Framing China sheds new light on Western relations with and perceptions of China in the first half of the twentieth century
In this ground breaking book Ariane Knüsel examines how China was portrayed in political debates and the media in Britain the USA and Switzerland between 1900 and 1950 By focusing on the political economic cultural and social context that led to the construction of the particular images of China in each country the author demonstrates that national interests anxieties and issues influenced the way China was framed and resulted in different portrayals of China in each country The author's meticulous analysis of a vast amount of newspaper and magazine articles commentaries editorials cartoons and newsreels that have previously not been studied before also focuses on the transnational circulation of images of China While previous publications have dealt with the occurrence of the Yellow Peril and Red Menace in particular countries Framing China reveals that these images were interpreted differently in every nation because they both reflected and contributed to the discursive construction of nationhood in each country and were influenced by domestic issues cultural values pre existing stereotypes pressure groups and geopolitical aspirations Imagining Globalization H. Leung, M. Hendley, R. Compton, B.
Haley, 2009-11-23 This collection gives voice to the peoples and groups impacted by globalization as they seek to negotiate their identities language use and territorial boundaries within a larger global context Rather than viewing globalization as one dimensional i.e. cultural economic or political the approaches taken by the authors reflect a nuanced and multifaceted discussion of globalization that integrates all three perspectives They explore identity boundaries language use and other issues in the context of specific temporal and spatial contexts
