preface
