Employment Dynamics In Rural Europe:

Employment Dynamics in Rural Europe Ida J. Terluin, Jaap H. Post, 2000 Annotation In many European countries there has been a decline in the agricultural labour force providing a major challenge for the rural economy and society This book provides an analysis of rural employment dynamics in European Union EU member states Women in the European Countryside Henry Buller, 2017-11-28 Much of the literature published so far on gender relations in rural areas has either focused on comparisons of the position of men and women or explored the position of women given prevailing structural forces and behavioural norms that restrict the autonomy of women as human agents This groundbreaking book broadens the debate by developing our understanding of how societal processes produce and sustain gender divisions particularly in rural areas highlighting aspects of rural women's lives previously invisible in the literature Illustrated by case studies from France Germany Greece Norway and Sweden the book examines the critical issues of education and training entrepreneurship leadership limited work and service opportunities social mobility and work experiences In doing so the contributors provide a fascinating comparative study of both national regional and broader European realities The Dynamics of Hired Farm Labour A. Vandeman, J. Larson, J. Runyan, 2002 Hired seasonal labour forms a significant part of the agricultural workforce in many countries Key topics covered in this book include changes in the hired farm workforce area studies and community impacts and responses and the need for community services The Routledge Handbook of Comparative Rural Policy Matteo Vittuari, John Devlin, Marco Pagani, Thomas G. Johnson, 2019-10-16 This volume represents the result of almost two decades of trans Atlantic collaborative development of a policy research paradigm the International Comparative Rural Policy Studies program Over this period dozens of scientists from different disciplines but with a common interest in rural issues and policy have collaboratively studied the policies in North America Europe and other parts of the world A core element of the book is the idea and practice of comparative research and analysis what can be learned from comparisons how and why policies vary in different contexts and what lessons might or might not be transferable across borders It provides skills for the use of comparative methods as important tools to analyze the functioning of strategies and specific policy interventions in different contexts and a holistic approach for the management of resources in rural regions It promotes innovation as a tool to valorize endogenous resources and empower local communities and offers case studies of rural policy in specific contexts The book largely adopts a territorial approach to rural policy This means the book is more interested in rural regions their people and economies and in the policies that affect them than in rural sectors and sectoral policies per se The audience of the book is by definition international and includes students attending courses in agricultural and rural policy rural and regional studies and natural resource management lecturers seeking course material and case studies to present to their students in any of the courses listed above professionals working in the field of rural policy policy makers and civil servants at different levels seeking tools to better understand rural policy both at the local and global scale and to better recognize and comprehend how to transfer best practices      Rural Transformations and Rural Policies in the US and UK Mark Shucksmith, David L. Brown, Sally Shortall, Jo Vergunst, Mildred E. Warner, 2012-02-27 This book examines the transformations of rural society and economy in the UK and US during the last half century and explores the significance of these trends and changes for community sustainability quality of life and the environment While both the UK and US are highly urbanised rural people and communities continue to contribute to national identity economic development and social solidarity as well as to environmental quality Contributors explore the degree to which rural people exhibit agency and autonomy rather than being merely passive in the face of exogenous forces of change in a globalised world They also illuminate very different policy approaches to rural policy in two advanced capitalist societies often thought to be similar and show how fundamental differences in rural policy approaches of the US and the UK are based on different social ideologies and values that shape policies relating to rural areas This book will help to stimulate transatlantic dialogue on rural scholarship and rural policy analysis while also contributing to theory and policy development It will be of interest to researchers students and everyone involved in the policy and practice of rural development      A New Approach to Rural Development in Europe John M. Bryden, Keith Hart, 2004 This work is based on reports from a research project funded by the European Union for the purpose of investigating differential economic performance among rural areas in similar geographic and policy environments in Scotland Greece Germany and Sweden The report identifies and measures the impact

Agricultural Sector Issues in the European Periphery Anastasios Karasavoglou, Persefoni Polychronidou, 2019-01-10 Over the course of the past two decades peripheral European economies in the Balkans and in Eastern Europe have experienced significant structural changes and have adapted to the global economic environment Agriculture and the processing using and trading of agricultural products play an important role in their economies This volume covers several issues facing the contemporary agricultural sector in these countries such as the framework of the Common Agricultural Policy of the European Union the identification of an opinion leader portrait in agriculture the characteristics of using Information and Communication Technologies as tools in the partnerships and internal processes of enterprises throughout the whole agro food supply chain the increased need of small scale artisanal food businesses to seek new markets abroad the perceptions of Greek olive oil importers in the UK the barriers that Greek yogurt entrepreneurs face during their export activities the reasons for the differences in economic performance and the role of tangible and less tangible factors influencing development outcomes It will be of interest to researchers studying economic development agricultural economists businesses active in the primary sector and students of applied economic analysis      Rural Areas Between Regional Needs and Global Challenges Walter Leimgruber, Chang-yi David Chang, 2019-01-01 This book provides an up to date account of the many processes shaping and transforming rural space in various parts of the world The various case studies focus on the multi functionality of the rural world and the driving forces behind it The book demonstrates that rural areas are no longer simply characterized by an agricultural economy and instead accommodate multiple complementary activities It also touches upon two major changes that have taken place The first is the process of ruralization which has led to the clear distinction between town and countryside becoming blurred urban traits have penetrated rural areas and rural traits have invaded towns The second change is that rural areas are increasingly seen as multi functional providers not only of food and other natural resources but also locations for the generation of renewable energy wind farms solar farms biogas and regions for the preservation of biodiversity These transformations have resulted in a new understanding and self image of rural areas and their populations
